ROOSEVELT WINS; CONGRESS ADJOURNS

COX DIRECTOR OF MONETARY STABILIZATION

U. S. Wins Major Point at London Parley as French Recede.

London, June 15 (A.P.).—The Americans won a major victory in the World Economic Conference today ending its second disturbing crisis, by breaking down French opposition and electing James M. Cox, former Governor of Ohio, to the chairmanship of the vitally important monetary committee.

This ended a day in which the Franco-American controversy had replaced war debts as the conference's chief irritant and final settlement of the chairmanship gave a distinctly brighter aspect to the big world conclave.

Cordell Hull, United States Secretary of State and head of the American delegation, said this evening he was more hopeful than at any time, and expressed the view the parley now was getting down to business.

Sound Money Assurances.

The situation facing the monetary committee, however, remained an enigma, with conflicting interpretations among the various groups.

French quarters endeavored to make the American chairmanship choice appear a pyrrhic victory, asserting that the gold standard country had yielded only with assurances Cox would espouse sound money and on indications of progress toward stabilization.

Cox issued a statement at the end of the day in which he said, "As everyone knows, I have always favored a sound monetary policy, and I thoroughly understand the French view of this question."

High American quarters explained, however, that the Cox statement was made to reassure the French against fears that a currency warfare might force that country off the gold standard, and pointed out that sound monetary policies need not be deflationary.

France Heads Gold Bloc.

The Americans clearly indicated no stabilization would be permitted of a nature to thwart the Washington administration's program of raising the commodity price structure.

Stabilization was explained as an avowed part of the American program, particularly insofar as it envisages control designed to smooth out fluctuations.

Twenty-four hours ago some quarters understood an agreement between American, French and British financial chiefs had been virtually reached, but it was was authoritatively indicated late today that a hitch had developed.

It was rumored that Washington sanction thus far was lacking.

After being blocked for three days by the bitter opposition of the French, heading a bloc of gold stand-

Siam Tense as 4 Army Leaders Resign Posts

Bangkok, Siam, June 15 (A.P.).—Rumors of strife in the Siamese government spread as state council politics became tense today following upon the resignations of four army leaders.

One was the commander in chief, who played a leading role in the coup d'etat last year which transformed Siam from one of the world's last remaining absolute monarchies into a democracy.

Six of 13 Countries Make Debt Payment

France, Foremost Among Defaulting Nations, Owes $40,738,000; Collections Total $11,379,540; Due, $168,888,328.70.

By HAROLD J. T. HORAN.

The close of business for the United States Treasury yesterday showed that 6 of the 13 European debtor nations of the United States had met their war debt obligations by paying into the Government's account, in silver, $11,379,540. However, only one nation, Finland, met the totality of its debt. The total amount due from all countries was $168,888,328.70. There was a virtual default from seven countries, somewhat attenuated by diplomatic notes foreshadowing a reconsideration of the default on condition that the United States proceed to a revision of the present war debt accords.

French Ambassador Andre Lefebvre de La Boulaye handed Acting Secretary of State William Phillips a note yesterday which Mr. Phillips declined to make public last night. The United States is preparing a reply to the French memorandum and both documents will be published today. An analysis of the debts paid yesterday revealed that about 8 per cent of the total amount due had been met. However, this percentage will have to be revised downward still further in view of the additional 30 per cent reduction that payment in silver, instead of gold, afforded the countries making acquittance.

Silver futures were yesterday quoted in a range of 35 to 36 cents an ounce. Great Britain notified the United States that there had been deposited in the Bombay Mint a credit of 20,000,000 ounces of silver which would be delivered to the United States Mint at San Francisco with costs of delivery to the British government's care and charge. The Italian government had likewise deposited at the assay office in New York City 2,000,000 ounces of silver. These silver payments will be accepted by this Government at the rate of 50 cents per ounce. The money will be held against the issuance of silver certificates by the

ANDREW W. MELLON TAXES BEING PROBED

U. S. Justice Office Bares Independent Inquiry of Entire Family.

(Associated Press.)

Attorney General Cummings said yesterday that charges that Andrew W. Mellon, former Secretary of the Treasury, and his nephey, William L. Mellon, of Pittsburgh, evaded income tax payments were being investigated by Justice Department agents.

The Attorney General said agents were in the Pittsburgh area looking into charges brought by Representative McFadden (Republican), Pennsylvania, and the basis for two suits for recovery of income taxes brought by David A. Olson and A. R. Knight, of Lansdowne, Pa. Olson was formerly counsel for the Senate Banking Committee.

Cummings said, however, that the department was not taking any hand in the suits.

"We have begun the investigation of the Mellons and their companies in Pennsylvania," he said. "We are not concerned with suits that have been filed, but are seeking the facts."

William L. Mellon was given fifteen days yesterday to file answer to Olson's suit charging him with $2,000,000 evasions between 1926 and 1930. Olson contended Mellon omitted from his tax returns for those years the value of 73,000 shares of Gulf stock which the suit asserted were given him for services.

Knight, a former manager of the Gulf Oil Co. in Philadelphia, added the years 1931 and 1932 to the period covered by the charges. David Stock, of Philadelphia, Knight's counsel, said the suit was prepared before Olson's and that it placed a different interpretation on the alleged evasions.

Mellon was served with notice of both suits this afternoon in the lobby of a Pittsburgh office building.

Davis Will Return To See Roosevelt

Paris, June 15 (A.P.).—Norman H. Davis, United States European ambassador, will make a short trip to Washington to consult with President Roosevelt on the work of the World Disarmament Conference, returning to Europe early in July to participate in a General Disarmament Commission meeting.

Taking advantage of the short disarmament recess, the ambassador will sail on the Bremen Sunday to spend a few days in the United States, during which time he will attend the wedding of his son, Paschall, in New York.

It was stated that the trip has nothing to do with resignation rumors, as he has no intention to resign.

Coroner's Jury Decides Plane Crash Accidental

Chicago, June 15 (A.P.).—A coroner's jury decided today that the crash of a World's Fair sight-seeing plane that killed nine persons Sunday was accidental, and that the huge amphibian was adequately airworthy and seaworthy. The verdict absolved the pilot, Carl Vickery, of blame. The bodies of two victims remained unidentified.

132 GOLD HOARDERS TURN BACK $210,731

Nine Remit More of Metal Than Records Show They Withdrew.

The drive on gold hoarders has netted $210,731 so far, 132 persons having returned their gold or gold certificates, Attorney General Cummings said yesterday.

Agents of the Department of Justice have interviewed 2,580 persons who were reported by the Treasury Department as having withdrawn large sums of gold. Of this number, 144 have refused to turn in the gold they hold, reported as $983,804.

Mr. Cummings said that 2,313 persons claimed they had complied with the President's order to return gold holdings to banks. The amount so returned is reported to be $18,092,040. The return of $11,550,736 of this amount has already been verified.

A case where gold was withdrawn by a family in the name of a fictitious member of the family has been reported and is being investigated by the criminal division of the department, according to the Attorney General. Another unusual feature of the investigation is that nine persons have turned in $330,815 more gold than they were alleged to have withdrawn. One man was reported by his bank as having taken out $200,000 in gold, but he returned $262,000.

Asked when the names of gold hoarders would be made public, the Attorney General said "The day of reckoning is coming for the holdouts. More evidence must be collected before any criminal action is brought."

Navy to Accept Airship Macon

Secretary of the Navy Swanson announced yesterday that the naval trial board on board the Macon during its test flights had completed its work and recommended the preliminary acceptance of the airship, subject to post trial inspection.

The Macon recently completed a 48-hour test flight over the Midwest.

Secretary Swanson stated that on the morning of June 13 press reports to the effect that the Macon's rudder was damaged over Frankfort, Mich., were received at the Navy Department. He stated that he wired the commanding officer of the Macon, asking him "to verify press reports concerning rudder damage or any other damage over Michigan." An answer was immediately received from the Macon, stating that there had been no damage whatsoever either to the rudder or any other part of the ship.

Illinois Senate Passes 2 Per Cent Sales Tax Bill

Springfield, Ill., June 15 (A.P.).—The Illinois Senate tonight passed the administration's 2 per cent sales tax bill without a vote to spare and sent it to the House of Representatives.

The bill was a substitute for a previous measure, declared unconstitutional, to raise $60,000,000 for unemployment relief. The previous bill for a 2 per cent tax made exceptions of farm produce when sold by the producer, and gasoline. The new bill makes no exceptions.

NAVY PROGRAM TO MAKE JOBS FOR THOUSANDS

Swanson Announces 32 New Ships; Yards to Resume Full Time.

Work for thousands of men at the Washington, Puget Sound, Mare Island and other navy yards throughout the country was seen here yesterday when Secretary of the Navy Swanson announced that 32 new ships for the American Navy would be built at a cost of $238,000,000.

The tremendous project, the country's most ambitious peacetime naval construction program, will be carried on as a part of President Roosevelt's recovery program, the funds being drawn from the $3,300,000,000 public works appropriation. It will require about three years to complete, and, together with 17 other major naval construction projects under way, will bring the American Navy up to a position of 75 per cent of its treaty strength.

Repairs to Continue.

Work on the modernization of the 17 other vessels will continue. This includes the modernization of the battleships New Mexico, Mississippi and Idaho, as well as construction of the aircraft carrier Ranger, six heavy cruisers, five destroyers and two submarines. The cost of this work is about $20,000,000, making a total of $258,000,000 to be spent on Uncle Sam's sea forces.

Of the 32 new vessels which will be built, 20 will be destroyers, 16 of these will be of the 1,500-ton class and 4 in the 850-ton class. Two aircraft carriers will be built not exceeding 20,000 tons and 4 10,000-ton 6-inch cruisers will be constructed. The Nation's under sea forces will be augmented by 4 submarines and 2 gunboats will be constructed for use in Chinese waters.

Naval experts in the several bureaus have been working for weeks on the details of the plans but even now definite arrangements have not been completed. In many cases alternate plans were submitted by the constructed. The Nation's undersea general board, the selection of one or the other depending upon the general allotment of the funds.

Local Yard Gets Share.

It is understood that the Washington Navy Yard will share generously in the construction work. At the local yard guns, gun mounts and fire control equipment and instruments are manufactured. Nearly

Bank Runner Loses $11,000 to Captor

Green Bay, Wis., June 15 (A.P.).—Lawrence Kaiser, 23, bank messenger, told police today he had been abducted by a man who robbed him of $11,000 in currency of small denominations.

Kaiser, who is employed by the West Side State Bank, told authorities he got the money at the Kellogg Citizens' National Bank and as he stepped into his automobile at the curb a man also entered and leveled a gun as he sat down beside him.

The messenger said he was forced to drive out of the city, where the man bound his hands and feet, took the bag containing the money and the key to his automobile and ran down the road to another automobile and drove away. Kaiser said he telephoned his employer as soon as he freed himself.

New Cottage

Rented by Son After Fire Will House Roosevelt on Vacation.

Rye Beach, N. H., June 15 (A.P.).—James Roosevelt, whose home at Little Boars Head was rendered untenable by a fire yesterday, rented a cottage tonight and was expected to move into it with his family on Monday.

The new home of the President's son is known as Apple Tree Cottage and is about a mile from the one which was burned yesterday.

When the President visits his son as he has planned, he probably will stay in the seaside cottage several nights.

Young Roosevelt and his wife and daughter have been staying with Mrs. Roosevelt's parents, Dr. and Mrs. Harvey Cushing, since the fire.

MATTERN OVERDUE ON HOP TO ALASKA

Second Attempt to Fly to Nome Believed Thwarted by Bad Weather.

Nome, Alaska, June 15 (A.P.).—Many hours overdue here today on his projected nonstop flight from Khabarovsk, Siberia, Jimmie Mattern, Texas round-the-world flier, was believed to have been baffled again by unfavorable weather.

Mattern took off from Khabarovsk at 2:20 p. m. (Eastern standard time) yesterday on his second attempted flight over the hazardous route. Tuesday he returned to Khabarovsk after eight hours in the air.

Storms which lay in his path Tuesday had moved out of his way today, but an overcast sky and a cold fog-shrouded Bering Sea and presented a formidable barrier to an aviator already wearied by flying alone almost two-thirds of the way around the globe.

Inland from Nome there were broken places in the cloud mantle and it was believed Mattern could find a safe landing place without much trouble should he push his speedy plane that far.

Seventeen hours' flying time was regarded as ample for the distance from Kabarovsk to Nome and Nomites began to look for him at 1:30 a. m. (7:30 a. m., Eastern standard time).

As the hours passed, however, and the low-hanging clouds stubbornly veiled the sky, the belief grew that Mattern had landed elsewhere.

If he filled his gasoline tanks to capacity, he should have been able to remain in the air until 11:30 p. m. (Eastern standard time) tonight. Ice-coated wings were Mattern's greatest menace. Should he be able to keep on his course he would have to fly high above the clouds or skim along almost at sea level below them. Ice would form quickly should he attempt to fly through the clouds or through the fog.

Chum of Alleged Slayer Of Mother Facing Writ

Flint, Mich., June 15 (A.P.).—The threat of a murder warrant, naming him as an accomplice, tonight hung over young William Terwilliger, the boy who accompanied the 17-year-old Baife MacDonald on his flight from Flint to Nashville, Tenn., after the slaying of MacDonald's mother here May 27.

Hitherto held as a material witness against MacDonald, who police say has confessed slaying his mother after a quarrel, Terwilliger's name came more directly into the case today when J. Earl Poultney, Flint detective, said he planned to ask for a murder warrant.

ROTATIVE PLAN FOR FURLOGUHS WINS APPROVAL

Suspension Sought for Regroup Order in Senate Move.

By ROBERT C. ALBRIGHT.

Furlough of thousands of Federal workers hit by the administration's reorganization and economy plan, with furloughs ordered in uniform rotation, was virtually assured last night.

The rotative plan, evolved by the Budget Bureau after a study of personnel problems, was embodied in the independent offices conference report approved by both Houses of Congress just before adjournment.

The measure will be signed this week by the President. In addition to controversial veterans' appropriations and funds to maintain the independent agencies of Government, an economy rider to the bill also authorizes department heads to involuntarily retire workers 30 years in Government service.

Reorganization Move Suspended.

Earlier yesterday, the Senate adopted a joint resolution suspending temporarily operation of one of the more objectionable features of the President's $25,000,000 reorganization plan, and blocking immediate shifts of two bureaus proposed in the executive proposals.

Rotative furloughs and involuntary retirements authorized in the independent offices bill were designed to take up much of the personnel slack caused by operation of this same reorganization program, and other economy slashes ordered in various departments.

Should the bill have failed of enactment, an eventuality which appeared likely in view of the deadlock between both houses and the President over veterans' appropriations, the old administrative furlough law would have continued in effect for another year.

Rotative Plan Not Mandatory.

This law required that furloughs be ordered in lieu of dismissals, to keep within appropriations. The rotative plan, agreed to yesterday, on the other hand, is not mandatory. Department heads may make use of the plan or not, at their own discretion.

Anticipating passage of the bill, however, the Postoffice Department and other agencies already have announced they will make use of the system.

The reorganization order the Senate yesterday moved to suspend made 25 per cent cuts in agricultural extension activities, maintenance of agricultural colleges, farm experiment work and vocational education.

House action is necessary for the resolution to be binding on the President.

Intimations were, however, that the President is willing to abide by the Senate's view so far as this item is

Mayor Hits Police Action In Chicago Liquor Sales

Chicago, June 15 (A.P.).—Mayor Edward J. Kelly today ordered police to refrain from interference with liquor sellers under penalty of being "chased to the sticks."

"There is plenty of work for the police in catching criminals and hoodlums, instead of shaking down some poor citizen who is trying to make a living selling liquor," he said. "The people have spoken on this matter of liquor."

Boyles Gets 15 Years For Extortion Letters

Atlanta, June 15 (A.P.)—Odell C. Boyles was sentenced to 15 years in prison today after his conviction in Federal court of attempting to extort $30,000 from Joseph P. Cannon, wealthy Concord, N. C., textile manufacturer.

Boyles was indicted on three counts of sending extortion letters through the mails to Cannon, demanding payment of money under a threat of kidnaping the manufacturer's son, Joe Cannon, jr., and his granddaughter, Anne Cannon Reynolds. He was found guilty of all three counts.

$200,000 Opium Taken From Italian Steamer

New York, June 15 (A.P.).—Customs agents today seized about 180 pounds of crude opium, which they valued at $200,000, aboard the liner Conte di Savoia, moored at its pier in the Hudson River.

Aerial Pig Pains Society

Proposed Porcine Parachute Plane Performance Puts People's Protective Personnel President Persistently Promoting Prevention Plans.

Baltimore, June 15 (A.P.).—Despite protests by the Maryland Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals, plans were being made today to have a pig make a parachute jump from a plane in suburban Ruxton Saturday.

The jump promises to be the high spot, figuratively and literally, of a country fair staged for the benefit of the Protestant Episcopal Church of the Good Shepherd.

Announcement of the proposed porcine leap earlier in the week brought pained exclamations from officials of the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals.

"A pig is a pig, but, after all, it has feelings," said Miss Mary Butler Shearer, president.

Others echoed her remarks, but promoters of the fair announced today the show would go on.

The owner of the pig, Edward M. Pennimore, a Chestertown (Md.) farmer and airplane enthusiast, said the pig had taken jumps from planes before and actually enjoyed them.

A harness, to which are to be attached two vari-colored parachutes, is to be fastened around the pig, which has been dubbed "Julius" by the newspapers.

After the landing (if happy) "Julius" is to be wheeled around the midway in a baby carriage in a sort of triumphal parade.

SENATE YIELDS ON COMPROMISE IN VETERAN CUTS

President Sends Letter to Members Praising Action; Senator Long's One-Man Filibuster Ineffective; House Acts Quickly.

By LAWRENCE SULLIVAN.

The Roosevelt Recovery Congress adjourned shortly after 1 o'clock this morning with every item of the administration's sweeping program for economic rehabilitation spread upon the statute books.

A third compromise, a plan covering veteran pensions, was finally passed in the Senate a few minutes after midnight, and within an hour the remaining formalities preceding sine die adjournment had been completed in both houses.

Immediately before the end of the historic session, President Roosevelt sent a special personal message to both houses thanking the members for their cooperation in the three crowded months since March 9.

Senate Vote 45 to 36.

The winning compromise on the veteran tangle was substantially the amendment approved in the House last week, with a further concession in favor of Spanish War veterans.

The final Senate vote on the compromise was 45 to 36.

The Senate vote came after six hours of colorful debate, in which President Roosevelt was bitterly assailed for the administration of the veteran provisions of the economy act passed last March.

Reversing itself within 24 hours, the Senate was deaf to the renewed pleas of the veteran advocates for the Cutting-Steiwer amendment.

On Wednesday night the Cutting-Steiwer amendment had been adopted by a roll call tally of 51 to 39.

Unavoidable absences of half a dozen Republican members and the switch of seven Democrats accounted for the administration victory.

Whereas the Wednesday night roll call showed 88 senators voting, the final poll last night accounted for only 81 members, exclusive of pairs.

Democrats and Republicans alike assailed the harsh administrative regulations promulgated by the President under the economy act and members of the President's party were among those who pleaded vigorously for rejection of the compromise.

Veterans' Administration officials estimated last night that the compromise restores approximately $160,000,000 of the $360,000,000 originally saved on veteran awards in the economy measure.

Roll Call on Veterans.

The roll call follows:

For the conference report:

Democrats—Adams, Ashurst, Bachman, Bailey, Bankhead, Barclay, Black, Bratton, Brown, Bulkley, Bulow, Byrd, Byrnes, Caraway, Clark, Connally, Dieterich, Dill, Duffy, Erickson, Glass, Gore, Harrison, Kendrick, King, Logan, Lonergan, McAdoo, McGill, McKellar, Murphy, Pope, Reynolds, Robinson (Arkansas), Russell, Sheppard, Smith, Stephens, Thomas (Oklahoma), Thomas (Utah), Thompson, Tydings, Van Nuys, Wagner and Walsh. Total—45.

Against the report:

Democrats—Bone, Copeland, Hayden, Long, Neely, Overton, Trammel and Wheeler—total, 8.

Republicans against—Austin, Barbour, Borah, Capper, Carey, Cutting, Dale, Davis, Dickinson, Frazier, Goldsborough, Hale, Hatfield, Hebert, Johnson, Kean, LaFollette, McNary, Metcalf, Nye, Reed, Robinson, Indiana; Schall, Steiwer, Townsend, Vandenberg and White—Total, 27.

Farmer Labor—Shipstead—Total, 1.

Grand total against, 36.

Abandoning his plan for a sharp veto of the Cutting-Steiwer amendment enlarging veteran payments, President Roosevelt again rallied the House of Representatives to his own program yesterday. Sustained in the

PRESIDENT THANKS CONGRESS FOR HELP

Team Work Transcended Party Lines Often, His Letter States.

(United Press.)

President Roosevelt sent to Congress early today a letter expressing his appreciation of the work done during the special session. The letter was read in both houses by Vice President Garner and Speaker Rainey.

The text of the President's message, as read by Rainey, follows:

"Before the adjournment of the special session I want to convey to you and to the members of the House of Representatives an expression of my thanks for making possible on the broad average a more sincere and whole-hearted cooperation between the legislative and the executive branches of the United States Government than has been witnessed by the American people in many a long year.

"This spirit of teamwork has in most cases transcended party lines. It has taken cognizance of a crisis in the affairs of our Nation and of the world. It has grasped the need for a new approach to problems both new and old. It has proven that our form of Government can rise to an emergency and can carry through a broad program in record time.

"I am certain that the American people are appreciative of the work of this special session of the Seventy-third Congress.

"Please let me add that the past few months have given to me very special pleasure in the renewal of old friendships and the forming of new friendships among the House of Representatives. To each and every one of you I send my best wishes for a well-deserved and happy holiday during the coming months."

Austro-Hungarian Union Move Hinted

U. S. PLANS TO PAY FARMERS BONUSES

Cooperation With Wallace in Aid Plan Would Be Rewarded.

(Associated Press.)

Administration plans for applying the farm adjustment act contemplate paying farmers who cooperate bonuses and rentals for cotton and wheat acreage reduction of more than $150,000,000 in the next four months.

It was said authoritatively last night that designers of the program hope that the payments will aid in stimulating business recovery in the two crop belts, in addition to reducing output of the commodities. Depressed wheat and cotton prices in recent years have been blamed on overproduction.

Meanwhile, administrators of the farm act studied closely the market reception of news of Secretary Wallace's plans to levy maximum processing taxes on both cotton and wheat to finance acreage reduction.

Mr. Wallace refused any comment upon the market's reaction, which resulted in a drop in wheat prices earlier in the day, most of which was later recovered and a fall of about $2 a bale in the price of cotton.

Future Effect Considered.

It is reported that his concern is centered in the effect of long range prices, which he expects to be improved greatly when his plans have been given an opportunity to operate. Mr. Wallace has laid plans to get the programs for the two crops in operation speedily after official announcement is made. The first cash benefits probably will go to the South, with the program calling for payment of rental benefits to farmers who reduce part of their present acreage of cotton.

A formal announcement by Mr. Wallace is scheduled for Friday, but it was learned that while he is prepared to make it at any time, he has decided to wait until the industrial control public works bill, passed by Congress, has been signed by President Roosevelt.

The public works measure includes provision for an appropriation of $100,000,000 for advance payments to farmers who agree to reduce their acreages of basic crops.

Funds are to be advanced from this appropriation to begin the acreage reduction program for cotton which will be aimed to take up to 10,000,000 acres out of production of the crop now growing.

At the same time it was reported that the Wallace plan for processing taxes contemplates that the rate is to remain as constant as possible and to interfere as little as possible with orderly marketing.

The maximum tax that can be levied, and it is planned to impose the top levy, represents the difference between current farm prices and "the parity" price, which is based on prewar average farm prices.

Transportation Cost Big.

Market prices for some commodities average 20 per cent above farm prices, representing the addition of transportation and other marketing costs to the sum realized by the grower.

Some administrators have been fearful of the effect of the tax on current prices, although they regard the prospect of a smaller potential supply of the commodity, to be brought about through acreage reduction, as a balancing factor tending to support prices.

The exact time the taxes will be ordered into effect remained undetermined, making possible a last-minute change in case new factors appeared. When the levies are imposed they must be accompanied by import taxes or duties of equal amount.

NAVY PLANS MAKE NEW JOBS FOR MANY

200 guns will be required to adequately equip the proposed "little fleet." The announcement comes at a time when it was a foregone conclusion that hundreds would be laid off at the local yard. Under the new plans work will be provided for the present staff for 3 years at least.

Each of the 1,500-ton destroyers will require five guns, while the 850-ton ships will require 6 guns, for a total of 104 on this type of vessel. Each of the cruisers will take about 12 guns, while the antiaircraft carriers will require 10. The submarines will be equipped with 1 each under present plans.

It is planned to expend $46,000,000 of the money in the fiscal year 1934, while $108,000,000 will be spent next year and the remainder to complete the work in 1936.

In making the announcement, Secretary Swanson stressed the point that the Navy has only built up to 60 per cent of treaty strength. When questioned directly about the effect on the present situation at Geneva, where disarmament is being discussed, he stated that "We don't do anything except what it has been agreed we should do."

Work on the program will start at once. Approximately 85 per cent of the funds will go directly for employment, while a good percentage of the remaining 15 per cent will provide work indirectly for thousands of others in obtaining the necessary raw materials.

Legislation Enacted In the Special Session

Industrial Recovery—The new law repeals for one year all sections of the antitrust statutes which forbid trade agreements looking to stabilization of wages, prices and working conditions; establishes Federal license system to enforce agreements against recalcitrant units; empowers President to regulate production and stabilize national industrial economy, petroleum industry exempted.

Public Works—Authorizes a $3,300,000,000 national program to be administered under direction of the President; all public and semipublic construction projects eligible for Government loans.

Prohibition—Volstead act modified to permit 3.2 per cent beer and wines; medicinal liquor regulations liberalized to permit practically unlimited sale on prescription. Campaign for repeal of eighteenth amendment invigorated by the administration.

Money and Banking—Emergency banking legislation passed on March 9 reopened 14,300 banks after panic holiday; 4,500 State and 1,100 national banks still closed or operating on restricted basis. Complete control over currency passed to President in inflation sections of the farm bill; gold clauses in all public and private contracts outlawed; President authorized to fix ratio for silver coinage; Glass banking bill passed. Securities bill subjects all interstate stock and bond issues to approval of the Federal Trade Commission; foreign issues subjected to approval of State Department; Home Loan Bank powers vastly extended.

Farm Relief—Sweeping plan for experimentation in agricultural rehabilitation combines domestic allotment, acreage leasing and cotton option plans; all farm credit agencies consolidated by Executive order; new funds provided for $200,000,000 in additional farm relief credits; farm mortgage agency created.

Revenues—Recovery act calls for $227,000,000 in new income and profits taxes; 1-cent Federal gasoline tax raised to 1½ cents to yield $137,000,000 annually; Federal power tax to yield $80,000,000; beer tax to yield estimated $125,000,000. Total new revenues, $589,000,000; 3 per cent power tax transferred from consumer to producer. General sales tax failed in Senate.

Economy—Savings of $560,000,000 annually on veteran pensions and $100,000,000 on Federal salaries realized in March legislation "to preserve the credit of the United States Government." In historic eleventh-hour revolt, Congress restored $160,000,000 of original veteran savings.

Muscle Shoals—Gigantic Tennessee Valley improvement experiment launched under direction of three-man board; $50,000,000 immediately available; Cove Creek Dam authorized.

Civilian Conservation Camps—Authorizes enrollment of 250,000 men in woodland camps under semimilitary regime for forestry conservation; camps organizing since early April are to be fully manned by July 1.

Human Relief—Wagner bill authorized $500,000,000 for direct doles to States and municipalities; special administrative machinery already distributing funds on basis of need.

National Employment Agency—Authorizes nation-wide system of Federal employment exchanges, in cooperation with existing State machinery.

Railroads—Emergency coordinator of transportation authorized to enforce economies; labor protected against abolition of jobs; three regional assistants to coordinator are to administer virtually a wartime efficiency plan.

Tariff—President authorized in recovery bill to adjust tariffs and impose embargoes to meet competition of depreciated foreign currencies, should London conference fail to restore international money standard.

Foreign Affairs—Farm bill authorizes settlement of war debts in silver at discretion of the President; arms embargo resolution killed by Senate amendments; St. Lawrence Waterway treaty carried over despite favorable report from Senate Foreign Relations Committee.

Official Secrets—Forbids Government employes to publish cable codes or other official secrets.

Extraordinary powers vested in President—to alter gold content of the dollar; to remonetize silver at ratio to be fixed by executive order; to suspend or alter, within broad limits, all Government contracts, including Federal salaries, pensions, air and ocean mail subsidies; to regulate industrial production, banking and railroad operations; to consolidate Government bureaus and departments subject to congressional veto; to operate Government power and fertilizer plants at Muscle Shoals; to allocate all public works appropriations; to reduce first-class postage from 3 to 2 cents an ounce and to alter city rates on first-class matter; to place tariffs, embargoes and quotas, with the advice of the U. S. Tariff Commission, as defense against unstable foreign currencies; to invoke publicity of Federal income tax returns; to apply guarantee of bank deposits before January 1, 1934, at presidential discretion; to regulate or prohibit interstate shipment of oil produced in violation of State quota laws.

U. S. WINS BIG VICTORY AS COX IS NAMED MONETARY LEADER

ard countries, objection to the choice of Mr. Cox finally evaporated after discussions between the former Ohio governor and James P. Warburg of the American group with Finance Minister Georges Bonnet of France, who had been a candidate for the post.

"We have met Gov. Cox and we love him," M. Bonnet declared at the conclusion of the informal conference which shortly preceded election of Mr. Cox by the steering committee of the International Assembly.

The plenary session continu during the political maneuvering in conference lobbies and for th second day speakers indicated considerable support for the policies of the American delegation.

The chief speaker of the day was Prime Minister Bennett of Canada, who urged a policy of cheap money and vigorous public works programs, both of which are important points in the American revival scheme.

Mr. Bennett's address, as well as that of Neville Chamberlain, British chancellor of the exchequer, yesterday, evoked favorable comment in American quarters and the prospects of important agreements with the two best customers of the United States was pointed to as an encouraging factor.

T. V. Soong, of China, and Alberto J. Pani, of Mexico, representing, respectively, the principal silver importing and producing countries of the world, offered the first indications from the floor of support for the American silver policy, both urging stabilization of the white metal at a higher price.

Introductory speeches were virtually completed today and the conference prepared to get down to business.

The next big problems before the conference are to find common grounds for monetary and tariff policies, and with these in view delegates are prepared for arduous committee work.

Newspaper Advertising Brings Salary Increase

Birmingham, Ala., June 15 (A.P.).—A ten-weeks' newspaper advertising campaign was credited today with an increase in business which officials of a dry cleaning plant said made possible salary raises for 130 employes.

The pay increases range from 10 to 20 per cent.

Woodin Denies Accord For Money Stabilization

(Associated Press.)

Secretary Woodin, in a formal statement last night said the American Government had not agreed to any stabilization of currency.

The Treasury Secretary issued the following statement:

"Various reports from London published today concerning an agreement by American delegates to stabilization in some form have been brought to my attention. Such reports can not be founded in fact.

"Any proposal concerning stabilization would have to be submitted to the President and to the Treasury, and no suggestion of such a proposal has been received here.

"The discussions in London in regard to this subject must be explanatory only and any agreement on this subject will be reached in Washington, not elsewhere."

The statement was understood to have the full approval of President Roosevelt.

It was the first time this Government has taken any open part in the London parley.

AL SMITH TESTIFIES FOR C. E. MITCHELL

Whitman Also Vouches for Banker's Character in Income Tax Case.

New York, June 15 (A.P.).—A dramatic gesture that brought former Gov. Alfred E. Smith to the stand to testify that Charles E. Mitchell's reputation was "of the best" completed the banker's defense today to charges of bilking the Government of $850,000 income taxes.

Rebuttal witnesses next were introduced by both sides, among them Mitchell himself, and court adjourned until Monday. Federal Judge Henry W. Goddard said the attorneys would sum up on Monday and Tuesday and that the twelve men of moderate means comprising the jury would receive the case on Wednesday.

The appearance of the former Democratic presidential nominee to climax the case the defense opened a week ago Monday came as a surprise. With him as character witnesses were a Republican former governor, Charles S. Whitman; Arthur Brisbane, journalist; Supreme Court Justice Morgan J. O'Brien and others.

Smith was called upon by Max D. Steuer, defense attorney, to outline the career that took him from "the sidewalks of New York to the governor's mansion at Albany and the presidential nomination in 1928, although United States Attorney George Z. Medalie objected that every man in the jury box "must know all about the life of Gov. Smith."

The former governor said he had known Mitchell five years, but "knew of him long before that." Their relations were "mostly social," but they also met in connection with public affairs. After declaring the banker's reputation to be "of the best," Smith was asked:

"Has Mr. Mitchell's reputation, so far as you are concerned, undergone any change recently?"

Medalie objected to that and the witness was not allowed to answer.

"That's all, governor, thank you," Steuer said, and Smith stepped down.

Whitman, Brisbane and Justice O'Brien, who have known Mitchell for 30, 11 and 15 years, respectively, all said his reputation was "very good."

As they left the room Mitchell rose and waved to them.

Mitchell was recalled briefly to testify concerning a $53,000 payment he made his wife December 19, 1929, the day before he claims to have sold her 18,300 shares of National City Bank stock at a loss so great he was left with no taxable income for that year.

Miss Martha King Is Annapolis Bride

Annapolis, Md., June 15 (A.P.).—Miss Martha Stuart King, daughter of Rear Admiral Ernest J. King, chief of the Bureau of Aeronautics, and second Lieut. Frederick Harrison Smith, jr., who recently was commissioned following graduation from West Point, were married here tonight at St. Anne's Protestant Episcopal Church.

The services were performed by the Rev. Edward Darlington Johnson, D. D., rector of the church. Miss Claire King, a sister of his bride, was maid of honor, while Lieut. Daniel Smith, a brother of the bridegroom, who also was commissioned recently at West Point, was best man.

concerned. He pointed out at the White House Wednesday that he has "discretionary" authority not to make the cuts.

The two minor transfers on which the Senate sought suspension provided for abolition of the Public Buildings Commission and shifting of its functions to the Interior Department. Proposed transfer of national cemeteries from the War Department to the Interior Department also was objected to.

Two other joint resolutions to block individual phases of the President's broad regrouping program remain to be acted on—the proposals of Senator Reed (Republican), Pennsylvania, to lay aside the orders consolidating Federal purchasing activities into one unit and administration of Federal property into another.

The resolution adopted yesterday would suspend operation of the agricultural extension cut until 60 days after Congress reconvenes in January.

As originally offered by Senator McNary (Republican), Oregon, it would have annulled the order entirely. The Oregon Senator, however, accepted the temporary suspension feature of a similar resolution sponsored by Senator Borah (Republican), Idaho.

Opposition to abolition of the Public Buildings Commission and transfer of its funds to the Interior Department was voiced by Senator Connally (Democrat), Texas, a member of the commission, who said he spoke for the other members. He succeeded in amending the McNary resolution in this respect.

Action to block transfer of national cemeteries from the War to the Interior Department was sponsored by Senator Reed, who argued that all of the data relating to burial of soldiers is more conveniently at hand in the War Department, and the records should not be transferred.

Late For Work; Faces Charges.

Denver, June 15 (A.P.).—Charged with being late for work, Joe A. Martin, a clerk in the State highway office, complained he "dreamed it was a holiday." The dream may turn out a nightmare. His superior preferred charges against Martin, asserting he was "unreliable and incompetent" and asked his dismissal.

Vanished Sculptor Leaves Statue Stranded at Hotel

Consider the problem of the missing sculptor and the stranded statue and you have not the potpourri garnishments of a mystery novel, but the situation which confronts officials at the Hotel Mayflower.

On May 20, the District chapter of the Women's International League, held a dinner at the Mayflower. The group is ardently pacifistic. One of its guests was Prof. Ernest Durig, 37-year-old Swiss sculptor.

With the aid of about 30 men, Prof. Durig brought to the banquet one of his creations in heavy plaster. It was called "Disarmament." The statuary group depicts a heavily muscled man lifting a ponderous cannon wheel from the tortured torsos of several men in war gear.

To date the statue is still in the ballroom at the hostelry. And it has become somewhat of a white elephant.

The creator of the statuary mysteriously vanished from his home here about a week after the banquet. Police efforts to locate him have come to naught. His wife is unable to take care of the expense of moving the unweildly creation of her husband.

And so, say the hotel officials, what to do?

(Associated Press.)

Not even counting a good many words, some good, some bad, long, short and otherwise, that were spoken on the Senate and House floors yesterday and last night, hard-working statisticians have figured that more than 36,000,000 words were uttered during the present short session.

And, as if that wasn't enough figuring, Prof. W. Mayes Yeager, of George Washington University, estimated last night that if all these words were printed in 7½-point type and placed end to end they'd reach from Washington to New York and 7 miles beyond.

As to the kind of words spoken, Dr. Yeager, who is a professor of public speaking, thinks that they were a bit shorter than usual and that "the old-fashioned spread-eagle orator" is vanishing.

RAILROADS DEMAND 22.5 PER CENT CUT

Labor, However, Says It Is Time to Increase Pay; Parley July 12.

Chicago, June 15 (A.P.).—The railroads demanded today that a 10 per cent temporary deduction from their union employes' pay checks be replaced with a permanent reduction of 22½ per cent.

The demand was made in a statement from the American Railway Executives Association and was addressed to the Railway Labor Executives Association, comprised of the heads of 21 railway labor unions.

A conference with the union leaders was requested by the roads for July 12 in Chicago. The proposed reduction would be effective November 1, when the period covered by a contract covering the 10 per cent deduction ends.

Labor leaders were prompt in declaring they would accept no reduction; that the time has come for wage increases, not decreases. Executives of the railroads were equally insistent that they would make no concessions.

CONFEREES YIELD ON VETERANS AS PRESIDENT ABANDONS VETO

House by a vote of 309 to 177, the President then sought the third compromise through the House and Senate conferees.

Republican conferees for the Senate, Steiwer and Hale, declined to sign the new compromise report, but the Democratic members brought the agreement before the Senate without the concurrence of the Republicans.

The agreement finally reached by the conferees sustained the President's stand against relaxation of the presumptive clauses of the veteran regulation, but it yielded further to the veterans by adding new language touching the administrative features of the March economy act.

Senator Steiwer (Republican), Oregon, who sponsored the successful effort Wednesday to reject the President's second compromise plan, said the third proposal carried "not one substantial safeguard."

"It does not protect even the service-connected cases," Steiwer added. He said he could not sign the conference report because it did not embody any real compromise.

Senator Bennett Clark (Democrat), Missouri, said the fight over veteran awards at this time was a sham. Under the broad authority of the March economy act, he explained, the President had plenary power to do what he wished. "I was one of the willful group of 13 who voted against the economy act last March," he continued. "That is when we should have stopped this."

Senator Wheeler (Democrat), Montana, described the economy regulations as "cruel and inhuman in their cuts against the helpless victims of the World War." He, too, announced his uncompromising opposition to the third compromise.

"The administration is making one of the most serious mistakes ever made," Senator Wheeler continued. "I think the Congress of the United States should stand up and demand these mistakes be corrected."

"What's all the hurry about going home?" Long shouted.

"We'd better stay here and get this business settled right."

Long said he would vote against every compromise plan presented, until the "chief executioner of the Veterans Bureau" is checked in his pension authority.

Long denied any partisan issue was involved.

"I am fighting for the integrity of my own party," he shouted. "If you put this policy and this disgraceful thing upon the books you will have a Republican, or some other kind, of Congress in 1934—if there is any Congress left."

President Roosevelt determined last night to begin his vacation today.

Seventy-nine Democrats abandoned the party leadership in the House on the veteran vote yesterday. Had not the Tammany delegation stood solidly behind the President, the Cutting-Steiwer amendment would have been written into the bill on that side also.

As it was, the President carried the House by a margin of only 32 votes, 30 of which were thrown into the breach by Tammany.

The 45 absentees might have forced adoption of the amendment despite Tammany's support.

Prior to the vote on the Steiwer-Cutting plan the House accepted an amendment allowing $500,000 instead of $1,000,000 originally proposed for care of veterans mental cases in State institutions.

Amendment Refused.

Shortly afterward, however, the House refused to accept the Black Senate amendment, which would have added an additional $1,000,000 for hospital treatment for ailing veterans irrespective of whether their malady was service connected.

The Steiwer-Cutting plan proposed to limit to 25 per cent all reductions in the service-connected disability compensation of any World War veteran or the pension of any veteran of a prior war, or the pension of any widow, or dependent of such veteran.

Asks Cases Restored.

It also provided that large classes of nonservice-connected cases be restored to the Federal rolls, under the presumptive clauses of the earlier veteran laws.

While awaiting an agreement on the veteran tangle, the Senate approved the conference report on the $3,600,000,000 fourth deficiency bill. The measure then went to the White House. Save for the deadlocked independent offices bill, this was the last major piece of legislation before the session.

When it appeared doubtful late in the afternoon whether adjournment could be accomplished last night, President Roosevelt canceled arrangements for his departure on a long-projected three weeks' yachting vacation along the North Atlantic coast. Plans for the vacation were held in abeyance pending adjournment. Today the President was to have attended the graduation of his son, Franklin, jr., from Groton School, in Massachusetts.

An informal caucus of House Democrats yesterday morning developed the plan to resist the Senate amendment, but the margin of support was so narrow that Speaker Rainey declined to call for a binding caucus pledge. Only about 200 of the 313 Democrats in the House attended the caucus. This meeting delayed the House vote until late afternoon.

Meanwhile, on the Senate floor, Senator Robert M. La Follette, of Wisconsin, launched a filibuster against President Roosevelt's bill which would authorize appointment of an nonresident Governor of Hawaii.

Emphasizing that this bill had been presented in the Senate by extraordinary procedure, Senator William E. Borah had said earlier he would resist its enactment to the end. The plan was opposed by the entire population of the islands, Senator Borah said. He pointed out that there had been no formal consideration of the bill by the Senate Committee on Territories and Insular Possessions. Neither had there been a formal vote upon the measure in committee. Finally, the Senate had been asked to pass the bill without a formal report from the Territories Committee.

"Government everywhere must depend upon the happiness and contentment of the people," Senator Borah said. "And I am convinced that the people of the Hawaiian Islands are opposed to this measure."

Senator La Follette said there had been no adequate consideration of the bill in the House committee. "The President's message was the only evidence heard on that side."

He said he was prepared to block the measure as long as he had the strength to do so.

Capital Woman Accuses "Ring"

Philadelphia, June 15 (A.P.).—Detective Lieut. William McGorian said tonight he is "inclined to believe" Harry Helmus, of Philadelphia, found slain in Lancaster County, was "taken for a ride" by members of a New York vice ring operating in eastern Pennsylvania, New Jersey and possibly as far south as Washington, D. C.

He said city and Federal police are searching for leaders of the vice ring and four prisoners, two men and two women, are being held here.

One of the women was said by Detectives to be Mrs. Kitty Rattigan, 30, who was reported by police to have made a complete expose of the methods of the New York ring. Mrs. Rattigan was arrested in a raid, and police quoted her as saying she had been held an unwilling prisoner. She formerly lived in Washington.

Unified Tax Set-up Urged for Nation

Cincinnati, Ohio, June 15 (A.P.).—Abolition of State and county governments and the establishment of a unified fiscal, revenue and taxation system for the Nation were recommanded before the Municipal Finance Officers Association in convention here today by S. E. Leland, member of the Illinois Tax Commission.

In its closing session, the association, which includes members from Canada as well as the United States, elected as president C. E. Armstrong, city auditor of Birmingham, Ala. Other officers were reelected.

WORLD CARTEL PLOT CHARGED BY GARVAN

Chemical Foundation Head Opposes 'Scheme' Against Home Markets.

New York, June 15 (A.P.).—Francis P. Garvan, president of the Chemical Foundation, said in a statement today that a committee seeking to replace four directors of the Allied Chemical & Dye Corporation is "simply a tool of the world cartel determined to obtain possession of our markets."

He also declared that Allied Chemical and Orlando Weber, its head, "in a large measure can take credit for the fact that the representatives of our country alone go to the London conference with no power of pressure in the hands of any foreigner for any necessity."

Garvan's statement followed one by Weber yesterday charging that the movement to replace the directors was inspired by foreign interests and a denial by Rogers S. Lamont, secretary of the stockholders' committee sponsoring the change.

"This committee represents no stock," Garvan said. "Their stock should be denied voting power under any proper system of law or proper conduct of the stock exchange. They have imposed upon the American people and extracted $25,000,000 from them for preferred stock without voting rights and retained for themselves, as foreign agents, having been paid for this stock, the power to attempt destruction of the Allied Chemical Co.

"I do not enter into the dispute between the company and the stock exchange. It is none of my business. But it is my business and the business of every American citizen to see that this latest scheme of the bankers under foreign control to destroy our chemical independence is crushed in no uncertain terms."

Treasury in accordance with the recent provisions of the inflation bill.

The Czechoslovakian minister, Ferdinand Veverka, called at the Department of State to make an offer of $180,000 on the $1,500,000 due. It is believed that the offer was accepted by this Government. However, it was also broadly indicated that these "token" payments from foreign governments have not been accepted without pointed observations on the part of this Government of the desirability of a more adequate settlement. The reopening of the debt negotiations between the United States and the countries that met their obligations today will afford some further measure of payment to be made, it is hoped.

The case of the Roumanian payment is almost bewildering in its shifts and changes. The Roumanian Minister, Charles A. Davila, had expressed the firm conviction that his country would make a payment—perhaps not a total payment—but at all events a "token" settlement, on the day of reckoning. On the eve of June 15 an announcement was made that Roumania would repudiate her obligation, forced to this decision by an agrarian conference at Bucharest some eight days previous, and all hope was abandoned for the Roumanian payment. Yesterday afternoon George Boncesco, financial counselor of the Roumanian Legation, was informed by transatlantic telephone from Bucharest that Roumania would make a $25,000 payment, corresponding to 2½ per cent of the total $1,000,000 due.

U. S. to Accept All Payments.

It is believed that the United States will accept all debt payments in any amount, even when made after the expiration of the day appointed. Reconsideration of the payment will, however, be taken up when the creditor and debtor governments sit down together at the forthcoming debt parleys here. The Latvian payment of $5,948 is the smallest recorded and represents 5 per cent of the total.

The countries defaulting and the amounts due from them are as follows:

France, $40,738,000.
Belgium, $6,245,000.
Poland, $3,559,000.
Esthonia, $284,322.
Lithuania, $132,073.
Jugoslavia, $275,000.
Hungary, $28,260.

It is believed that the negotiations between the United States and the debtor nations which all the countries have been waiting for will be inaugurated with Great Britain first and then with the other nations making yesterday's payment. However, the President is disposed to have the defaulting countries present their case also for adjustment, although they can not be entitled to the same treatment as the paying countries without invidious reaction from the good debtors.

The restricting attitude of the debtor nations at the London conference drew from Senator William E. Borah another criticism. The Idaho senator, although no longer chairman of the Foreign Relations Committee, still wields great influence abroad and his support of the President's debt program was considerably commented on in foreign newspapers. He declared:

"If the Economic Conference breaks down, it will be due to the attitude of the debtor nations. They seem determined to make the debts the whole thing. They may wreck the conference and if they do, the economic misery and loss which will ensue will be far in excess of any benefit they might secure by cancellation of the debts."

The department of State was the scene of more than the usual "visiting day" activity which characterizes Thursday. British Ambassador Sir Ronald Lindsay was the first caller in the morning bearing with him the memorandum of the British payment. French Ambassador de Laboulaye was with his Polish colleague, Stanislaw Patek, in the diplomatic anteroom while Acting Secretary Phillips was receiving Sir Ronald.

French Position Recounted.

The French note was understood to be a recapitulation of the French position stated here at the time of the last "deferred" payment and reiterated by former Premier Edouard Herriot a few weeks ago. The French government does not envisage a default on the totality of the French debt to the United States. However, since former President Hoover interrupted without preliminary consultation with the other beneficiaries of the Young plan the modality of German payments, the whole debt structure stands thoroughly abandoned and destroyed. It is, therefore, necessary to proceed to the erection of a new debt plan, within whose framework the French payments will be resumed, provided that the accords of Lausanne are anticipated and likewise provided for. It is on this latter proviso that the impasse will undoubtedly result between the American and the French theses.

Other notes were deposited by Dr. Mikas Bakdonas, charge d'affaires of Lithuania; Yugoslavian Minister Pitamic, Hungarian Charge de Vegh and others.

Kansas Beer Retailers' Plans Upset by Judge

Kansas City, Kans., June 15 (A.P.).—Plans of hundreds of retailers to introduce 3.2 beer into Kansas a pioneer prohibition State, were upset today when Federal Judge John C. Pollock denied an injunction against State officials sought by a Wichita firm.

More than 600 persons had obtained Federal beer permits in the expectation that Judge Pollock, outspoken critic of the Federal prohibition laws, would issue an order restraining State and local authorities from interfering with the sale of the brew.

BANDIT-PROOF BANK EQUIPMENT PLACED

Mechanics Savings Branch Installs Cages Designed By Its Manager.

Bank bandits who attempt to rob the Georgia avenue branch of the Washington Mechanics Savings Bank henceforth will have to lay siege to a citadel of business that only a battery of light artillery stands a chance to take.

George Hayes, manager of real estate for the banking firm whose four branches have seen $30,000 to $40,000 taken in bandit forays of recent years, has developed a banking cage which provides, in his words, a "maximum of protectionewith a maximum of efficiency."

The new tellers' cage at the Georgia avenue bank is a rectangular structure with ample space for several tellers to work. From counter height up it is sheathed with thick, bullet-proof glass. Tellers have perfect vision facilities to command the whole front of the bank.

Steel Mesh Wall.

The counters and sides are completely swathed in lacquered steel. At the rear ventilation and protection is provided by a steel mesh wall that a .45-caliber Army pistol can not pierce.

At every teller's toes is a plunger that will release a flood of tear gas in the face of an enemy, without having the slightest effect on the bank's defenders.

Firearms are of quick access. Portholes are dotted at strategic points. They can be controlled from the inside only.

Keys to the bank are kept on the inside and the workers are always locked in. Ample alarm systems can carry instant word to police headquarters of the approach of bandits.

Three Successful Robberies.

Mr. Hayes was in his youth a machinist at the Navy Yard as was Ezra Gould, president of the bank. They left at the same time to go into the banking business. Both, however, have retained their knowledge of mechanics as they acquired fiscal knowledge.

With three successful robberies at the Northeast, Southeast and Georgia avenue branches of the bank, and one unsuccessful one at the Connecticut avenue branch, Mr. Hayes decided it was time something should be done. Mr. Gould agreed with him and they put their heads together.

Engineering firms wanted too much for the type of protective cage desired. So Mr. Hayes went to work and designed one himself. Not a partition was ripped out and there was not the slightest interruption to business.

Yesterday the Hayes-designed banking citadel went into operation. It will be installed shortly in three other branches of the institution.

BANK'S NEW BURGLAR-PROOF TELLER'S CAGE

New burglar-proof tellers' cage at the Georgia Avenue Branch of the Washington Mechanics Savings Bank, constructed of steel and bullet-proof glass, with gas apparatus along the bottom. Inset, George Hayes, manager of the real estate department of the bank.

Medical Association Elects Iowan as Head

Milwaukee, June 15 (A.P.).—Dr. Walter L. Bierring, of Des Moines, this afternoon was elected president of the American Medical Association for the year 1934-35 by the House of Delegates. Dr. Bierring received 107 votes to 48 for Dr. Eduard B. Heckel, Pittsburgh. Dr. Dean Lewis, of Baltimore, elected last year, was installed as president for 1933-34.

The association chose Cleveland as the convention city for 1934.

VISITORS ANNUALLY SPEND 40 MILLIONS

Value of Largest Individual "Enterprise" to Capital Told in Radio Talk.

Forty millions of dollars are spent in Washington each year by visitors, John A. Remon, general manager of the Chesapeake & Potomac Telephone Co., told listeners last night in a radio talk. The housing, entertainment and care of these people, if it were one business instead of an activity for all business, would be by far the largest single enterprise of Washington.

It is to conserve and, if possible, increase the volume of this business that the Greater National Capital Committee was organized two years ago. Mr. Remon stated that the work of this committee concerned all the business people of Washington and the welfare of every other resident of the city.

Two hundred national conventions of various organizations were held in Washington during 1932, and it was pointed out that without the work of this committee there would probably have been not more than 50.

The committee is advertising Washington by booklets, posters and maps not only throughout the United States and its possessions, but also in England and Europe. More than 5,000,000 pieces of such material were distributed last year.

"An example of the type of activity which the greater National Capital committees sponsor for the benefit of Washington is the President's Cup regatta, which," said Mr. Remon, "is held each year on the Potomac and has become one of the outstanding sports events of the country."

The Greater National Capital Committee is now conducting its campaign to secure money for another year's organized effort to insure that Washington gets the greatest possible share of the $5,000,000,000 which the Department of Commerce states is being spent annually in the travel industry of the country.

Arlington Seeks Funds For Countywide Sewer

The Arlington County Board in special session yesterday approved the semimonthly payroll amounting to $5,802.43.

The board voted to take immediate steps to obtain necessary funds from the Federal Government through the public works bill to install a countywide sewer system. This subject will be considered further by the board tomorrow at 9 a. m., at the courthouse.

Noiseless July Fourth For Sistie and Buzzie

The grandchildren of President and Mrs. Roosevelt will not have firecrackers on July 4.

Mrs. Roosevelt says that they never do and that Sistie Dall does not like noise anyway, and that Buzzie, her small brother, is not old enough to know whether he likes firecrackers. They will be allowed to see the fireworks in the evening if there are any near Little Boar's Head, N. H., where Sistie and Buzzie will spend the Fourth in their mother's cottage.

ADVENTISTS OPEN CONFERENCE TODAY

Six Meetings Planned for Sabbath Days in Tent City Encampment.

The Potomac Conference of the Seventh-day Adventists will get under way tonight in the conference tent city on the grounds of the Washington Missionary College at Takoma Park. Six meetings have been planned for the Sabbath days, which started yesterday and will last until Sunday night.

The observance of the Sabbath will begin at sundown today when Adventists of the Washington, Virginia and Maryland churches will meet at the conference. The Rev. F. C. Gilbert, noted Hebrew-Christian orator and author, will open the services tonight with an address on "Today the Rocks Are Declaring the Bible Is True."

Tomorrow morning at 6 o'clock the Rev. Gilbert will talk on "The Mission of the Prophets." At 9:30 there will be Sabbath school exercises, and Sabbath schools of surrounding churches will dismiss classes to attend. Rev. A. G. Daniells, president of the board of managers of the College of Medical Evangelists of Loma Linda, Calif., will address the conference at 11 o'clock.

Rev. G. W. Wells, traveling secretary of the General Conference, will talk at 8:30 tomorrow afternoon, and at 8 o'clock tomorrow night Prof. W. A. Scharffenberg, Shanghai, will discuss "Manchuria—the World's Great Danger Zone."

At the three interesting Sunday services, beginning at 10:30 a. m., Dr. B. G. Wilkinson, dean of theology of the Washington Missionary College, will speak on "The Present World Upheaval as Seen Through the Prophetic Telescope." Prof. C. S. Longacre, secretary of the American Temperance Society, will talk at a temperance meeting during the afternoon.

At 8 o'clock Sunday night the Rev. Gilbert will deliver an address on the "Bible's Accurate Forecast of the Future."

V. F. W. Requests Patriotic Support

Clarksburg, W. Va., June 15.—West Virginia Veterans of Foreign Wars at their twelfth annual encampment here today adopted a resolution calling on the Congressmen of the State "to support their nation and their soldiery as patriotically during this crisis as they did during the trying days of 1917 and 1918." The ladies auxiliary adopted the same resolution, action in both cases being unanimous.

Copies were immediately telegraphed to the members of the West Virginia delegation in the House and Senate. The veterans passed another resolution thanking Senator H. D. Hatfield for "The wonderful work you have done for the veterans during the extra session of Congress."

The encampment conducted memorial services today for members who have died during the last year.

Woodruff Sees 3,000 Jobs in New Parks

Col. James A. Woodruff, new director, stated yesterday at a farewell luncheon to his predecessor, Lieut. Col. U. S. Grant, 3d, that more than 3,000 employes of the Office of Public Buildings and Parks would be able to obtain jobs in the new national parks. It was his first address to his office force.

Belasco Estate Totals $1,616,835.22 in Court

New York, June 15 (A.P.).—David Belasco, theatrical producer, who died two years ago, left a gross estate of $1,616,835.22, it was disclosed in an accounting filed in surrogate's court today by the executors.

The inventory showed a depreciation of $428,084.13 in stocks and bonds held by the estate.

OUTDOOR DANCERS' FINESSE PLEASING

Fall Tinge Ignored as Band and Girls Perform at Monument.

Cofeaturing the United States Marine Band, under the direction of Capt. Taylor Branson, and the Evelyn Davis Dance Group, the Community Center Department presented at the Sylvan Theater last evening the second of the summer festivals, before an audience of some 1,500 who dared Old Man Boreas to offer anything that could compete with these two stellar organizations.

With the Marine Band offering the overture "Iphigenia" (Gluck), three dances from the "Nell Gwynn" suite (Gorman), the "Danse Rituelle du Feu" (deFalla), "Pas des Fleurs," from Delibes' ballet "Naila," and "Russian Ballet" (Luigini), between the dance group's offerings, said Boreas was left a mighty poor third.

Chief among the offerings of the dancers were "The Sea" (Sebelius), and "Midday" (Hadley), as the opening and closing numbers, accompanied by the Marine Band. The "Marche" (Prokofieff), with a distinct Slavic tang in costume and execution, and the "East Indian Nautch Dance" (Scott), together with "The Sea," were given their initial performances.

From the recital of three weeks ago came the "Valse Lente" (Debussy), "The Storm" (Wagner), "The Dance of the Masks" (Stevens), Miss Davis' interpretation of "Pan" (Boutelle), "Marching to Glory" (based on Negro spirituals), and "Threnody" (Pinckel).

The entire program proved the versatility and finesse of the dancers and the gifts of Miss Davis. The dancers included: Sarsa Bergling, Elisabeth Jenkins, Elsa Moody, Bell Ward, Cora Lancaster, Margaret Reed Kincannon, Betty DuPre, Ruth Hartung, Eleanor Bergling, Shirley Schafer, Bette Barton, Ruth Starratt, Patty Hughes, Ruth Hullings, Joyce Haynes, Jacqueline Embrey, Harriett Hildebrand, Theodora King, Alice Canter, Betty Wardwell. Miss Davis took part in some of the dances.

Miss Emma Louise Thompson directed the Roosevelt Glee Club. Martha McClelland Stevens, composer of the music for the mask number and arranger of the spirituals for the junior pupils' contribution, accompanied the group at the piano. Special commendation should be given Harold Snyder for his charming lighting effects, which added immensely to the opening "Sea" number and to "Threnody."

The Community Center Department will offer another program at the Sylvan Theater next Thursday.

Railroad Given Point In Condemnation Suit

Special to The Washington Post.

Annapolis, Md., June 15.—A jury of condemnation in Anne Arundel County Circuit Court today granted the Philadelphia, Baltimore & Washington division of the Pennsylvania Railroad the right to condemn eight-tenths of an acre of land near Severn, in the fourth district, property of Harry E. Redmilles and wife.

The jury awarded damages of $700. Officials of the railroad, it is understood, made a tender for that sum, but was forced into the condemnation action. The strip of land is desired in line with plans for electrification of the Pennsylvania Railroad from Washington to Baltimore.

Protestant Group Approves Budget

Denton, Md., June 15 (A.P.).—Reports of various church groups and the business of adopting a budget occupied the Maryland Annual Conference of the Methodist Protestant Church as it completed the second day of its session here today.

A church budget of $39,060 for next year, the same amount as last year's budget, was adopted.

The conference, which continues in session through Monday, is comprised of churches in New Jersey, Pennsylvania, Delaware, Virginia, West Virginia, Maryland and the District of Columbia.

Dover Pastor Elected Baltimore Synod Head

Frederick, Md., June 15 (A.P.).—The Rev. George A. Bursiem, of Dover, Del., today was elected moderator of the Baltimore Synod of the Presbyterian Church, which is in session here. He appointed the Rev. J. Paul Trout, Princess Anne, Md., vice moderator.

The synod, which comprises the Presbyteries of Baltimore, New Castle and Washington, and embraces Maryland, Delaware, the District of Columbia and part of Virginia, is to end its meeting tomorrow. The sessions are being held in Bond Chapel.

INTEREST RATE HELD INFLATION PLAN KEY

Dr. McGuire Describes Mean of Control at National Realty Meeting.

Special to The Washington Post.

Chicago, Ill., June 15.—Regulation of interest rates is the only means of controlling inflation, Dr. C. E. McGuire, of Washington, D. C., declared at a meeting of the National Association of Real Estate Boards here today.

By interest, Dr. McGuire explained, he does not mean only interest upon loans, fixed by contractural stipulations, but also interest upon capital investment which goes loosely by the name of profit, he said.

"The notion that interest rates must be left to the give and take of the market is hardly tenable at a time when every other important factor of economic life is being subjected to detailed and even drastic regulation," Dr. McGuire declared.

Predicting that a long period of inflation is ahead, he said: "The upswing in prices will continue for some time. The effectuation of the policies of control of industry will take some time. The full momentum of the first state of the inflation can hardly be developed until autumn, perhaps late autumn. But during the summer, it is reasonable to suppose that there will be a marked anticipatory upswing in prices, incidental to the revision of cost calculations, wage scales, freight rates, tariff duties and the like.

"The spiral of rising costs and rising prices will become more steep and its ascent more automatic and less bumpy as the year wears on. At the outset of this process it is to be expected that as prices rise, people will purchase homes for obvious reasons," Dr. McGuire said.

"The movement to and from cities during the next few years is likely to stimulate the turnover of property in a way that has not been characteristic of this business for half a dozen years," he explained. "Speculative development of the new sections and large-scale constructional ventures for office buildings or apartment house purposes are less likely to find encouragement, because of uncertainty of cost."

W. C. Miller, president of the National Association of Real Estate Boards, presided. Other speakers included Abram Garfield, of Cleveland, Ohio; Clifton R. Bechtel, chairman of the planning and zoning committee of the Chicago Real Estate Board; Delbert S. Wenzelich, of St. Louis, Mo.; Dr. A. Rose Hill, of Kansas City, Mo., and Cyrus Crane Willmore, of St. Louis.

Louie Meyer Unhurt In Car-Truck Crash

Pueblo, Colo., June 15 (A.P.).—Louie Meyer, winner of the Memorial Day automobile race at Indianapolis, drove all the way to Colorado to have an accident.

Here with his wife and child, en route to California, Meyer said a farmer drove a small truck into the new coupe that was one of his prizes for the Indianapolis victory.

Damage was slight and no one was hurt, Meyer said. The farmer, according to Meyer, offered him $2—all he had—to pay for nicking a fender.

"If I took it I'd be jinxed for life," Meyer told the farmer.

105 U. S. Commerce Agents Dismissed

London, June 15 (A.P.).—The United States Government's big economy knife fell with unexpected swiftness and firmness on the Department of Commerce offices in Europe today with a clean sweep of commercial attaches and dozens of other officials given one week's notice to sail for home.

Most of the 105 department officials abroad who are discharged, are in Europe.

Eight of eleven in the office were removed outright. One specialist was ordered to report in Washington. Resignations of the others are effective July 31, but all must sail on the liner George Washington on June 22, otherwise the Government will not pay the fares of the officials and their families.

An appeal was cabled to Washington for more time to dispose of leases on houses and for other reasons, but it brought the reply today that the ship reservations already are made and must be used or the discharged officials will have to pay their own fares.

Mayor of Kensington Heads State Firemen

Eugene C. Rainey, Mayor of Kensington, Md., was elected president of the Maryland Firemen's Association, in session at Westminister, Md., last night.

Rainey, a member of the Kensington Volunteer Fire Department, gained a margin of 20 votes over Noble Rushe, chief of the Hyattsville Volunteer Fire Department. The convention began Wednesday and will be continued through today.

R. F. & P. Offers Right of Way.

The Richmond, Fredericksburg & Potomac Railroad Co. has offered to sell its right of way on North Washington street extended to the City of Alexandria, provided the city will agree to removal of the company's tracks. The council has taken the matter under advisement, at the suggestion of Councilman Nicholas J. Lawler, of the Fourth Ward, and will consider the effect of the removal of the tracks on the business of a nearby store and warehouse.

Children Send 25 Cents For Kentucky Colonelcy

Frankfort, Ky., June 15 (A.P.).—Gov. Ruby Laffoon's office was mystified today by receipt of about 20 letters, with 25-cent pieces enclosed, from boys and girls in distant parts of the Nation asking that they be named Kentucky colonels.

The flow of letters was believed to have resulted from publication of a story recently that it costs the State about 25 cents, including the blue ribbon and postage, to commission a colonel.

The money is being returned to the senders.

ENGLAND MAY SEND DEBT MISSION HERE

Chamberlain Likely to Head Delegation Seeking Final Settlement.

London, June 15 (U.P.).—The British government, desiring to effect a speedy final settlement of the war debt question, probably will dispatch a debt commission to Washington early in August, it was learned semi-officially tonight.

Neville Chamberlain, chancellor of the exchequer, was prominently mentioned as the probable chairman of the commission, which possibly will include Sir Frederick Leith-Ross, economic adviser to the British government.

The government in the intervening weeks will proceed with preliminary negotiations through the British ambassador at Washington, Sir Ronald Lindsay, who has been handling the negotiations since last December.

The British indicated they expect to initial a new final debt settlement by the end of the year, after which it will be submitted to Congress for ratification.

Officials also told the United Press they would do their utmost at Washington to keep the total war debt sum in the new settlement within the limits of the amount of German reparations to England, thus avoiding the necessity of reopening the Lausanne reparations settlement.

The appointment of Chamberlain was not definite, and if Washington prefers the mission to be led by a treasury expert, Sir Frederick Leith-Ross presumably will be named. Chamberlain has been outspoken in his opposition to making any payment on the June instalment, met by a $10,000,000 "token payment" today.

Game Warden's Suit For Fees to Be Tried

A suit of Harry Johnson, State game warden, against the City Council of Alexandria, to recover $102.50 in fees for destroying 41 dogs between January 16 and April 19, will be heard before a jury in the corporation court next Tuesday, Judge William P. Woolls, presiding.

The State law, according to Warden Johnson, requires that dogs running at large be turned over to the warden, who is required to keep them for a certain length of time, endeavoring to get in touch with the owners, and if not redeemed, to destroy them and dispose of the bodies, for which he is paid a fee of $2.50 for each dog. The city council, however, has delegated this duty to a city employe, over the protest of Warden Johnson, who claims he has not been paid for services rendered.

Alexandria Orders Vault for Records

A contract for the construction of a fireproof vault, to be built in the Alexandria City Hall Building, and which is to contain the records of the city, has been awarded to D. E. Bayliss, contractor, at a cost of $1,383. The city council some time ago made an appropriation of not to exceed $1,400 for this work, the vault being recommended by the firm of accountants which recently audited the books of the city.

The vault will be built in the city auditor's office, beginning at the ground level and extending through the second floor, and will contain the records of the city collector and city treasurer, as well as those of the auditor. It was pointed out by the accountants that in case of fire the records would be endangered, and the city would doubtless lose a considerable amount in unpaid taxes and other uncollected items should the records be destroyed.

Tests for Montgomery Scholarships June 26

The Montgomery County Board of Education yesterday fixed 9:15 June 26 as the time for starting Montgomery County scholarship examinations. Harry Beall was appointed trustee of the Lewisdale School, in place of Leslie Beall, resigned. Resignations of William Moore, trustee of the Richison School, and John Harmon, trustee of the Montrose School, were accepted.

The board approved the recent sale at auction of the abandoned school at Sugarland to Archie Lee Pearson for $75 and the abandoned school at Buck Lodge to William O. Reil for $302 and rejected the highest bid of $50 for the Browningsville School. Proposal bids for the construction of the second unit of the Chevy Chase Elementary School were authorized by the board.

Lyon Park Picnic Is Set for Tonight

A promising event in Arlington County will be the "welcome picnic and entertainment" for newcomers to Lyon Park by the older residents to be staged in the park and community house this evening from 5 o'clock until midnight.

Frederick J. Burrows, chairman of the committee on games and athletic events announces the following contests:

Fifty-yard dash and 50-yard sack race, each in four sections, for boys under 10 and for boys from 10 to 14, and similar events for girls of the same ages as the boys. For women, 50-yard peanut race and baseball throwing contest. For men, marathon around the park square. For youngsters of all ages, a tug of war. Horseshoe pitching courses will be available.

First Lady Urges Women To Read Many Newspapers

The importance of women reading newspapers to keep abreast of national and international affairs was stressed yesterday by Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt at her last press conference until July.

Giving her own recipe for reading newspapers, Mrs. Roosevelt advised the busy woman to read several newspapers with opposite points of view and then draw their own conclusions.

"Everyone puts his own prejudices and own ideas into his interpretation of what public events mean, but he should at least see both sides. It is grand to read but not good to accept without thought. Too many people are asked to accept what others say without weighing and forming their own judgment," Mrs. Roosevelt said.

Mrs. Roosevelt urged American women to follow the London Economic Conference.

"This is a time when women have a special stake in watching what is happening in national and international affairs. Every woman should have a knowledge of what is going on at the economic conference because it does effect future settlement and amicable relations between the nations of the world."

Lions Pick Capital Man as Governor

Hagerstown, Md., June 15 (A.P.).—Arthur C. Smith, of Washington, today was elected governor of the twenty-second district of Lions Clubs at its annual meeting here, and Baltimore was selected for the 1934 convention. The convention came to a close tonight after a banquet and a ball at the Hagerstown Country Club.

William A. G. Fox, of Philadelphia, director of the Lions International, was the final speaker, taking as his subject "What the Lions Club Means to the Community."

At the afternoon session, which followed a picnic lunch near Boonsboro, reports were given by club presidents and committees and programs for the year were outlined.

The District Officers Association was organized, electing J. Raymond Pyles, of Anacostia, vice president, and Irving B. Yokelson, of Anacostia, secretary and treasurer. The governor is to serve as president.

Arlington Monarch Club Wins in Service Contest

Having been declared the winner in the community service contest among the 30 national Monarch Clubs, the Arlington County Monarch Club has received a bronze tablet.

Back from the national convention held at Durham, N. C., President Dr. Ernest R. Hagan and Joseph C. Anderson, local club delegates, reported on the convention. They said that the local club was highly commended for its service work during the past year. Mr. Anderson was elected a member of the board of trustees of the national organization for a period of four years.

Lands Youth in Toils Sans Pie as Baker Becomes Suspicious.

For sheer audacity this undoubtedly rates high, but fortune did not smile on the audacious.

Two young men with plenty of audacity yesterday are alleged to have attempted to give James Smackum, manager of a bake shop at 1401 Wisconsin avenue, a "stage" bill for $5 in payment for two pies. Smackum's suspicions were aroused when the bill was flipped to him, with the demand, "Change, please." Smackum, who evidently knows his stage money, at once recognized the bill as being the type of currency which actors and actresses toss around like it grew on bushes.

He called police and the two men, who identified themselves as Arthur N. Daly, 27, 1411 Thirty-sixth street northwest, and James E. Fox, 24, 1411 Wisconsin avenue, were taken into custody and charged with attempting larceny.

The Federal Diary

By GEORGE D. RILEY.

THERE is at the Agriculture Department a rather novel noontime club. Novel because its sessions are limited to 30 minutes—no more, no less. It is a horseshoe pitching organization, without constitution and without by-laws, other than a strict adherence to the "rules of the game." The membership meets daily at the east end of the main building, Twelfth street side. For the sake of the fastidious, it should be stated that the players are rigidly loyal to the Government lunch period and, immediately the 30 minutes expire, play ceases with stop-watch accuracy.

Bureau of Dairy Industry is considered the "father" of the noontime club, and the following employes may be seen almost daily in a "ringing" mood: C. J. Babcock, J. B. Parker, Ernest Kelly, Ralph P. Otis, J. G. Wincher and C. S. Trimble. Nelson A. Carr, division of accounts and disbursements, is often a fellow contestant, while Harry Goding, Animal Industry, law officer, is a now-and-then player.

Because of official demands, it is not convenient for Dr. M. C. Merrill, chief, Division of Publications, to be an affiliate of this group. He is, however, a spare-time devotee of the horseshoe sport and is admitted by his friends to be a player par excellence. He does, in common parlance, threw an "mean shoe," and causes an opponent to cringe as he crouches for position, swings his shoe-laden right arm gracefully, eyes the stake with rare precision, and uniformly pitches a "ringer" or deposes a leaning shoe.

At the meeting of Local No. 262, Treasury Department, N. F. F. E. delegates were elected to the National Convention in Kansas City, September 4. The delegates selected were: J. O. Burnham, president, local, who is chief of the files section, income tax unit, Bureau of Internal Revenue; Edward Graham, first vice president, an auditor in the Income Tax Unit, handling accounts in connection with the Alien Property Custodian, and Mrs. Ola G. King, third vice president and secretary of the hospital guild, employed in the division of loans and currency, Treasury Department. The following were elected alternates: Wilfred Offutt, chairman of the membership committee, employed in the Internal Revenue Bureau, Miss Mabel N. Matthias, vice president of the hospital guild of Local No. 262, in charge of the interest coupon control accounts unit of the Public Debt Service, and John W. Ginder, superintendent of the Architectural Engineering Division of the supervising architect's office. He is also president of the district federation of locals in the District of Columbia.

THEY saw him grow from a 3-week-old puppy. He sits on a bale of straw in front of a feed store on Tenth street. Some of the ladies who use the Internal Revenue Bureau, Tenth street entrance, have made a pet of him, and the dog receives much attention each day, by gifts of doggie crackers and chicken bones (not candy variety). Many eligible bachelors give the dog an envious and jealous look because he is petted by so many good-looking women. But who wants to be a dog.

Treasury Department Local, No. 262, N. F. P. E., at their June meeting showed grave concern over provisions of the President's executive order on reorganization of Government agencies. It was pointed out by Edgar Graham, presiding in the absence of President J. O. Burnham, that section 8 of the order consolidated the Bureaus of Industrial Alcohol and Internal Revenue and that under provisions of section 19 all personnel of the Bureau of Internal Revenue perhaps could be, if not actually would be, automatically separated from the service and only those whom the President approved retained.

Considerable discussion, led by John Ginder, left the question unsolved as to whether the reorganization order concealed a joker, or whether the administration intended to use this means to discharge a large number of employes under civil service, and to fill their places with outsiders.

It was recommended that the executive committee draft a strong resolution on preservation of the integrity of the principles of the national civil service, to be recommended to the national federation at the Kansas City convention.

Mr. Graham reported the District federation had invited all District locals to submit their resolutions intended for the national convention to it before July 15 for indorsement to the national.

The executive committee will consider provisions of the Executive order on reorganization, and to draft resolutions for presentation at the convention, and to refer them to the District federation for indorsement.

Miss Mabel Matthias was appointed as the local's representative on the District Federation's sports committee and the executive committee was instructed to designate the associate members from the major units of the local.

Leslie C. McNemar, associate editor, Federal News, for the District Federation, outlined the proposed organization for securing more complete presentation of the news through the Federal News and daily press.

Miss Matilda Lindsay, national organizer, having returned from a visit to another local, explained the present legislative situation and how national officers have tried to get the provision for voluntary retirement after 30 years retained in the independent offices bill and to protect members throughout the hectic days since March 4.

Tune: "I've Got a Little List."

(New words, also new tune.)

I've got a little list—I've got a little list of clerks that you'll take off my list; so fire them now I can't desist. They never will be missed—they never will be missed.

My children dear must be dismissed—they'll none of them be missed; so do it quick I do insist. Just kill 'em off if they resist, for it's economy, I wist—and they'll never be missed.

So here, Doug, is the grist of my little list, and it sure is some list; since they've no reason to exist, I've got 'em all upon my list—they'll all be upon my list.—By their loving Uncle Sam, slasher expertissimo. (Dedicated to Lew Douglas.)

MONDAY'S session, Food and Drugs-Chemistry and Soils Bridge League at the Roosevelt, directed by Mrs. Eugene Nolan, resulted in this order:

Mrs. F. C. Blanck and Lieut. Comd. W. A. Corley, first; Mrs. Mary Johnson and Dewitt Milligan, second; Frederick Munchmeyer and G. L. A. Ruehle, third, and Mrs. C. C. McDonnell and Leslie Hart, fourth. The next meeting will be June 26, open to all Agriculture Department employes and their families.

Miss Flossie A. Beck, auditor special advisory committee, Bureau of Internal Revenue, died suddenly Monday, June 12, while on a vacation near Asheville, N. C. She was a student at George Washington University, member of Esther Chapter, Eastern Star, Daughters of American Revolution and Ohio Girls' Society. Her associates in the bureau were shocked to hear of her death. Her home was at Windsor, Ill., and she resided at the Stratford Hotel in Washington.

14 HIGH STUDENTS GET SCHOLARSHIPS

Dr. Clinchy Is Speaker at Bethesda-Chevy Chase School Program.

Commencement exercises at the Bethesda-Chevy Chase High School last night were featured by an address by the Rev. Russell J. Clinchy, pastor of the Mount Pleasant Congregational Church, a program by the graduating class and the presentation of fourteen scholarships.

Dr. Clinchy was introduced by Margaret Walters, Haylett Shaw, president of the class, presided. Thomas C. Darby, president of the Montgomery County Board of Education, presented the diplomas. A Scripture reading was given by Austin Carlin and a farewell address by Isabella Counselman. Helen Sterling submitted a report from the scholarship of the Teachers Council.

Two violin solos were presented by Graceila Holiday. The program presented by the senior class was the result of a year's work on the project of "Finding One's Place in High School—a Preparation for Life Through Living."

Miss Jane Heineken, secretary of the class, gave a resume of the class project and introduced three members of the class, Miss Susan Griesemer, Margaret Courtney and Neal Potter.

The fourteen scholarships consisted of the following: Four-year course at George Washington University, to Isabella Counselman; four-year course at Washington School of Physical Education, Doris Ryon and Lois Molyneux; two half scholarships for two years each, to Margaret Courtney and Haylett Shaw; four-year course at Brenau College, Gainesville, Ga., to Harriette Hartnett; full tuition for one year at Western Maryland College, Westminster, to Martha Fitts; freshman-year course at William and Mary College, Williamsburg, Va., to Eleanor Bishop; three-year course at Strayer Business College, to Robert Ragan; freshman scholarship at Oberlin College, to Neal Potter; three-year law course at Southeastern University, to Austin Carlin; one-year business administration course at Benjamin Franklin University, to Benton Strickler, and freshman tuition at William and Mary College, to Charlotte Smith and Carolyn Upp.

Quarrel Blamed In Double Killing

Special to The Washington Post.

Annapolis, Md., June 15.—An inquest conducted by Police Justice Leslie L. Disney of the Fourth District, Anne Arundel County tonight, was unable to fix definitely circumstances in the deaths of Private Alonzo Diez, 40, of the Thirty-fourth Infantry, United States Army, and his wife, although it is generally believed they were murder and suicide, as a result of a shooting at their bungalow, a short distance from the Fort George G. Meade reservation.

Trooper Diez had been assigned to duty at the Meade post for three years. The shooting occurred at 8 o'clock last night, and is thought to have been the result of a quarrel. Officials in charge of the Meade camp said Mrs. Diez had been shot in the head and also the leg. Diez also had a bullet wound in his head. Neighbors heard the disturbance and notified post officials who investigated. The lifeless body of Mrs. Diez was found on the front steps of the bungalow. Diez was unconscious when picked up on the floor of the house. He died three hours later.

Fair Exhibit Is Planned By Chillum Study Club

At a recent meeting of the Chillum District Study Club, in session at the home of Mrs. J. Enos Ray, Chillum, Md., a committee, consisting of eight members, was appointed to prepare the club's annual exhibit at the Marlboro Fair to be held in August.

The committee consists of Mrs. Nina Tiozet, Mrs. Alta Madden, Mrs. Jerry Johnson, Mrs. Bernard Moffett, Mrs. Perry Boswell, Mrs. O. Cecil Sipes, Mrs. A. A. Vaughn and Mrs. Ruby Nixon. The meeting, the last of the year, also heard a report from Mrs. Ray on the recent meeting of the Prince Georges County Woman's Club at Laurel.

Court Names Viewers For Proposed Ferry

O. H. Kirk, J. F. Chauncey and Benedict Weil have been appointed by Judge William P. Woofls, of the corporation court of Alexandria, as "viewers" of the property of the Alexandria Ferry Co., in its application for a franchise to operate a line between Reardon's Wharf, in Alexandria, and Shepherd's Landing, on the Maryland side of the Potomac. They are to report to the court on whether the proposed ferry will be a public convenience.

The ferry will be capable of transporting 14 automobiles and 50 passengers, and will greatly shorten the distance between Alexandria and southern Maryland points.

Virginians Seek Tests Before Auto Deadline

Service stations in Alexandria designated to conduct State inspection of automobiles as required by Virginia law were crowded yesterday and last night with last-minute applicants for the inspection.

Persons operating automobiles after midnight last night without the required State seal on the windshield will be subject to arrest and fine. The inspection is made without charge, except for necessary adjustments.

"Good Samaritan" Held as Fugitive

Special to The Washington Post.

Cumberland, Md., June 15.—Doing the "good Samaritan" act toward Capt. Clarence Homan, United States Army, resulted indirectly in the arrest of Clarence Uphold, alias Shelly, 30, who is in jail here awaiting the arrival of Ohio authorities.

According to the officers, Uphold admitted that he escaped last Saturday from the State Reformatory at Mansfield, Ohio, where he was serving a sentence for the theft of an automobile. He fled in a stolen car and at Akron, Ohio, he stole another, according to an admission, the authorities say he made, coming to Cumberland.

Capt. Homan was en route late yesterday from Waynesboro, Pa., to Rockwood, Pa., to assume command of a conservation camp when he lost control of his car, going over an eight foot embankment. Uphold, who was passing, brought him to Memorial Hospital here. Uphold later drove away from a gasoline station at Cresaptown, this county, without paying for gasoline, and word was sent out to apprehend him.

Wife of Congress Member Expires

Harrisburg, Pa., June 15 (A.P.).—Mrs. Lena Erb Doutrich, wife of Representative I. H. Doutrich, of the Nineteenth Pennsylvania District, died suddenly last night. Death occurred at the home of her daughter, Mrs. D. Batley Brandt, jr.

(Associated Press.)

Flags on the House Office Building were lowered to half-staff today in respect to the "death" of Representative Doutrich, of Pennsylvania—and then it was learned it was Mrs. Doutrich and not the representative who had died.

The death of the representative was announced by his office. A secretary later explained she must have been so excited that she misunderstood while talking over the telephone to Harrisburg, Pa. Kenneth Romney, House sergeant at arms, had started arrangements for an official funeral at Harrisburg Saturday before the truth was learned here.

Bad Luck

Trails Wildcat Tamer as He Forfeits Bond on Massage Count.

Dr. Aubrey G. Miller, who went on to Nation-wide fame when he took up the unenviable task of becoming the only bare-handed wildcat tamer in the city, yesterday forfeited $10 in Police Court on a charge of massaging a patient without a license.

His wife, Mrs. Joan Miller, likewise forfeited $10 on the same accusation, but was released from a second charge when prosecution officials decided that the charge would probably not stand up in court.

After his venture with the ocelot in the Zoo Sunday, Dr. Miller again drew upon himself some more luck—all bad—when two plain-clothes men went to his home on Thirteenth street and allegedly procured two massages. It is necessary in the District to have a license for such an institution, and the doctor, police claimed, had none.

His wife likewise was found to be unlicensed and she was also arrested. The charge of taking the ocelot will come up next week as will also the intoxication accusation, both of which were placed against Dr. Miller Sunday.

New Federal Judge Post Likely.

The House yesterday approved, 113 to 8, a Senate bill authorizing appointment of an additional Federal circuit judge for the Ninth (Pacific Coast) Circuit. The measure now goes to the White House.

Whistle Wins Convict Try for His Freedom

Joliet, Ill., June 15 (A.P.).—The referee for the Stateville Prison football team ran out of bounds last night, but the play was called over. Today he was trying his luck at solitaire.

Because of his mastery of the whistle, Earl Morse, a convicted robber, was elected referee of the prison squad. He had noticed that a certain guard, when going off duty, would blow his whistle, the gate would swing open, he would get into his car and drive away.

Morse posted himself near the gate last evening and blew an authoritative snort on his referee's whistle. The gates swung wide, and out walked Convict Morse.

Fortunately for law and order, a guard was waiting outside. Then Morse marched back in, to a solitary cell.

Secret Service Bares Plot To Smuggle Arms to Cuba

Agents Find Evidence on Couple Arrested in Georgia on Charges of Circulating Counterfeit Money Indicating Airplane Transportation of Munitions.

(Associated Press.)

The discovery of a plan by which arms and ammunition were alleged to have been smuggled into Cuba by airplane was disclosed here yesterday by Secret Service agents who last Saturday arrested Angel Roderiques and his wife, Sadie, in Augusta, Ga., on charges of circulating counterfeit money.

W. H. Moran, chief of the United States Secret Service, in announcing the arrest said evidence had been found on Roderiques to indicate that he had participated in sending the munitions to Cuba from Miami, Fla., by air.

This evidence Moran said had been turned over to the Department of Justice for action.

Roderiques and his wife also were known as Ralph and Sadie Rena and she was said also to have been known as Sadie Waxman. She was said to have lived formerly in Cincinnati.

She and Roderiques also had lived in New York City and their associations there are being traced by the Secret Service.

Moran said the two were arrested after they had passed counterfeit money and that bogus one dollar silver certificates and $10 Federal Reserve notes were said to have been found in their possession.

Moran also said they had a large amount of morphine in their possession and this phase of their case had been reported to the Narcotic Bureau.

McBride Assails Wet Vote Tactics

(Associated Press.)

In a reply yesterday to Postmaster General Farley's assertion he believed Southern States would vote wet, F. Scott McBride, superintendent of the Antisaloon League, said he was convinced the only "danger" to repeal in the South was by outside political pressure "through party organization."

"If Mr. Farley believes that sentiment in the South is wet," Mr. McBride said in a statement, "will he permit this sentiment to be expressed without coercion by the political machinery which he controls?

"I have just returned from Alabama, where I conferred with dry leaders from eight Southern States. It is my conviction that the only danger of repeal in any of the Southern States is the outside threat of political pressure through party organization."

Navy Board Considers 2 Promotions July 17

A selection board of the Navy will convene on July 17 to recommend two officers of the Medical Corps of the Navy for promotion to the rank of rear admiral in that corps to fill the vacancies which will result from the retirement of Rear Admiral Charles E. Riggs and Rear Admiral Arthur White Dunbar on October 1.

Rear Admiral Riggs will be president of the board, which will be composed of Rear Admiral Charles P. Kindleberger, president of the Naval Retiring Board, and Rear Admiral Arthur W. Dunbar, with Lieut Comdr. John Harper serving as recorder.

Meat Packers Seeking Modification of Decree

(Associated Press.)

Reports have reached Attorney General Cummings that meat packers are contemplating a new move to obtain modification of the consent decree preventing them from dealing in wholesale groceries and other lines not related to the packing house industry.

Cummings said he had heard reports that overtures were to be made soon by the packers and expected some communication yesterday, but it was not forthcoming.

A. A. A. MAPS FIGHT ON HIGH AUTO TAXES

31st Annual Convention to Open This Morning at Willard Hotel.

Plans for opposing additional motorist taxes will be made at the thirty-first annual convention of the American Automobile Association convening this morning for a two-day session at the Willard Hotel.

Other convention keynotes will be demands for more attention to the elimination of traffic hazards, wider acceptance of legislation for the control of reckless drivers and the annual election of officers.

In view of the recently added $62,000,000 a year in gasoline taxes to the $200,000,000 in Federal excise levies already paid annually by motorists and the threatened "imposition" of $30,000,000 in motor taxes in New York City, the convention will draft a definite program to fight further "tax exploitation" of car owners.

Opposition to any new tax levies will be led by Thomas P. Henry, of Detroit, president, and the several hundred leaders in the motor club movement from United States and Canada who will attend the convention.

Speaking on the present motor tax situation, Mr. Henry declared that during the recent sessions of 46 State Legislatures "no less than 14 authorized drastic reductions in automobile registration fees," and that "others promptly killed proposals for boosts in gasoline tax rates," to check the steady decline in motor tax revenues and the number of motor vehicles in use.

"Despite this widespread effort to lower taxes, and in the face of a decline of some 1,600,000 in the number of motor vehicles registered throughout the country in 1932 and a drop of more than $23,000,000 in State receipts from the gasoline tax, Congress has resorted to new levies on the already overburdened motorists," Mr. Henry said.

Mrs. Roosevelt Planning To Visit Music Festival

(Associated Press.)

Tentative plans for attending White Top Mountain music festival were announced yesterday for Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt.

The First Lady emphasized that the plans were tentative, since she does not wish to disappoint any one in case it is found impossible for her to attend.

She said, however, that she hoped to go, because of a very special interest in White Top Mountain, where the Douglas Robinson family once owned land. Her own father, Elliott Roosevelt once lived at Abingdon.

Capital Man Held On Theft Charge

Farmville, Va., June 15 (A.P.).—Police here today arrested a man giving the name of R. T. Rush, Washington, D. C. He was arrested on charges of having in his possession stolen property.

Police said they suspected jewelry in his possession as that reported several days ago stolen from Jack Onslow, manager of the Richmond Piedmont League Baseball Team.

The man was accompanied by his wife, who was not arrested. Officers said the man attempted to pawn a watch, a gold baseball fob and other articles inscribed with Onslow's name.

The man gave his address as 418 Washington avenue northwest, Washington, D. C.

STATE SCORES POINT IN KIDNAPING CASE

Kenneth Buck's 'Confession' Considered; Attack Now Switched to Brother.

Barnstable, Mass., June 15 (A.P.).—The State switched its attack to Cyril Buck in the McMath kidnaping case in Barnstable superior court today, having scored its first important triumph in effecting the inclusion as evidence of an alleged confession of Kenneth Buck.

The Buck brothers are being tried for the kidnaping of Margaret (Peggy) McMath, 10-year-old Harwichport child who was taken from her schoolroom through a ruse on May 2, to be returned May 5 after $60,000 in ransom had been paid. The ransom later was recovered in the home of Kenneth.

An alleged "confession" which had been received by State police officials in a room of Superior Court here on the day Kenneth was arrested, was adjudged inadmissible as evidence yesterday because of certain "promises" and other statements made to the accused man prior to "confession."

Today, however, a series of statements which were given to Chief Emulous E. Hall, of Harwich, in the presence of Lawrence Buck, brother of Kenneth; William J. Ellis, a brother-in-law; Sheriff Lauchlan Crocker and a stenographer were allowed to be read into the records as evidence after a preliminary hearing in which Kenneth's defense exhausted its legal repertoire in an attempt to prevent it.

The latter "confession" was more complete and, it was testified, ironed out several discrepancies that had been noted in previous admissions of Kenneth. The statement was asserted to have been made without compulsion and in it, Kenneth absolved any one else of implication in the actual abduction.

Later today the State introduced a transcript of what Cyril had told authorities aboard the base ship at Woods Hole, the night the child and her father, Neil C. McMath, were found secluded aboard the cruiser Bob in Wychmere Harbor in Harwichport. Cyril is charged with "confining and extortion," while Kenneth, besides these charges, is accused of seizing the child.

These statements of Cyril, as read by Chester Wright, police stenographer, quoted him as saying he first heard of the kidnaping the day after the child was taken.

G. A. R. COMMANDER DIES AT CONVENTION

Capt. W. P. Wright Had Just Told Comrades He Would Be Alive in 1950.

Pittsburgh, June 15 (A.P.).—His faded blue coat and peaked Union cap hung neatly by the bedside, Capt. William P. Wright, national commander of the G. A. R., died in his sleep early today, not many hours after predicting he would be one of only two old veterans alive in 1950.

Physicians summoned to his hotel room after the Civil War veteran failed to arrive for breakfast, said he died from a heart attack. He was 88 years old.

The G. A. R. leader, who commanded Company D, 156th Illinois Infantry, while still in his teens, arrived from his Chicago home yesterday for the annual encampment of the Pennsylvania G. A. R.

Addressing his erstwhile comrades in arms at their traditional camp-fire meeting last night, Capt. Wright, in a few jerky sentences, said statistics indicated only two of the old warriors would be alive in 1950.

"I'll bet I'll be one of them," he said as gleams and shadows from the fire flickered about his erect form.

His death had a sobering influence on the annual meeting, which ended today.

THE PUBLIC SERVICE.

The extra session of Congress comes to an end, after three months of record making passage of important laws. The making of laws is one part of the problem of government.

More important than the writing of statutes is the administration of measures enacted. Whatever the difficulty may be in making laws, those familiar with the processes of government agree that administration is an even greater problem. How to establish and maintain an honest and efficient personnel in the public service has baffled statesmen ever since the modern state was established.

In order to obtain a higher standard of administration two principles have been recognized. One, that boards or commissions exercising important administrative powers should be bi-partisan in character. The other is that the great body of Government employes in the executive departments should be protected by Civil Service rules and regulations. Those employes who under ordinary conditions accept considerably less than the prevailing commercial rate for similar employment should be compensated by definite security in their positions, provided they are faithful and efficient.

Provision is made for abolishing existing agencies of the Government under the economy and reorganization program. The positions of thousands of efficient Federal workers are thus placed in jeopardy, while new positions not specifically placed under the Civil Service permits the party in power to reward partisanship, rather than the record of faithful service.

Even so good a friend of the administration as Walter Lippmann, in his column published yesterday, manifests concern over the partisanship displayed in recent appointments to some of the important government organizations. But the disposition to impair the integrity of the Civil Service by putting more employes under the influence of political considerations is just as great if not a greater menace. It certainly involves larger numbers of Government employes.

In the preoccupation attendant upon the consideration of spectacular measures and of fundamental economic and financial affairs at home and all over the world, it would be a pity if the sound principles of bi-partisanship in important governmental bodies, maintained by both parties during the past twenty years, should now be abandoned. It would be an even greater pity from the standpoint of maintaining a competent Federal administration, if the safeguards and security guaranteed by the Civil Service were to be undermined.

THE PRESIDENT'S VACATION.

With the adjournment of Congress the President will depart for the New England coast for a brief vacation. He has earned a respite from the strenuous days and nights of labor that have occupied his time continuously since taking office. One measure after another requiring prompt decision and carrying momentous importance for the Nation has demanded his attention.

President Roosevelt plans to sail along the coast of Massachusetts and Maine in a little two-master, and be his own navigator. He loves to take the wheel on salt water, in the midst of a family party. His sons and secretaries will be his company. The Amberjack will be followed by a press boat for correspondents, who will keep the world informed of the Chief Executive's movements and experiences.

The scene of the contemplated cruise is not a new one to Mr. Roosevelt by any means. Otherwise, navigating among the islands, inlets and many contrary currents of the Maine coast might be a more hazardous undertaking. He negotiated it first when only fourteen years old in his first birthday boat. The itinerary of the President takes him as far north as Campobello Island. For the return trip he will board the cruiser Indianapolis for a speed run trial to the mouth of the Potomac, where he will transfer to a destroyer for the run to the Navy Yard at Washington.

The good wishes of the Nation and Washingtonians particularly will go with the President on his well-deserved vacation, with the hope that he will return refreshed in mind and body.

STATES MUST HELP.

A timely warning was given to governors and State relief administrators who assembled in Washington to learn of the administration's plan for handling the $500,000,000 Federal relief fund. President Roosevelt told the group that the States and local communities must do their share toward financing relief projects. It is the intention of the Federal Government merely to cooperate with local agencies.

Since Congress decided to make direct grants to the States there has been a tendency to abandon local efforts to care for the unemployed. States that formerly took pride in their self-reliance are now sending representatives to Washington to make certain that they obtain as large a share as possible of the Federal relief fund. Congress tried to avoid reaction of this kind by providing that part of the $500,000,000 should be apportioned on the basis of funds already spent within the States forerelief purposes. Nevertheless, there is a tendency to let Uncle Sam take care of the unemployed so far as he is willing to do so.

President Roosevelt emphasized the necessity of continued activity upon the part of the States. "It is essential," he said, "that the States and local units of government do their fair share. They must not expect the Federal Government to finance more than a reasonable portion of the total." He urged that a competent agency be set up in each State to administer relief.

The appropriation of so large a sum from the Federal Treasury for relief purposes in the States can be justified only if it is supplemented by local efforts to meet the grave problem of unemployment. It would be a pity indeed if this fund should break down the self-reliance of the States.

One other phase of the President's appeal to the governors is worthy of note. "While an important factor in setting up a public works program is speed," he said, "there is no intention of using the public works funds simply to build a lot of useless projects disguised as relief." Communities often find that construction undertaken to create jobs is a waste of money. Haste in making plans usually results in ill-considered projects which may become a permanent burden upon taxpayers. The President's warning in this respect might well be carried to every State capital and to every municipal hall.

THE REPEAL PROCESSION.

Dry sentiment anticipated no other result than defeat in the vote on repeal in Massachusetts, but the overwhelming decision against the eighteenth amendment exceeded the hopes even of the wets. The Bay State balloting was more than 4 to 1 in favor of repeal and in Boston the vote was 10 to 1. Eleven States have now recorded their opposition to continuing Constitutional prohibition.

Opposition dry forces are still counting heavily upon holding a sufficient number of traditionally dry southern States to stem the tide. Postmaster General Farley, who has assumed the duty of carrying the executive plea for prompt consideration of repeal by all States to all parts of the Nation, contends that dry sentiment no longer rules the south and he is already predicting a reversal in three States. Five more States are yet to vote on repeal this month—New Hampshire, Iowa and Connecticut on June 20, and California and West Virginia on June 27.

Of these contests the greatest interest naturally centers in Iowa. Here will come the first real test of sentiment in a State that has not only supported its own stringent anti-liquor laws, but has been a leader in prohibition sentiment for generations, particularly among the preponderant rural population. While prohibition organizations are active in a campaign to have the State break the wet landslide and be recorded against repeal, the anti-prohibition forces are making no concessions. They point to the legalization of beer in Iowa as an indication of a changing spirit in accord with the other States that have voted to repeal the eighteenth amendment.

SECRETARY HULL'S ADDRESS.

Secretary Hull gave the World Economic Conference an eloquent lecture on internationalism, and made a remarkable plea for altruism among nations. "All nations," he said, "have strenuously pursued the policy of economic isolation, each futilely and foolishly striving to live a hermit's life." The reason why each nation prefers to go its own way is incomprehensible to Mr. Hull. But he seemed to realize that he was pleading for a hopeless cause when he admitted that "at the present time there does not exist a sufficiently informed public opinion in support of a necessary program of international cooperation."

The differing standards of living make it difficult to merge the interests of nations. India lives on one economic level; Japan on another, and the United States on still another. These countries produce some commodities which Americans need and can not well supply for themselves. In turn they have need of goods produced in this country. Such trade moves between them with very little interference, except in times of great emergency when artificial impediments are set up to protect currencies, to raise revenue, or for similar purposes. But Japan also duplicates thousands of the articles that are made in this country for domestic consumption. Because of her excess population and cheap standard of living Japan manufactures these goods with 10-hour-per-day labor at very cheap wages. The elimination of trade barriers, for which Secretary Hull pleads so earnestly, would give Japan a great opportunity to supply the American market with goods that should be manufactured in this country by Americans.

The wide differences between economic conditions in this country and many others put a sharp limitation upon the field in which commercial intercourse is profitable. The United States has never shut its doors to world trade. It has purchased what it needs abroad, and sold what it could in other countries. The best interests of the American people will not permit broad deviation from that policy. Removal of unnecessary barriers to the movement of goods and capital is greatly to be desired, but that does not obviate the need for protection of economic standards against foreign exploitation.

The ideal to be sought is satisfactory exchange of goods on a mutually profitable basis, and not a mad scramble by all nations to exploit the domestic markets of their neighbors.

Here's hoping that Capt. Roosevelt, skipper of the Amberjack, will have as smooth sailing off the Maine coast as he has had in Washington.

Some Congressmen returning home are apt to find that the veterans are not too disabled to tear down fences.

The heads of national delegations in London, having agreed in principle, will now proceed to disagree in detail.

Soviet Russia offers to take $1,000,000,000 worth of goods from anybody who cares to give them away.

The Senate reserves the right to hold 96 separate opinions on the debt question.

BRAIN PHENOMENA

From the Readers' Digest.

A physician at Cleveland, Ohio, removed the right half of a woman's brain two years ago because she was suffering from epileptic fits and fearful headaches due to a tumor. The woman is still alive and has fully recovered her health. It is possible for a person to get along without the right half of the brain, but not without the left half, because the left half contains the centers for speech and writing and governs the right side of the body. At least 10 per cent of all cases of insanity are due to brain injuries.

Just behind your forehead are the frontal lobes with which you do your thinking. In the back part of the brain is located the center of sight. A tumor or injury here causes blindness. The lobe of the brain near the ear governs hearing. On the flat surfaces where the two hemispheres almost come together are the centers of smell and taste. We hear words with one part of the brain; see words with another part and speak words with a third.

Strange things occur when any of these centers are disturbed. In one instance, a professor who used Latin and Greek fluently was struck on the head in an accident. When he recovered he had forgotten every word of these languages. The cells of the brain in which they were stored had been permanently injured by the blow while the rest of the gray matter remained normal.

In another case, a little artery that supplies blood to a small area in the visual region of a patient's brain became plugged. Overnight she became as illiterate as an Australian bushman. She could see perfectly, but she could not read a word. She had been struck by word blindness, a rare brain affliction which prevents the recognition of words when seen in type. Similarly, when another center of the brain is injured word deafness results. Hearing is acute, but spoken words mean nothing. In one small patch of gray matter hardly larger than a nickel is stored every word we know.

CAMERA VS. EYE

No camera has the adaptability of the human eye. A man may walk out on a moonlit night and see things so distinctly that he will exclaim, "Why, it seems as bright as day." He would scarcely believe that sunlight is almost half a million times brighter than the best moonlight. Yet if he tried to photograph the scene with the best camera, he would have to make an exposure of at least half an hour. The same picture by day would take a fraction of a second. The working range of the human eye is almost unbelievable. Man can see the glow of a star of the second magnitude on a piece of white paper and can look at the piece of paper illuminated by sunlight, which is three hundred thousand million times brighter.

Again in the field of color contrast the eye is markedly more efficient than the camera. On a violet ground, to which the eye is relatively insensitive, it requires an exposure of a minute to photograph a line visible to a man at a glance. For green light photography it takes an exposure of 30 hours to record a line visible to the eye in a fraction of a second. In red and yellow the eye shows little advantage, but an exposure of fifteen minutes is necessary for blue light visible at once to the eye. Dark lines on a black background are far more easily recorded by the eye.

ORIENTAL MUSIC PASSING

That modern radio broadcasting, sound movies and gramophone are slowly but surely killing Oriental music is the statement made by Mlle. Yvonne Jolie de Lotbiniere, Parisian musician and incoming Oriental traveler, says the American Mail Line.

"Asiatic music, particularly Chinese, is intimately associated with the customs and habits of the people," states Mlle. de Lotbiniere. "Those habits and customs are gradually disappearing by reason of increasing contacts with Occidentals and consequently native music; both the creation and the practice of it, is disappearing too. An effort is now being made at Shanghai not only to stem this loss but to encourage Chinese music into broader symphonic channels."

INFLATION AND THE WIFE.

I've given up! All hope is vain
And 'tis the sorrow of my life,
I have no words which can explain
Inflation to my lovely wife.
No speech have I at my command
To end these strange domestic scenes,
And get my wife to understand
Precisely what inflation means.

I've tried a dozen times or more
To tell her what it's all about,
And still she questions as before
And still she shakes her head in doubt.

"The times are out of joint! Oh, spite,"
As Shakespeare said. This intervenes,
Now I must struggle every night,
Explaining what inflation means.

I've given up! Too great the task
And yet tonight I know again,
At supper time she'll smile and ask
If I can make inflation plain.

The Ass That Wore a Lion's Skin Was Still Easy Prey for the Lion's Cubs.

By ROBERT QUILLEN

ONE of my neighbors died a few days ago of cardiac asthma at the age of 64.

Though bent a little with the weight of years, he stood six feet six in his shoes and weighed close to 18 stone. Like other large men, he was grave and deliberate, slow of speech and slow to anger. He laughed heartily, but seldom smiled. His speech was equally flawless and clean in all companies, his honor was unquestioned, and his unfailing dignity gave other men a new respect for their race.

When he was buried, neighbors asked one another the usual and inevitable question: "How much did he leave his family?"

Few people know the correct answer and it is set down here for the first time. He bequeathed to his four children incalculable wealth.

He gave them intelligent minds and sound bodies, steady nerves and tranquil spirits, self-respect, independence, good manners, high standards, the habit of obedience, courage and a capacity for happiness.

No prince ever received a greater inheritance.

Oh, yes, you will say; very pretty idealism, but not practical.

You are mistaken. By any measure of values you may use, this inheritance is worth more than any other.

Which boy will fare better in the long run, one who inherits a considerable sum of money but has no ability to make more, or one who inherits no money but is trained to earn it?

There are rich men's sons who do well, but much money is a handicap that none but well-disciplined and exceptionally intelligent youngsters can survive without hurt.

If influence rather than ability makes a young man superintendent of a factory, he usually fails. The ability to handle a job is acquired only by working up to it.

That is equally true of money. The strength to keep it and use it wisely is acquired only by earning it. Inherited authority to lead the army can't make the prince a great soldier.

The poorest of fathers can give his son the equipment of which success and decent manhood are made. And money won't save one who hasn't that equipment.

Which would you prefer for yourself: the money to buy a great painting or the ability to paint more like it?

POLITICAL COMMENT

More Credit.

Boston Transcript.

Now the Reconstruction Finance Corporation offers a lower interest rate on its immense outstanding loans. By this step the R. F. C. moves into line with the policy currently adopted by the Federal Reserve banks of New York and Boston in reducing their discount rates. Thus, according to high authority, the signals are set as a "come-on" to industry, encouraging business men to expand their activities by the use of credit whereever a sound basis for such expansion exists. This is what the country needs today. Even as charity begins at home, so confidence, in financial matters, not only should, but must, begin at the top. Unless bankers and governmental officials in places of leading responsibility are prepared to adopt policies of faith and assurance, it is idle to hope that the Nation, as a whole, will move forward.

From President to President.

Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Recently the President of the United States sent a friendly greeting to the President of Andorra. The news is interesting as indicating Mr. Roosevelt's broad geographical knowledge, for Andorra is barely visible on a large-scale map. Recently the oligarchic form of Andorran government was changed, by a one-day bloodless revolution, into an up-to-date democracy, and Mr. Roosevelt doubtless felt it was fitting for the greatest republic to congratulate the littlest.

Four Power Peace Pledge.

Minneapolis Journal.

The world gains one more asseveration of peaceful desire in the initialing of the Mussolini four-power pact by France, Germany, Great Britain and Italy. It may be just another pronouncement, just another gesture, and yet it carries its benefits. The four powers pledge themselves to keep the peace of Europe for ten years. That is little more than some of them had done, though less definitely, at Locarno. But they commit themselves as to matters that might endanger peace, and that is something more than all had accomplished heretofore, in concert.

The Taxpayer Is Hardened.

Kansas City Times.

A few groups that have not been remembered in the administration's broad program of relief for the forgotten man are now beginning to make feeble complaints. The taxpayers comprise perhaps the largest of these neglected groups. They are not to have relief, but more of the same. The only thing that can be said for the taxpayer is that he is accustomed to the situation and has been given just so much stamina by virtue of the long endurance test. His reward must be the consciousness of a job well done, even overdone, but through no fault of his own. He, in fact, is the great reliever of practically everybody else. Government everywhere merely serves as his ready agent, working on a commission basis.

THE ONCE OVER

By H. I. PHILLIPS

THE ECONOMIC CONFERENCE

In a geological museum in London the world is trying to solve the problem of saving 66 men in one life-preserver.

• • • •

They call it the World Monetary and Economic Congress, but it is really a mass meeting of the world's Needy Cases to find out if even poverty can make the nations of the earth show any common sense.

• • • •

The conference opened without any marked disorders, and the fact that it has lasted this long without any riots is encouraging.

• • • •

Never before in world history have 66 nations even reached a congress without heavy fighting all along the way.

• • • •

Of course, the management was very cautious. All the delegates were asked to leave their small arms at the door, and it was expressly stipulated in the souvenir programs that fist fights between delegates must not take place during radio broadcasts.

• • • •

One of the first things done was to name a steering committee. Sixteen nations were named on this committee, including Great Britain, Germany, the Soviet Union, France, Czechoslovakia, Japan, the Netherlands, China and the United States. It looks like a thrilling ride in all directions.

• • • •

America consented to steer, but only as a back-seat driver.

• • • •

A committee on credentials was also appointed very early. This consists of Augusto da Asconcellos, of Portugal; Hafez Afifi Pasha, of Egypt; Diogenes Escalante, of Venezuela, and two unnamed bouncers, said to be members of the Dutch Schultz gang.

• • • •

The duties of the credentials committee at this conference are very delicate. The committee has to see that all the delegates have their sleeping papers.

• • • •

Many delegates tried to get in on the sleeping papers they used at Lausanne and Geneva, but the committee was stern. It ruled that these delegates had had all the sleep they were entitled to at the other peace and economic conferences and must stand aside and let some people sleep who could appreciate it.

• • • •

After a delegate has slept through two or three conferences he begins to get restless and wants to stay awake. This makes him practically useless in any world gathering to discuss momentous questions and arrive at no important decision on anything.

JUST A RELIEF MEASURE.

The birth rate in the United States continues to decline at an alarming pace. Maybe the thought of what parents have to endure during those children's hours on the radio is to blame.

BABIES, JUST NO BABIES!

Fewer babies were born in this country last year than at any time in history, in proportion to the population. It is easy enough to explain. There was not room enough for children, with a dog, two golf bags, a lunch hamper, cocktails, the outboard motor, the tennis equipment and the portable radio in the back seat. The folks had to give up something.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR.

American Woman Abroad Cites German Conditions Resulting From Inflation.

To the Editor of The Post—Sir: I am in that class of women that inflation would effect. If my income is swept away the only thing for me to do is to pass out. There are some people who can not accept charity, and I am one of them.

It seems strange that the United States can not learn from the tragedies that followed inflation in Germany and France. A prominent German recently remarked that Germany lost more through inflation than she did from the war. I have been in Germany for several months and the heart-breaking tales one hears of people losing their entire fortune are numerous. There are thousands of suicides and lives are still being taken from that cause. The same wave of suicide will follow in the United States.

An elderly woman from a formal wealthy German family, reduced to earn her own living, told me she and her friends never discussed the source of their incomes and neither do they save any money, because of lack of confidence in the government. They never know what the morrow will bring to them. What about the "forgotten woman" in the States?

Today I received a little over 80 cents on the dollar—21 francs plus 50 centimes—in exchange. The Travelers Bank on Rue de la Paix pays more in exchange than any other bank I know of here in Paris. American travelers are scarce over here and I am on my way home.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Everett Rapley and their small granddaughter, Mary Rapley, have gone to their summer home at Kennebunkport, Me., for the summer. Mr. William W. Rapley, son of Mr. and Mrs. Rapley, who is spending the week-end with them, will return to Washington by motor the first of the week, and will be at the Chevy Chase Club for the summer.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Addams, of New York City, who have been spending a short time at Wardman Park Hotel, have been joined in their apartment there by their daughter, Miss Virginia H. Addams, a student at the Chevy Chase School.

Mr. and Mrs. Hugh S. O'Donnell and their two children have gone to their summer home, the Lilacs, at Sayville, L. I., for the summer. The mother of Mrs. O'Donnell, Mrs. Charles E. Courtney, wife of Rear Admiral Courtney, is en route from the Philippines to join Mr. and Mrs. O'Donnell on Long Island for the season.

Mr. and Mrs. Lester K. Allman and their daughter, Miss Joan C. Allman, of Columbus, Ohio, are spending a week at the Shoreham before returning home.

Mrs. Oscar Jarecki has gone to her home on Lake Erie for the summer. Her grandchildren, Carolyn Streuber and Robert Streuber, will spend the summer in camp on Long Island.

Mr. and Mrs. Frederic D. McKenney and their daughter, Mrs. Blaine Malian, have opened their country home, Handley Hall, at Kensington, Md., for the summer.

Mrs. Jacob Leander Loose will spend the summer at Gloucester, Mass., returning to her apartment at the Shoreham in the fall.

Mrs. Katherine S. Gill announces the marriage of her daughter, Agnes, to Dr. John W. Machen, on May 1, in the cathedral at Baltimore. Mrs. Machen is the daughter of the well-known artist, De Lancey Gill. Dr. Machen is the son of Dr. Francis Machen, of Washington. He has an A. B. from Dartmouth, and has just received his M. D. degree from Georgetown University. Dr. Machen, who is attached to the Mercy Hospital, and his bride will make their home in Baltimore.

Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Grant, who arrived here a few days ago from their home in Kansas City, have been joined at Wardman Park Hotel by their daughter, Miss Frances Grant.

Cheney—Wallace Wedding Is Preceded by Parties.

The wedding of Miss Susanne Wallace, daughter of Mrs. Frances Bagley Wallace, to Mr. Roger Williams Cheney, son of Mr. and Mrs. Horace Bushnell Cheney, of South Manchester, Conn., will take place tomorrow afternoon in the Unitarian Church. Miss Mary Stuart Birdsall entertained at a dinner dance last evening at the home of her parents, Dr. and Mrs. Otegg Curtis Birdsall. This evening Miss Greta Swenson, who will be one of the bridesmaids, will entertain at a buffet supper for the members of the bridal party, and later in the evening Mr. William Henry Wallace, father of the bride-elect, will entertain at a dance at the Mayflower for the wedding party.

Miss Esther Wallace will be maid of honor for her sister, and Mrs. Daniel Partridge 3d will be matron of honor. The bridesmaids will include, besides Miss Swenson, Miss Birdsall, Miss Beatrice Patton, Miss Virginia Ford, of Detroit; Miss Hannah Cheney, sister of the bridegroom; Miss Ruth Cornell, and Miss Elsie-dale Peters.

The ceremony, which will be performed at 4 o'clock, will be followed by a reception at the home of Mrs. Swenson, aunt of the bride.

Mr. and Mrs. John Arthur Hinckley have as their guests Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Alger, of Detroit. Mrs. Alger, the former Miss Susette Dewey, daughter of the Assistant Secretary of the Treasury, was a sister debutante of Mrs. Hinckley, the former Miss Helen Robinson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Douglas Robinson. Mr. Robinson was Assistant Secretary of the Navy.

Mr. and Mrs. Hinckley will leave Washington shortly for Canada, where the former will be secretary to the United States Minister to Canada, Mr. Warren Delano Robbins, a cousin of Mrs. Hinckley. He will not assume his duties until August, when Mr. Robbins, now attending the economic conference in London, will assume his post.

Mr. and Mrs. Stanley F. Reed have their sons with them at the Mayflower. Mr. John Reed has been at Harvard Law School and Mr. Stanley F. Reed, jr., has just completed his freshman year at Yale.

Sattes—Lambdin Nuptials Are Announced.

The Rev. and Mrs M. B. Lambdin announce the marriage of their daughter, Janet, to Mr. Frank Herbert Sattes. After a honeymoon spent in Washington, Richmond and Mountain Lake Park, the couple will make their home in Albans, W. Va.

Col. and Mrs. Edward Clifford will leave today for Princeton, where they will attend the graduation of their son, Mr. Robert Clifford.

Mrs. Raymond Riordon, who has lived at the Mayflower for the past three seasons, will spend the summer at Ventnor, N. J., where Mr. Riordon will also visit during the next few months. He is president of the Raymond Riordon School for Boys in Highland, N. Y.

Mrs. Paul A. Humiston, of Grand Rapids, Mich., and her young son, Robert Groff, are spending several months with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Diller F. Groff, of Chevy Chase.

Miss Sylvia Meredith, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Payne Meredith, is visiting Miss Cyanne Williams in Richmond. Miss Meredith and Miss Williams went last week-end to Wilmington to attend the wedding of Miss Marianna du Pont to Mr. Henry Harper Silliman.

Mrs. J. Thompson Walles has closed her apartment at the Mayflower and gone to Pelham, N. Y. Later in the summer, she is planning a trip to Vermont.

Miss Katherine A. Frederic, 1737 New Hampshire avenue, will leave Washington today to attend the summer quarter of the University of Chicago. Miss Frederic, who is secretary to the department of efficiency in Government of the National League of Women Voters and the author of several publications of that organization, will pursue studies in the field of economics and taxation.

The annual picnic of the University of Nebraska Alumni Association and the Nebraska State Society will be held on the University of Maryland campus tomorrow.

Massachusetts Society Bunker Hill Fete Tomorrow.

The annual outing, chicken dinner and dance of the Massachusetts Society of Washington will be held at Olney Inn, Md., tomorrow afternoon and evening.

This annual outing is in celebration of the battle of Bunker Hill, which is a Massachusetts holiday. Light field sports for the ladies and gentlemen will be held during the afternoon and bridge will be provided for those who care to play. Prizes are to be awarded for all activities. Dr. Allen Stockdale, pastor of the First Congregational Church, will participate in the festivities. Senator David I. Walsh and Senator and Mrs. Marcus A. Coolidge have been invited and it is expected they will attend.

Transportation for those who do not care to drive will be furnished and a bus will leave the south side of the Treasury Building at 2:30 p. m. Reservations should be made with Mr. Robert H. Kempton, House Office Building. As only a limited number can be accommodated in the main dining room, Massachusetts people in the District are invited to make their reservations promptly.

Magna Carta Day Celebrated at Banquet.

Celebrating the seven hundred and twenty-first anniversary of the sealing of the Magna Carta on the field of Runnymede, the District of Columbia Branch of the Magna Carta Day Association assembled last evening at the Hotel Lafayette at a banquet. The table was decorated in crimson and gold.

Mrs. M. de Clare Berry introduced the speakers, the chief of whom was Senator William H. King, of Utah. Gen. Hugh Matthews spoke for the Marine Corps, Mrs. Walter Tuckerman for the Colonial Dames of America, Col. McCammon represented Gen. Hugh Drum, of the Army general staff. Senator Thomas Gore spoke on the Magna Carta.

Others present included Col. Edgar Rume, U. S. A., secretary general of the Society of the Cincinnati; Commander Roscoe E. Schuirman, U. S. N.; Mrs. John Walker Holcombe, former recording secretary general of the D. A. R.; Brig. Gen. William E. Horton, Dr. Roscoe E. Dorsey, Mrs. William Augustine Scully, Col. Edwin O. Saunders, Dr. R. L. De Saussure, Mr. John Walker Holcombe, Mrs. Benjamin H. Fuller, wife of the commandant of the Marine Corps.

Also Mr. Daniel Smith Gordon, Mr. Walter Davidge, Senator and Mrs. Charles McNary, Senator and Mrs. Thomas Gore, Mrs. Hugh Matthews, Mrs. Roscoe Schuirman, Col. and Mrs. Taylor, of the Marine Corps; Mrs. Edgar Hume, Miss Merrill, Mrs. Custis Perry, William Augustine Scully, Mrs. George Howe, Commander and Mrs. Tennent, Mrs. Rust Smith, Mrs. R. L. De Saussure and Mrs. S. V. H. Pickett.

The table had as centerpieces a replica of the Santa Maria, flag ship of Columbus, surrounded by smaller ships, representing the Sarah Constant, flagship of the permanent colony of English civilization, and the companions of the latter, the Goodspeed and the Discovery, which brought the principles of the Magna Carta to the western lands in 1607.

School Officials Study Wilson High Prospectus

Officials of the District schools yesterday called on Engineer Commissioner John C. Gotwals to examine a model of the proposed Wilson High School, plans of which have been the object of controversy for some weeks.

The major objection voiced was against the location of the athletic field in front of the high school. Protests also were made over the removal of certain embellishments by the Fine Arts Commission. The party included Dr. Frank W. Ballou, superintendent of schools, and Dr. Hayden Johnson, president of the Board of Education.

"GEMINI."

IF June 16 is your birthday, the best hours for you on this date are from 10:25 a. m. to 11:45 a. m., from 4 p. m. to 5:10 p. m. and from 7:20 p. m. to 8:30 p. m. The danger periods are from 7:30 a. m. to 9 a. m. and from 2:10 p. m. to 3:15 p. m.

The child born on this June 16 will quite likely have a very fair attitude toward people and will show few preferences; he will get along well with all people. At school, he should prove popular and will probably take active part in many school functions.

If June 16 is your birthday, you are quite likely a steady person. Started along right lines and in the right direction by your parents, you have probably continued along those lines, deviating little. Yours is not a mental or thinking existence; you take things as they come, seldom if ever do you plan ahead, and you make the best of every situation as it presents itself. You are a good worker, absolutely trustworthy and reliable. You are slow to react to stimuli and you accomplish perhaps less in the way of work than the average man. But, on the other hand, there is a thoroughness and finality about your work that makes people like you in great demand.

If June 16 is the date of your birth, you probably bear a grudge a long time. You are not quick to anger, but once aroused you can become quite violent and abusive. Fortunately, you keep yourself well under control. The women have placid dispositions, great self-control and are splendid when it comes to handling children, both their own and those of other people.

Alexandria School Enrollment Today

Announcement was made yesterday that enrollment for the summer school of Alexandria public schools will be on today and tomorrow from 10 a. m. to 1 p. m., the first day, and 9 to 11 a. m. the second. Pupils for the fifth, sixth and seventh grades, who have been attending Mount Vernon School, will enroll at that school, while for all other grades, the enrollment will be in the Alexandria High School Building.

The tuition in both the elementary and high school departments will be $5 for those living in the corporate limits of Alexandria, and $10 for those outside. Elementary school pupils will be required to present their last report card at time of registering, and will be permitted to register only for subjects in which they have failed or been conditioned, while high school pupils may register for either failed or new subjects.

Classes will start on Monday next, June 19, at 8 a. m.

POULTRYMEN HOLD ANNUAL FIELD DAY

University of Maryland Host to Visiting Raisers From All Over State.

The sixth annual field day of the Maryland State Poultry Association was held yesterday at the University of Maryland.

Dr. Raymond A. Pearson, president of the university, in welcoming the poultrymen, emphasized the importance of prosperity and reviewed some of the new legislation in behalf of the farming industry.

A series of addresses, by men well known in agricultural circles, followed. The association was then taken to Beltsville, Md., where a tour of the Government experimental farm was made. The tour was continued with an inspection of the State's livestock sanitary laboratory, and the poultry plant at the university.

Dr. Harry J. Patterson, director of the Maryland experimental station, described the research work being carried on at the station, and Dr. Thomas B. Symons, director of the extension service of the university, told of the cooperative efforts for a greater poultry industry in Maryland.

The general session was presided over by L. E. Holsinger, Denton, Md., president of the association. The speakers' list included R. V. Hicks, Miles Fairbank, secretary of the Maryland Farm Bureau; Dr. Samuel H. DeVault, head of the department of economics of the university; S. B. Shaw, chairman of the State department of markets, and a score of others.

William and Mary Pilgrimage Near

BEER NOW ON SALE IN PRINCE GEORGES

Board Issues 73 Licenses on First Day; Complaints Are Ignored.

Prince Georges County last night, at midnight, shook off a portion of its 12-year prohibition cloak as beer once again became a legalized beverage in restaurants, hotels and at public fairs.

The newly appointed beer board, in session yesterday at Marlboro to hear last-minute protests against the sale of beer, swept aside complaints against six applicants.

Before the board adjourned a total of 73 licenses had been issued. This included 60 "on sale" and 13 "off sale." Protests against the sale of beer in the county had been previously overruled by Assistant Attorney General William L. Henderson, it was announced.

A delegation from Temple Hills, headed by William T. Leffel, appeared at the meeting as an organized protest against the selling of the beverage by William T. Meyers, a restaurant owner in the town.

Another protest against James Crivilla, of Oak Crest, Md., and a petition, bearing a number of signatures, objecting to a license being issued Drew W. Wilson, also of Oak Crest, were heard.

An individual letter asking that no license be issued Charles J. Reno, of Hyattsville, was read. An anonymous letter against allowing Mary C. Stamm, of Capitol Heights, to sell beer also was read. One man appeared before the board to object to Peter Cokinos, of Centerville, receiving a license.

Before the meeting the members of the beer board visited about twelve places in the lower part of the county, whose owners have applied for licenses. This was in accordance with a provision of the county law requiring the board to make frequent inspections of places where beer is sold.

3 Jobless Alumni Off to Gold Fields

Baltimore, June 15 (A.P.).—Three alumni of the Johns Hopkins University, finding no jobs open to them, have gone to Alaska to seek gold and adventure.

The three are Henry R. Joesting and Robert D. Ohrenschall, of Baltimore, and Ashton P. Richardson, of Weeks Mills, Md.

Joesting's father, Henry J. Joesting, revealed today they left here May 24, went to Seattle, where they boarded an Alaska-bound vessel and now should be nearing their destination, the upper Koyukuk River, where they expect to remain a year. All three did graduate work in geology at Hopkins.

PARK SAVINGS JURY INQUIRY NEXT WEEK

Attempts Will Be Made to Recover "Unsound" Loans Approved by Stunz.

An inquiry into certain phases of the closing of the Park Savings Bank will be started by the District grand jury next week, it was learned yesterday.

A voluminous report on the conditions found in the bank by expert auditors of the Department of Justice has been in the hands of United States Attorney Lee A. Rover for several days and yesterday he was closeted with some of the men who made the audit.

The report indicates, it was said on good authority, that there will be found many instances of "unsound" banking principles, which may lead to numerous civil suits in an effort to retrieve some of the many thousands of dollars Robert S. Stunz, suicide former executive officer of the bank, passed out in the form of loans.

Also, it was intimated, the existence of a huge dummy account, operated by Stunz, and said to approximate over $1,000,000, is causing much speculation. This account, it was shown, was utilized to cover, in the form of cash items, payments actually made by Stunz on loans that were causing uneasiness because of improper security behind them.

Instead of offsetting these payments on the customer's account, and thus running the risk of exposure, Stunz made out the cash items to cover the payment and carried them in the dummy account. He thus had most of his dealings under one account.

One method used by the former executive officer of the bank to cover his operations was to extract from the bank's accounts sufficient private accounts to cover easily discovered shortages. For example, it was stated that if there was a $800,000 item to be made up so that the bank would pass an examination, enough customers' accounts would be taken from the files to make up the loss. These would be replaced after the examiner left.

In this connection, officials believe they have learned the source of the "miraculous manner" in which Stunz kept posted on imminent visits by examiners. This source, it was declared, was an official who was in the habit of phoning Stunz that "the Campbells are coming."

His identity is known and possible criminal action may be sought against him.

2 Washington Men Held in Rum Case

Two Washington men were apprehended by Federal prohibition men yesterday near North Linthicum, Md., on a charge of transportation and possession of 145 gallons of alcohol and 29 gallons of whiskey.

Brought before United States Commissioner Frank Parran, at Upper Marlboro, they gave their names and addresses as Joseph E. Gentilucci, 73 K street northwest, and Charles W. Jones, 141 Bates street northwest.

After a hearing before Commissioner Parran they were held under a bond of $1,000 each for action of the Federal court, in Baltimore. W. L. Garis and Ruffin A. Brantley made the arrest.

Plumbers Send Delegates

William E. Wolff, H. C. Messner, Paul C. King, and Norbert Melnick will leave tomorrow for New Orleans where they will attend the annual national convention of the Plumbers and Heating Contractors. They are attending as delegates from the State and county association.

Prince Georges Police Move.

The Prince Georges County police headquarters at Marlboro observed moving day yesterday. The musty room in the courthouse was given up for two spacious and airy offices in the new Pumphrey Building, opposite the courthouse.

THE MEANDERER

Thinks Fathers May Like Cake on Father's Day. Finds Delightful Summer Togs for Children.

Telephone questions on The Meanderer's column to The Washington Post, National 4205, Extension 19; or address The Meanderer, The Washington Post, inclosing self-addressed, stamped envelope for reply.

Two layers of devil's food cake, put together with apricot icing, the whole iced and inscribed "To Father," and costing just 50 cents, should please any father anyhere. The Meanderer discovered this cake for special Saturday selling in two popular downtown bake shops.

Saucy ruffled frocks for diminutive daughters, with equally saucy ruffled parasols to match, priced $1.50 for the two, a very low cost, indeed, for the summer picture it will make of the young daughter, are found in the children's wear corner on the fourth floor of an F street department store.

The Meanderer observed a charming Washingtonian from the Orient shopping for party and tea gowns in a favorite corner patronized by discriminating women. The American woman's penchant for prints does not please the dark-eyed shopper. Neither do puffed sleeves. Several times a saleswoman had to remove prints and puffed sleeves from any consideration by this unusual customer. Among the gowns she agreed to try on were a lime-colored chiffon, a yellow chiffon, an exquisitely simple white evening gown, a brown dotted organdy daytime dress and a gray and blue jacket suit for street wear.

Graceful and filmy, delightfully cool looking for summer formal wear, is a white chiffon gown that will be sure to interest women who had need of just such a frock in their wardrobes. Its unusual feature, to the Meanderer, was an adjustable, matching chiffon scarf, arranged in the back according to the wearer's tastes in low or modified back decolletage. The price of this summer loveliness is just $35.

Amusing coat, hat and dress ensembles, the coat and hat matching [illegible] for small daughters in the children's wear section of a big department store. Most of the coats and hats are of linen, so much the mode for feminine adult wear.

She who loves the glitter of rings may want to see the sterling rings with bands of simulated rubies, emeralds, amethysts and other stones, selling for 39 cents each or three for $1, in a busy department store. The rings may be matched with bracelets and earrings and worn effectively with sheer summer frocks.

Slacks and matching jumper in string knit wear are comfortable as well as fashionable for vacation wear. In the same sports wear department where the Meanderer found this smart string knit wear there are a number of styles in cotton slacks, light and dark colors, many of them tailored to please women with the most exacting taste in such things.

A white pique sun suit for children has a sleeveless jacket top made in amusing waistcoat style, and a matching pique hat. This sun suit is one of dozens of styles that a big department store is featuring for the summer comfort of young Washingtonians.

At one of the big department stores there is a display of particularly dashing white handbags with swooping, modernistic strap designs across the front and an ingenious arrangement of mirror-over-powder-compact lipstick container, and rouge pad just under the outer flap. Inside the bag are the usual fittings. The bags are in white fabric which can be cleaned with a damp cloth or with white shoe cleaner and they cost only $1. They constitute an excellent touch for any summer ensemble.

ENCOURAGING CARDS.

ENCOURAGING signals, or, as they are sometimes called, "come-on" cards, are frequently spectacular in nature; sometimes they are so important that they must be made even at the cost of seemingly sacrificing a trick. The hand below was played by me with my wife as partner against Mr. Oswald Jacoby and Mr. Howard Schenken in a practice game for the international matches. Although I was set at my final contract, I came very close to making the hand and I believe I should have done so if it had not been for Mr. Jacoby's brilliant discard.

The bidding was quite normal. Mrs. Culbertson, having passed, was quite justified in her immediate raise to game. Mr. Schenken obviously refrained from bidding the hearts at once in the hope that I would eventually reach a notrump contract. When we reached four spades he decided that his hand was worth an attempt at a sacrifice. His double was based on the hope that Mrs. Culbertson and I each held at least two hearts. My redouble came as a matter of course.

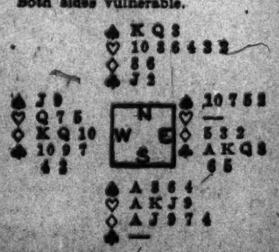
Mr. Schenken opened the King of hearts and continued with the Queen even though the Dummy was very important that the Dummy be ruffed down. At this point I thought that I was down one, as it seemed as though Mr. Schenken must hold two tricks in trumps. However, I led one round of spades to find out, and to my great surprise Mr. Jacoby's Knave dropped. Mr. Schenken refused to win the first trick, however, and I continued with another high trump. This trick he won with the Ace, and at this point Mr. Jacoby made the Discard which cost me the hand. He played the Knave of Diamonds, immediately giving me five tricks in that suit. Mr. Schenken responded to the signal by leading that suit, and from that time on I was completely helpless. As a matter of actual fact, I did not even attempt another diamond lead, as I was very certain that it would be ruffed. Instead I returned to the Ace of clubs, ruffed my last heart in Dummy, led another club to my hand, took out the last trump, and based everything on a pseudo-squeeze. However, Mr. Jacoby, still alert to the situation, discarded his last heart, giving Mr. Schenken the proper count, and so I was forced to lose the last trick to the Knave of Clubs.

This hand illustrates vividly why good defensive play is one of the most important features of the expert's game. Every play by both Mr. Schenken and Mr. Jacoby had a certain meaning, and their exchange of information resulted in my defeat.

TOMORROW'S HAND.

If South is playing a contract of six hearts, doubled by East, how should he plan the play of the cards against a club opening with the knowledge that West is a player who never falsecards?

South, Dealer.
Both sides vulnerable.



The hand will be discussed in tomorrow's article.

Camp Roosevelt Is Ready.

Many a Washington Scout feels a thrill of anticipation as he counts the days until June 26, the opening date of Camp Roosevelt, the Scout haven on Chesapeake Bay. Dozens of Scouts will arrive on Sunday, the day preceding the regular opening of the camp, arriving by automobile, and bringing their folks along to get a good glimpse of the camp. Registrations are pouring into local Scout headquarters at 1103 Vermont avenue every day. Local officials feel confident of a large attendance all through the summer.

"They are a bunch of good Scouts" is the comment of a typical Scout as he looked over the list of Scouters who make up the staff of the camp. Headed by Linn C. Drake, District of Columbia Scout executive, who is to be the camp director, the staff includes Robert Myers, assistant camp director; Curtis Cooper, registrar; Wade Barstow, in charge of boating; Harry M. Cutler, in charge of commissary; Al Schurman, in charge of nature lore; Fred Stuart, in charge of handicraft; Bruce Moore, in charge of transportation. Others on the staff will include John Splain, Bryant Tuckerman, Dave Barbour, "Bob" MacConnaughy, Robert McDermott, Houston Buchanan, Reisner Lindsay, Harold Boesch, Harry Switzer and others.

"How About the Eats?" is a natural question for anybody to ask. It is particularly appropriate for a boy to ask for, as Hugo Jumpp says, "a boy is a feller who is always hungry."

Here are a few of the sample menus taken from Mr. Cutler's plan book: Breakfast, stewed prunes, cereal, home fried potatoes and bacon, bread and jam, cocoa. Here's another breakfast: Stewed prunes, cereal, scrambled eggs, bread and butter, cocoa.

How does this look for a dinner? Smoked ham and spinach, boiled potatoes, bread and butter, rice pudding, milk. Or this one? Lamb stew with vegetables, bread and butter, tapioca pudding, cream sauce, milk. "Better eats than ever" is the motto of the commissary department and they are getting ready now to take care of the "inner man" this summer.

Physical Examination Schedule.

The health and safety committee has announced the following schedule of physical examinations to be held at 1103 Vermont avenue for Scouts before going to camp. The following evenings at 7:30: Friday, June 16; Monday, June 19; Wednesday, June 21; Friday, June 23. Beginning Thursday, June 29, physical examinations will be given each Thursday evening throughout the summer.

The Wednesday afternoon Scout swims at the Y. M. C. A. will continue through the summer at 5 o'clock.

Stuart C. Godfrey, commissioner of cubbing in the District of Columbia council, will leave Washington about July 1 to take up his residence in Boston. Maj. Godfrey's many friends here are sorry to see him go and wish him much happiness in his new location. A farewell gathering of cubbers is scheduled for June 24 to give him a "Grand Howl."

Scouts from many troops did their good turn in connection with the Flag Day ceremonies held Wednesday evening. They started out the evening by setting up fifteen hundred chairs and served as ushers, guides and aides throughout the evening. Scouts, carrying their flags, marched out onto the stage and demonstrated a flag salute.

Dr. Cloyd Marvin, President of the George Washington University and Chairman of the Committee on Leadership and Training of the District of Columbia Council, will be the speaker of the evening at the Court of Awards to be held tomorrow evening at Wilson Teachers College, Eleventh and Harvard streets. The public is invited.

Camp Wilson to Open

Beginning June 19, Camp Wilson, at Burnt Mills, Maryland, will be open with "Bill" Murray again in charge. The rates will be the same as last year; 10 cents per day and 35 cents per week for Scouts furnishing their own tents; or 35 cents per day and $1.25 per week for those using the bunk houses and ticks. Mr. Murray will conduct a commissary again this year and some arrangement will be made whereby Scouts may obtain meals. Further announcement later.

Camp Oakington, Aberdeen, Md., conducted by the Garey School, has announced a scholarship to be presented to an Eagle Scout chosen from Region three. It is expected that several recommendations for the scholarship will be made from the District of Columbia Council.

Major James S. Hawley, a Washington scouter of many years experience, has been chosen as the new commissioner of Cubbing to succeed Stewart C. Godfrey who is being transferred to Boston. There are now fifteen Cub Packs in the District with additional units in process of formation.

Wilton Eyer, District commissioner of the third division, reports the divisional overnight encampment of scouts and fathers held last weekend a big success. Over 150 fathers and sons took part in this "sample" experience of camping. Now they are looking forward to spending a longer period at Camp Roosevelt some time this summer.

The committee on leadership training held its final session for the spring at Dr. Marvin's home on Wednesday evening. In addition to working out policies and plans for training for the coming year the men enjoyed a steak feed. Those present were Dr. Cloyd Heck Marvin, presiding; Edward D. Reed, X. T. Wobensmith, Dr. Paul Bartsch, George C. Whitney, Maj. Stuart Godfrey, Dr. William T. McClosky, P. L. Porta, H. E. Allanson, L. F. McCullough, Linn C. Drake and Walter MacPeek.

Every Friday

What is new in your troop? Lots of things, of course, but why keep them secret? Write up the news of your troop and mail it at once to Merit B. Scout, Boy Scout Headquarters, 1103 Vermont avenue. It will then appear in this column every Friday morning.

New Case Found Of Spotted Fever

The second case of spotted fever in Washington this season has been reported to the Health Department, Health Officer William C. Fowler announced yesterday. The case has been under observation for several days.

Samuel T. Carpenter, 57 years old, of 213 Rhode Island avenue northeast, has been reported as having the disease carried by dog ticks. Another suspected case is that of William Johnson, 57 years old, of 1923 Tenth street northwest.

The first case reported this season resulted in the patient's death about two weeks ago.

Coal Association to Get Code Governing Ethics

Chicago, June 15 (A.P.).—A code to govern the bituminous coal industry will be submitted to the National Coal Association tomorrow.

A committee of 19 operators drafted the rules, and upon acceptance by the the convention they will be submitted to President Roosevelt as the industry's agreement under the national industrial recovery act. Labor's privilege to organize was acknowledged in the draft, as required under the recovery act.

Grandpa and Grandson in Wedding.

Wyandotte, Okla., June 15 (A.P.).—Grandfather and grandson were principals in a double wedding here. A. L. Umery, 59, married Ida Bell Lee, 56, of Kansas City, and his grandson, Roy Haya, 21, became the husband of Della Crow, 17, of Wyandotte, in the rites performed by the Rev. W. E. Beaver.

Gas and Electric Rates Will Be Cut in Chicago

Chicago, June 15 (A.P.).—Reductions approximating 8 per cent in gas and electric rates to Chicago consumers were agreed upon today by the Illinois Commerce Commission in conference with the three Chicago distributing utilities: Commonwealth Edison Co., Peoples Gas Light & Coke Co. and the Public Service Co. of Northern Illinois.

The commission, announcing it had accepted a compromise figure offered by the utilities, said it would continue its inquiry into the rate structure to determine whether further cuts were possible.

Future Is Undecided As Garrett Returns

New York, June 15 (A.P.).—John W. Garrett, of Baltimore, retiring Ambassador to Italy, returned today on the liner Manhattan and said he would go immediately to his home in Baltimore.

"I don't known just what I'll do," he said. "I have a great many business affairs to settle, which I never had time to handle before. That will take up some of the time." He said Mrs. Garrett would remain in Paris until September.

Waterworks Manager, Suicide, Found in Office

Birmingham, Ala., June 15 (A.P.).—Harry H. Horner, 49, vice president and general manager of the Birmingham Waterworks Co., committed suicide today by shooting himself through the head.

He was found on the floor of his office by his secretary with one wound in his head and a revolver by his side. Business associates said he had been worried over ill health.

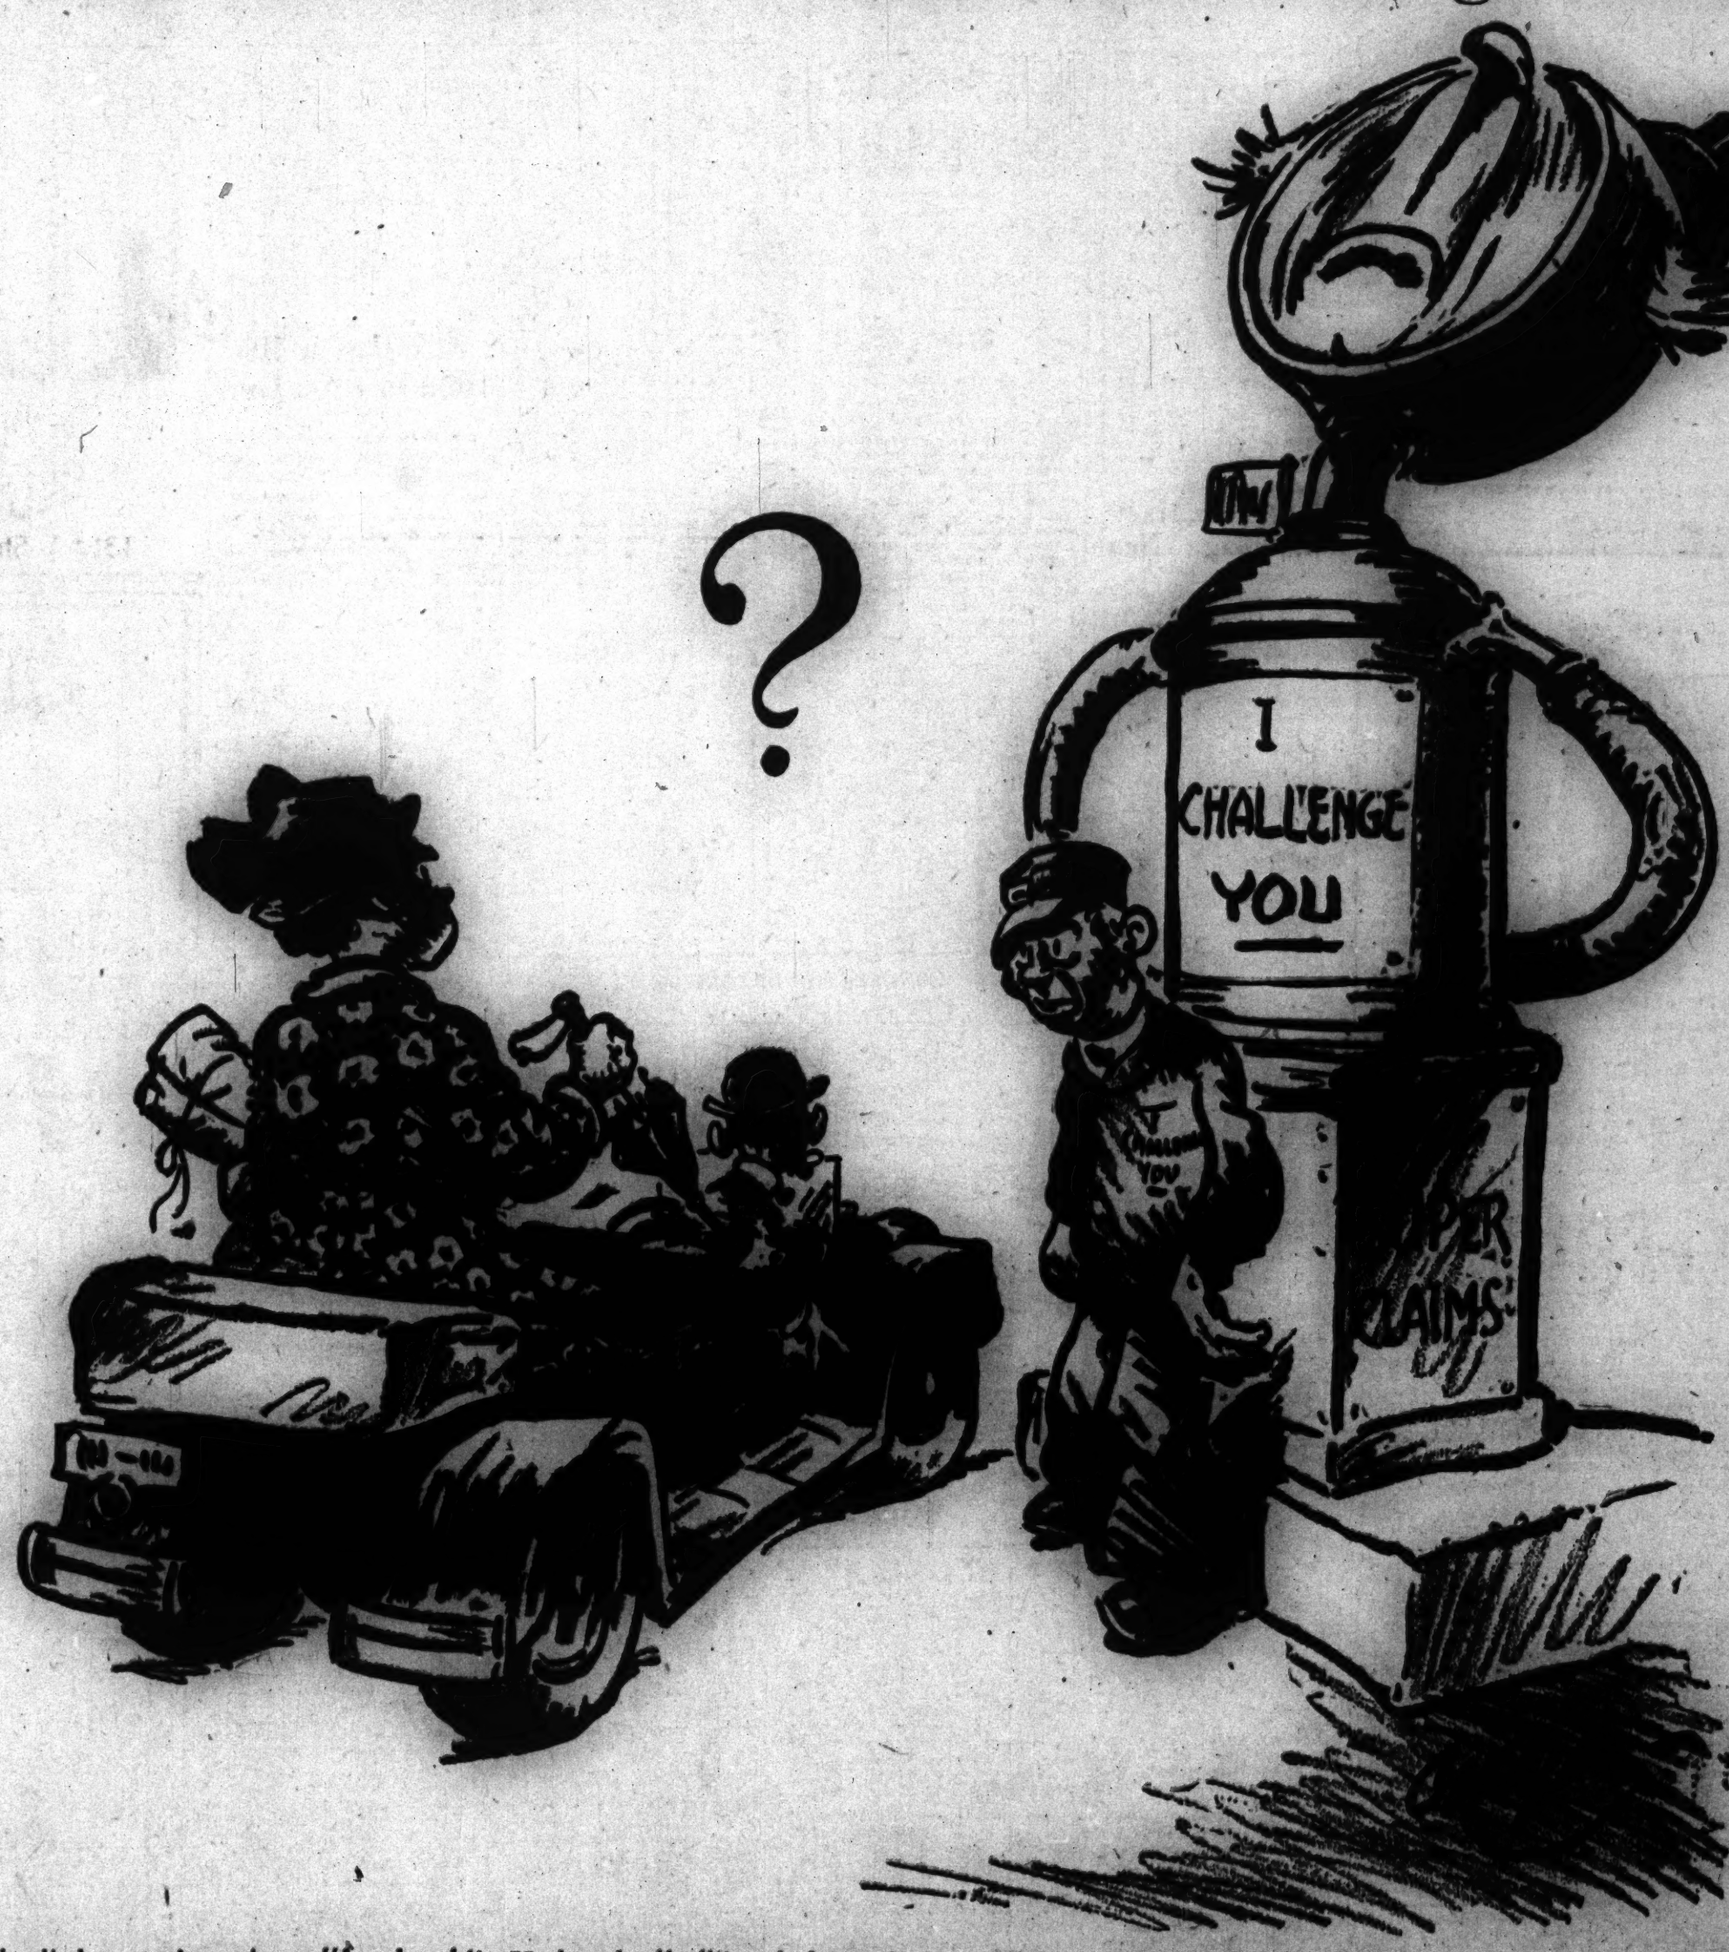
"Ask him, Henry, if it makes the wheels go 'round."



The little man is getting a "free lunch". He has the "roll" and the station attendant is supplying the "boloney". He wants to go to Oswego to visit the wife's folks. He doesn't want to, really--but the little woman does, and that makes it unanimous..... Heretofore the little man has only needed honest gasoline--but now, according to the attendant, he could do better on empty challenges and guarantees. The little man resents this insult to his intelligence..... In a minute he will drive on to the pump of honest value, honestly described--Orange American Gas, the *original orange-colored regular gasoline. Orange American Gas always was--and still is--the best at regular gas price.

Radio Dial Flashes

By ROBERT D. HEINL

AN authentic report from Cleveland is to the effect that they are all set for a tryout there of wired radio. The latest information is to the effect that two substations have been especially equipped for the service. Apparently, about all that is holding it back is the depression. There will have to be an improvement in general conditions before the experiment is actually started. Everyone talked to seems to be very vague about the whole matter. Nevertheless, they are ready to start immediately whenever they receive the word to go.

Lanny Ross, tenor, who recently made a personal appearance at a New York theater, had difficulty getting through the crowd of feminine admirers that gathered at the stage door. One night, minus a button snipped off his coat as a souvenir, his hat askew and otherwise disheveled from running the gantlet of girls, Ross hopped into a taxi, muttering "I'm a fugitive from a Jane gang."

There was a denial that Hitler had put an embargo on the broadcasting of the Schmeling-Baer fight in Germany. It was said that the $7,500 Jack Dempsey wanted to charge for the German broadcasting privilege was the thing which did the business.

Jack's wanting to assess American networks $25,000 for the privilege of broadcasting the fight was likewise responsible for no takers on this side of the pond.

The results of the intelligence quotient test conducted to determine the average mental age of radio listeners will be reported by Dr. Frank H. Freeman, professor of educational psychology at the University of Chicago, tonight at 9:15 o'clock., over WMAL. The report will be the result of answers received from the questionnaire last Friday.

SO as not to detain President Roosevelt any longer than was absolutely necessary, when he was so concerned with the final hours of Congress, and because the exercises were being broadcast by both the great networks, Mgr. James H. Ryan had the program at Catholic University Wednesday morning timed to a second.

Every one from Cardinal Hayes down knew exactly how long he was to speak. As a result the exercises were carried through on a radio schedule, a thing probably unknown at commencements in the past.

Mgr. Ryan set an example in brevity by taking but one minute to deliver the invocation. Archbishop Curley confined his greeting to the President of the United States to six minutes and the presentation of candidates for degrees took eight minutes.

The presentation of President Roosevelt for the degree by Mgr. Pace, vice rector of the university, took 6 minutes and the conferring of the degree by Archbishop Curley 5 minutes. Cardinal Hayes finished the commencement address in 30 minutes, the university choir and the Marine Band concluded "Alma Mater" in 3 minutes and Cardinal Hayes pronounced the benediction in exactly 30 seconds.

Where the President goes, Bob Trout, Columbia announcer, usually goes—but when he attempted to get into the Catholic University Gymnasium to handle the broadcast he was stopped at the gate. Identification cards meant nothing to the gate tender. A presidential announcer was just another gate crasher to him. Trout glanced at his watch and it told him he had exactly two minutes to get into place. The futility of further talk with the gateman was obvious.

He ran the length of the building to a window opposite the broadcast point. Well over 6 feet tall, he grasped the high ledge and swung through, took a half dozen long strides to his microphone and began the program on the dot. The only difficulty was in the engineering department. Lester Bowman, WJSV technical supervisor, reports he can count an even dozen more gray hairs on his head.

The staff tenor on a small New York station was getting so much fan mail the rest of the studio people became suspicious. So they put him on in front of a dead mike.

Next day, Variety relates, the tenor got 260 letters, 45 telegrams and 6 postcards.

THE Goldbergs will offer a novel innovation in their regular broadcast, when excerpts from "Sulamath," a popular Jewish opera of 60 years ago, are presented over WRC, at 6:45 p. m.

The music of "Sulamath," probably never heard on the air before, will be broadcast in connection with the operatic debut of Sulamath Manas, a character in the script of the Goldbergs.

Mrs. Gertrude Berg, principal actress and author of the Goldbergs, introduced Sulamath Manas into the script some time ago, and listeners have followed the girl's musical career in preceding programs. Now that Sulamath Manas is to make her operatic debut, Mrs. Berg is reviving the Jewish opera of the same name.

The overture, choruses and solos and duets, representing the most popular numbers from the opera, will be heard during the program. "Sulamath" is by the Jewish composer, Goldfadden, and although it once enjoyed great popularity, it now is practically unknown except to the older generation of Jews.

"Congressional Oratory" will be discussed by Prof. W. Hayes Yeager, speaking tonight at 7:30 over Station WMAL in the George Washington University Forum.

AMOS 'N' ANDY, represented by their creators and portrayers, Charles J. Correll and Freeman F. Gosden, will be seen by visitors to Chicago's World's Fair this afternoon, when they officially dedicate the towers of the Giant Sky Ride, which the steel workers themselves have nicknamed Amos 'n' Andy.

The dedication will take place from the 200-foot level of the 625-foot towers and will be broadcast over WMAL at 2:15 p. m.

The two towers, highest in the Middle West, are twin landmarks, rising 2,000 feet apart on either side of the great lagoon at the fair. During their construction, the workers called the east tower Amos and the west tower Andy—running a race to see which would be finished in the shorter time.

Fannie Hurst, novelist, will be the first of four speakers on "What Women Demand of Civilization" during the Woman's Radio Review over WRC, beginning at 2:30 p. m.

A New Yorker AT LARGE

By MARK BARRON.

New York—This is the season of departures, and we must say good-by for a little while to several of the town's charming visitors.

Gloria Swanson and husband, Michael Farmer, sailed for London with only a couple of minor mishaps. First, the glamorous-eyed Miss Swanson indignantly denied to reporters that she was attempting any mysterious Garbo tactics in wearing dark glasses. "They're to protect my eyes from the lights," she explained.

What was more upsetting came when hubby Michael, going romantic for a moment, engaged a Hawaiian string orchestra to serenade Gloria. A bevy of more hilarious passengers kidnaped the Waikiki players at the far end of the pier, and Gloria failed to get a single view of her musicians. Michael was crestfallen.

JUST A LITTLE PARTY.

The most exciting circus was the night before, when Noel Coward boarded a liner for Bermuda, where he was to meet a British battleship which would take him on the first stage of his journey to South America.

In the afternoon Coward gave what he told me over the telephone would be "just a private, exclusive little party. I'm inviting only a thousand or so people." It was an extremely sultry day, but in the scores that dropped in to bid him bon voyage I saw Lee Tracy, Edna Ferber, Natalie Hall, Robert Edmond Jones, Fred Astaire, Adolphe Menjou, Peggy Wood, Richard Barthelmess, Judith Anderson, Douglas Fairbanks, jr., Eugenie Leontovich, Julia Hoyt, Hope Williams, Clifton Webb and at least two or three other people.

A parade of taxicabs carried the whole party to the midnight sailing, but Coward hid himself in an obscure corner of the boat deck. In the meantime his guests ganged into his cabin to write farewell messages on the mirrors with soap.

LEE GOES HOME.

Lee Tracy, who speaks with the r-r-r-rip of a machine gun, too, remained about for only a few hours before he hurried back to the coast. He spent two days with his mother on her Connecticut farm, dropped in for a moment to tell the boys at Frankie and Johnnie's that a buttermilk diet was making him fat, and then, like an unharnessed dynamo, he was on his way.

Incidentally, Tracy, who is a trifle superstitious, has a big, white goose as a mascot. He got it in a trade for that red fire plug he carried around as a good luck charm for so many years.

Another few nights may see Dorothy Parker, accompanied by a couple of trunks and her black dachshund, trekking out for the Riviera. This time she doesn't plan to drop in on London.

"The last time I was in England," she quipped, "I spent the whole time sliding down banisters."

DICK TRACY—A Car at Dusk

SCENE: THE MOUNTAIN HOME OF HANK STEELE.
WELL, MY BOY—YOU'VE BEEN OUT HERE ALMOST A MONTH NOW! HOW DO YOU LIKE IT BY THIS TIME?
CHEE, IT'S GREAT OUT HERE, FATHER. ..I'VE NEVER HAD SUCH A GOOD TIME AS I HAVE SINCE I'VE BEEN HERE WITH YOU.
THERE'S ONLY ONE THING I CAN'T UNDERSTAND..THAT'S WHY I DON'T HEAR FROM TRACY. HE PROMISED HE'D WRITE ME EVERY WEEK..AND IT'S BEEN NEARLY TWO WEEKS SINCE HIS LAST LETTER.
SAY- LISTEN! YOU'RE NOT CRYING, ARE YOU?
I UNDERSTAND.. YOU DON'T NEED TO EXPLAIN, SON. AFTER ALL, I AM PRACTICALLY A STRANGER TO YOU. PERHAPS IT WAS CRUEL OF ME TO KEEP YOU OUT HERE.
IF I COULD JUST SEE 'IM..JUST TELL HIM HELLO...
WHY— THAT SOUNDS LIKE A CAR! WHO IS IT?
IT'S GETTIN' KINDA DARK— I CAN'T SEE WHO IT IS..
WHO'S IN THAT CAR?

TOWNSEND ZANDER IS STILL A COUPLE OF STEPS AHEAD OF MAMA DE STROSS— SHE DOESN'T KNOW YET THAT HE HAS TRICKED HER OUT OF THE BUILDING— SHE DOESN'T KNOW THAT HE TRICKED HER OUT OF $1,000.- IN CASH—AND A NOTE FOR $4,000.00 FOR RELEASING HER FROM THE OPTION— AND MOST OF ALL, SHE DOESN'T KNOW THAT THE SMILING PARSON IS ONE OF TOWNSEND ZANDER'S HENCHMAN AND THE $125,000. OFFER IS THE BIGGEST TRICK OF ALL—
6-16
I CAN'T ACCOUNT FOR IT, MILLIE—IT'S BEYOND ME—WHY DOESN'T HE CALL UP? YOU KNOW I'M BEGINNING TO GET WORRIED ABOUT THE WHOLE THING—
IT REALLY IS STRANGE— AFTER HE SEEMED SO ANXIOUS TO BUY—
HE PROMISED ME $125,000 IN CASH JUST AS SOON AS I GET THE OPTION— AND HE SEEMED SO SINCERE—
WHAT IF HE WAS A FAKE? AND MY THOUSAND DOLLARS GONE THAT I PAID TO THE COUNT FOR THE OPTION— AND OH, WHEN THAT $4,000- NOTE COMES DUE— WHAT THEN?
AND I DON'T WANT TO CALL HIM UP— I DON'T WANT TO SEEM TOO ANXIOUS— WELL—THERE'S NO USE WORRYING ABOUT IT— I'LL JUST SIT AND READ THE PAPER— AND FORGET ABOUT IT TILL SOMETHING TURNS UP—
SO SHE SITS AND WATCHES THE PHONE FOR THE REST OF THE DAY—

DOLLAR HITS LOWEST LEVEL IN 63 YEARS

Eyes of World Watch Plan In London to Stabilize Currencies.

New York, June 15 (A.P.).—With the eyes of the world on the London Economic Conference, wide attention is being accorded all discussions as to the ultimate position of the dollar.

No longer moored to gold, the dollar has been having a turbulent trip on uncharted foreign exchange seas. At present it is worth around 60 per cent of its former value as measured in terms of the gold standard currencies. This is the lowest level in more than 60 years.

By its very nature the monetary unit of every country is affected by a tangled web of political and economic forces, national and international. Many times exchange operations appear more like black magic than logical processes. The forces of control necessarily remain obscure.

Value of Currency.

However complex the subject, the fact remains that the value of a currency—whether dollars, pounds or francs—is measured in terms of the purchasing power of its gold equivalent.

A de facto stabilization of the dollar and pound would aid materially in restoring normal trade relations, in the opinion of certain banking quarters here.

This means an agreement between England and the United States as to the level at which their respective currencies are to be stabilized, presumably through international cooperation with France which is still on the gold standard.

Basis of Stabilization.

On the other hand many international trade experts feel that permanent stabilization can only be accomplished in the light of proven events over an extensive period. Meantime, it is asserted, the United States could utilize an equalization fund to prevent violent fluctuations of the dollar until a proper relationship was worked out with other currencies.

England has utilized this technique ever since the country left gold. Through its equalization fund—involving the purchase and sale of foreign currencies at strategic times—Great Britain has exercised a large degree of control over the pound.

Advocates of this policy contend that, with coordinated action, a return to gold on a proper basis would be in order for all hands around.

Bank Rate Unchanged.

New York, June 15 (A.P.).—The New York Federal Reserve Bank today announced no change in its 2½ per cent rediscount rate.

More Collateral Facing Auction Sale June 27

Cleveland, June 15 (A.P.).—Collateral posted by Continental Shares, Inc., to secure loans from the Union Trust Co. and the Cleveland Trust Co., the latter as an agent for a group of banks, will be sold at auction June 27, it was announced today.

The collateral represents Continental's holdings in a number of Northern Ohio industries.

Nation's Bank Clearings Up to $4,434,681,000

New York, June 15 (A.P.).—Bank clearings at leading cities in the United States for the week ended June 14 totaled $4,434,681,000, an increase of 6.3 per cent over a year ago, Dun & Bradstreet reported today. At New York clearings increased 11.3 per cent, the aggregate for other centers was 5 per cent lower.

However, a large volume of clearings was reported at Omaha, Boston, Minneapolis, Richmond, Atlanta and Louisville in addition to New York. Although this week's total was $678,787,000 less than that for the month's first week, the decline in the second week of June, 1932, from the first of that month, amounted to $1,248,939,000.

Delaware Charter Filed For U. S. Steel Company

Dover, Del., June 15 (A.P.).—A charter was filed at the State Department today for the United States Steel Corporation (of Delaware). It was authorized to issue 100,000 shares of capital stock of no par value, and to manufacture, buy, sell, deal in and with iron, steel and all other kinds of mineral and metallic compounds. It is also authorized to deal in coal, coke, limestone and all products and by-products of any kind whatsoever.

The incorporators are Kenneth B. Halstead, 360 Washington avenue, Brooklyn; William Everell Brown, 129 East Fifty-ninth street, New York City, and George Denneny, 19 West street, New York City.

Oil Refineries in Rush To Fill Gasoline Needs

Tulsa, Okla., June 15 (A.P.).—There was one of the greatest bull refinery markets in years today with at least ten midcontinent refiners and marketers casting anxiously for huge quantities of gasoline to supply current needs. Refiners were seeking from 10 to 300 cars of gasoline for immediate delivery, but were unable to obtain them.

Low grade Standard was quoted at 3 to 3¼ cents a gallon, a minimum advance of ¼ cent. Natural gasoline, scarce, was up a full quarter cent. The reported pending crude oil price advances and the additional Federal tax on half-cent a gallon were credited with being responsible for the demand.

Van Camp Products Co. Sold to Kentucky Firm

Indianapolis, June 15 (A.P.).—Sale of the Van Camp Products Co. to Stokely Bros. & Co., of Louisville, Ky., was announced today by officials of the local food canning and packing concern.

The purchase price was not disclosed, but the announcement said the sale included only the vegetable and fruit packing business in Indiana and not the plants of the Van Camp Oil Co. in Louisville and Baltimore, Md., or those of the Van Camp Milk Co.

Wall St. Briefs

New York, June 15 (A.P.).—A New York curb exchange membership sold today for $50,000, up $1,000 from the previous transaction.

The refunding plan for the two-year 5 per cent notes of the General Refractories Co. was declared operative today by the committee representing the notes, of which about 95 per cent of the outstanding amount have been deposited.

Following reorganization a new company has been formed as successor of the Booth Fisheries Co., it was announced today by the reorganization committee. The new organization, to be known as Booth Fisheries Corporation, has leased to the Pacific American Fisheries, Inc., with an option to purchase its canneries throughout Alaska. The new concern, according to the committee, will have boat lines on the Great Lakes and Canadian lakes, carrying passengers and freight in addition to its own products.

Shipments of structural steel in May by companies representing 71 per cent of the industry totaled 52,427 tons, an increase of 25 per cent over the previous month, the American Institute of Steel Construction, Inc., reports. Bookings during the month amounted to only 25,470 tons.

The Dun & Bradstreet, Inc., Weekly Food Index continued, at $1.87 for the period ended June 13, unchanged from the preceding two weeks. The gain over the low of February 28 remains at 25.5 per cent.

Dried Fruits Steady.

New York, June 15 (A.P.).—Dried fruits steady, unchanged.

TRADE TRENDS.

(By The Associated Press.)

Chemicals—Leading manufacturers of welding and cutting gases have experienced a marked pickup in business from the more active operations in railroad shops, and in the steel and motor industries, according to trade reports.

Wool Goods—Trade authorities report a current scarcity of women's wear cloakings and dress goods. It is said that a number of the mills have accepted less than 30 per cent of the orders offered them on such wear.

Dried Fruits—Jobbers report a fairly good volume of business for this season of the year, with spot prices well maintained. Imported goods also show a firm price range.

Pig Iron—In eastern territory shipments against old orders are on an increasing scale, although new buying is less active. The lull in demand is considered natural in view of the large volume of committments in April and May.

SEE THE Gas REFRIGERATOR BEFORE YOU BUY

Expect even LOWER OPERATING COST! ...You'll get this AND MORE in the New AIR-COOLED Gas REFRIGERATOR

After all, you buy an automatic refrigerator chiefly for two reasons—you want a better and more convenient way to safeguard your family's food; and you want to do this with as little monthly cost as possible.

The new air-cooled gas refrigerator is the answer!

The gas refrigerator—Electrolux—costs less to operate than other automatic refrigerators. Only a tiny gas flame is used to circulate the refrigerant which brings about constant, steady cold. Water, formerly used in the cooling process, has been replaced by air-cooling! In addition to this—because it has no machinery—you have no expense for repairs.

AND YOU SAVE EVEN MORE WITH ELECTROLUX

Not only does this refrigerator protect perishable foods, but it allows you to buy in quantity, take advantage of quantity prices—permits greater freedom in preparing daily menus.

The gas refrigerator may be purchased on easy terms at your gas company. Only a small down payment, and you have two years to pay the balance!

It's simple when you have a gas refrigerator"

Stocks Yield Higher Ground On Reports of Rising Dollars

Average Loss of 4.2 Points Recorded on Sale of 4,923,240 Shares.

New York, June 15 (A.P.).—Stocks rallied today at the sight of a rapidly rising dollar, and took their worst tumble of the spring bull market.

London reports that dollar stabilization, on a temporary basis, was nearing the stage of definite agreement. Sharply deflated speculative enthusiasm had been based to large degree on uncertainties surrounding the position of our currency against others, particularly the British pound. Heavy offerings of shares swamped the stock exchange in the last half hour, bringing losses of 1 to 7 points to scores of recent favorites. The net decline in the standard statistics-Associated Press composite was 4.2 points. Sales totaled 4,923,240 shares.

Wall street's interest centered exclusively, it seemed, in the reports from the British capital. "Pegging" the dollar, say around $4.05, would mean a discount of about 15 per cent; it would also mean that the decline in our exchange, which has so stimulated speculative imaginations, would come to a halt. Hence traders with fat profits hastened to execute selling orders and prices slid rapidly, touching off bundles of "stop loss" instructions.

American Telephone, American Smelting and Case dropped almost 7 points each; the U. S. Steels lost about 4, together with Southern Pacific, Consolidated Gas, Du Pont and McIntyre Porcupine. For American Can, Union Pacific, Kennecott, Standard Oil of New Jersey, Harvester, American Tobacco "B," North American, Montgomery Ward and Santa Fe declines approximated 3 points. Homestake flopped 24¾. Loss of 1 to 2 points or so were very numerous.

Currency stabilization, bankers point out, would carry a number of possibilities, quite apart from possible stock market repercussions, particularly if the nations should agree on downward tariff revisions. Foreign trade, crippled by years of depression, has been further hampered by uncertainties as to monetary values and a return of steadier levels, it is contended, would be extremely helpful in restoring international business.

BANK OF ENGLAND.

London, June 15 (A.P.).—The weekly statement of the Bank of England shows the following changes in pounds: Total reserve increased 3,961,000; circulation decreased 3,442,000; bullion increased 500,000; other securities increased 2,481,000; public deposits increased 2,666,000; other deposits increased 2,834,000; notes reserve increased 3,914,000; government securities decreased 980,000.

The proportion of the bank's reserve to liability is 47.21 per cent, compared with 46.31 last week.

Rate of discount, 2 per cent.

BANK OF FRANCE.

Paris, June 15 (A.P.).—The weekly statement of the Bank of France shows the following changes in francs: Gold increased 44,000,000; sight balances abroad increased 78,000,000; bills discounted at home increased 115,000,00; bills bought abroad decreased 71,000,000; advances decreased 29,000,000; circulation decreased 835,000,000; current accounts increased 983,000,000.

Rate of discount, 2½ per cent.

BONDS SAG SLIGHTLY IN REACTION BATTLE

New York, June 15 (A.P.).—In the face of slumping stocks, the bond market held up fairly well today and only the more speculative issues were subjected to any unusual pressure.

Secondary rails and utilities bore the brunt of liquidation.

Sales dwindled somewhat on the decline, the total reaching only $14,467,000, par value. The average for 60 domestic corporate loans was off two-tenths of a point.

French government loans rallied around 2 points and improvement was shown by some of the Argentines, Belgians, Colombians and British. German government 7s recovered 1⅝ points, but the 8½s were off ⅛. Other reich issues were heavy.

May Motor Car Production At Highest Rate in 22 Months

New York, June 15 (A.P.).—May production of motor vehicles by member companies of the National Automobile Chamber of Commerce was the highest in 22 months, according to a preliminary report issued today.

Output totaled 172,683 units, a gain of 23 per cent over April and of 51 per cent over May, 1932. Production for the first five months of this year, on the basis of this estimate, amounted to 606,739 units as against 584,505 in the same 1932 period.

The chamber, holding its annual meeting here, reelected to its presidency Alvan Macauley, president of Packard Motor Co. The organization includes all major producers except the Ford Co.

CURB PRICES REACT UNDER PROFIT SALES

New York, June 15 (A.P.).—Early reactionary tendencies on the curb exchange today, due to profit-taking, assumed major proportions in the final hour, and the list closed heavy with losses ranging from 1 to more than 5 points.

Mining shares, soggy most of the day, finished weak. Gulf Oil was lower from the start of trading and finished 5¾ points off. Investment trust stocks were easy. Activity was low during portions of the session, but increased with the late selling.

Transfers approximated 828,000 shares, compared with 1,080,000 yesterday.

WHEAT VALUES SINK ON TAX-BONUS DATA

Corn and Oats Advance; Provision Prices Are Irregular.

Chicago, June 15 (A.P.).—Widely divergent views about prospective maximum processing taxes and bonuses to farmers August 1 led to turbulent grain markets today and lower prices for wheat.

A collapse of 2 cents a bushel in wheat values took place at one stage because of uncertainty as to details of proposed plans of the Washington administration. Violent tumbles in British exchange were also an unsettling factor, but transient wheat price rallies were numerous owing to predictions of a new heat wave and on account of trade assertions that the ultimate outcome of the tax and bonus plans of the Secretary of Agriculture would be likely to prove stimulating in the extreme.

Wheat closed nervous, 1 to 1¾ under yesterday's finish; corn, ½ to ¾ up; oats, ⅛ to ½ advance, and provisions varying from 7 cents decline to a rise of 2 cents.

Selling Blocks Market.

Rushes to sell overwhelmed the wheat market at times, especially in the early dealings and again in the final hour. Nevertheless, many traders expressed themselves as amazed at bearish reactions to Washington announcements relative to prospective quick applying of maximum processing taxes in the case both of wheat and cotton.

One leading grain authority said the processing tax implied agreement by growers to reduce wheat acreage next year, and would result in practical certainty that domestic consumption during the next 12 months would use up not only what the Uniter States grows this year, but an important part of the old wheat carried over from last year.

Corn and oats were firm most of the day, dominated by fear of another hot wave. Oats equaled the best prices of the season. Provisions averaged lower, responsible largely to wheat action.

What the Stock Market Did

	Thur.	Wed.
Advances	92	156
Declines	720	646
Unchanged	72	102
Total issues	884	904

Stocks.

Rapidly rising dollars caused stocks to take the worst tumble of the spring market. The average loss was 4.2 points. Sales volume dropped to 4,923,240 shares.

Bonds.

Loans held fairly well in the battle against reaction. Losses averaged two-tenths of a point. Sales totaled $14,467,000.

Curb.

Prices reacted under profit-taking pressure. This latter situation reached major proportions in final trading. The volume of dealing decreased to 823,000 shares.

Wheat.

Views on processing taxes and bonuses to farmers depressed wheat and prices declined. Corn and oats gained in a firm market. July wheat sold at 74½ to 74¾ cents.

Cotton.

The downward rush of other markets affected cotton and prices slumped 38 to 44 points in spite of an early rally. October sold at 9.13; July, 8.85.

COTTON RALLY FAILS TO PREVENT SLUMP

October Sells at 9.13 With General Market Down 38 to 44 Points.

New York, June 15 (A.P.).—A decline of about $2 a bale in cotton today was attributed chiefly to late weakness in the stock market and uncertainty as to acreage-reduction plans in Washington.

The late decline carried October to 9.10, or 45 points net lower and 58 points below the peak of the recent bull movement. That delivery closed at 9.13, with the general market closing easy at net declines of 38 to 44 points.

The opening was 4 to 6 points lower and active months soon showed net losses of 17 to 19 points under liquidation and scattered selling.

Early Liverpool Steady.

The relatively lower showing of the early Liverpool cables was ignored, and the attention of the trade was focused on overnight press reports from Washington that a processing tax would be imposed on cotton under the provisions of the agricultural adjustment act.

Rallies of several points followed the early decline on trade buying and covering. Prices broke in the late trading under active selling. July dropped to 8.85 and December to 9.28, with closing quotations at about the lowest of the day on most positions.

Late reports from Washington had a confusing influence on sentiment with reference to the administration's policies on cotton acreage reduction.

Good Weather Reports.

Reactionary sentiment was promoted by reports of continued good crop weather in the South, and the weakness in the grain market was a contributing factor on the decline.

Liverpool cables said the market there had reflected a favorable reception of overnight developments in connection with war debts, with traders awaiting news on the American acreage.

Exports today, 50,536, making 1,537,189 for this season. Port receipts, 9,216. U. S. port stocks, 1,668,891.

Cottonseed Oil.

Bleachable cottonseed oil was easy today under renewed liquidation and selling by commission houses, prompted by the easiness of cotton, the unsettlement of lard and the weakness in securities. Final prices were 6 to 8 points net lower. Sales, 13 contracts. Bleachable spot closed 3.25; July, 3.50; September, 3.54; December, 3.70; January, 3.75.

FOREIGN MARKETS.

(Associated Press.)

LONDON—America's acceptance of Britain's war debt token created a good impression on the stock exchange today, silenced securities, transatlantic issues and specialty improving. However, in view of the stock exchange's fortnightly settlement, support slackened in the afternoon and prices drooped. Transatlantic issues being affected by the improvement of the dollar. German bonds and Argentine rails were firm. The market closed easy.

PARIS—In absence of any encouragement from Wall street or London, prices on the bourse declined generally. There was no outstanding exception. The closing was heavy.

BERLIN—Prices on the boerse were unchanged today.

ABOUT THE SHOWSHOPS

With NELSON B. BELL

WHAT with all the hints that have been dropped here and there—not so much here as there, by the way—during the past week, your own personal perspicacity and one thing and another, it probably is no great surprise this morning to learn that the mysterious attraction to be seen at the Metropolitan this new week is "Gold Diggers of 1933," which will continue its downtown run by leaping blithely from the corner of Thirteenth and E streets to the corner of Tenth and F, after the manner of "42nd Street."

Joan Blondell.

This is an arrangement that is wholly justified by the box-office figures compiled during the record week's run at the Earle. "Gold Diggers" has consistently surpassed the number of patrons and the revenues enticed to the wicket by its musical precursor from the same studio.

It is, of course, superfluous to add as this late date that the principal roles in the new version of "Gold Diggers" are played by Ruby Keeler, Joan Blondell, Aline MacMahon, Dick Powell, Warren William, Ginger Rogers, Ned Sparks and Guy Kibbee, aided and abetted by a horde of scantily clad houris and a singing ensemble that will knock your eye out and blow your ears back!

While, I say, you may have been able to guess all that about what would be going on today at the Met, what you probably couldn't foresee was that the extraordinarily run of "When Ladies Meet," at the Palace, also would be continued downtown on F street, although not until after a three-day interval of quiescence.

By an eleventh-hour decision, arrived at last evening at something after 7, Zane Grey's "Sunset Pass" will not be the offering on the Columbia screen, come Monday. Instead, on that day, "When Ladies Meet" will resume its triumphant conquest of Washington's romantic susceptibilities as the principal item on the screen at Twelfth and F.

This—and this is also by way of being a redundancy—is the much discussed picturization of the Rachel Crothers play in which the principal roles are assumed with disputed degrees of success by Ann Harding, Robert Montgomery, Alice Brady, Myrna Loy, Frank Morgan, and numerous others of comparable distinction.

Speaking of Twelfth street—as nobody was especially—those whose memories are sufficiently elastic to stretch back to the year "Too Much Mustard" was the most popular novelty song imported from the other side, will remember that that sprightly composition, then considered as "hot" as its title, was the hit of the first gala year of the Raleigh Hotel Roof Garden.

The orchestra that played it introduced Daniel Breeskin, afterward one of Washington's most popular violinists and motion picture theater orchestra conductors to the pleasure-seeking public of the National Capital. That was a good many years ago—not less than 15 nor more than 20, if I have my guesser on straight—and hardly a man is now alive—

But what I started out to say was that history repeats itself. Tomorrow night, June 17, everything being propitious, the newly decorated and refurbished Raleigh Roof again will bid Washington welcome.

Situated on the tenth floor of the rejuvenated building, the Rambler Roof Garden will strike a new summer-time note in unique and refreshing atmosphere and environment. Oak trees and birch bark supply the principal motif and create the illusion of those cool, wooded places we all love so much in the summer's heat. Mrs. E. C. Owen is the originator of the Roof's new treatment.

A new dance floor has been installed, the cuisine will add to the fame of an already famous hostelry, and all of the punctilio of scrupulous management is insured by the fact that E. C. Owen, noted hotelman, is in charge.

This morning at 11 o'clock, according to last night's late advices, City Manager Carter Barron, of the Loew interests, will return to his accustomed duties from a one week's outing to his home in Atlanta, Ga., spent mostly on the road to and from in his car. At a late hour last night Col. Harry Long, pinch hitter de luxe, was busily engaged with a bottle of furniture polish in a comparatively futile effort to expunge his heel-marks from the record scratched deep into the polished surface of Mr. Barron's early Grand Rapids desk. Col. Long then was going to grab himself a train for Pittsburgh, of all places!

This desk gratefully acknowledges receipt of a copy of the 1933 Motion Picture Almanac, compiled by the Quigley Publishing Co., edited by Terry Ramsaye and packed with information that is invaluable to the motion picture editor, or any one else interested in authentic facts concerning the cinema and its people.

The book is a handsomely bound volume of 794 closely printed pages and will be this department's priceless handbook from now on.

I salute the skill and intelligence that assembled the contents of the almanac and extend my heartiest thanks. The book makes it easy for any m. p. editor to be his own Gene Dennis or Jane Morley!

And that reminds me. A friendly phone call from Gene Dennis as this was being written, to say au revoir one leap ahead of a midnight train. Gene has formed a deep attachment for Washington during her three weeks here and is already planning to return within the twelvemonth.

Incidentally, while she was bidding her friends a brief good-bye, Jane Morley was startling Jacqueline Moret, the visiting French "Jean Harlow Contest" winner being shown the high spots by Lou Brown of the Loew publicity department, by the accuracy of an intimate "reading" at the Club Michel.

Mr. Brown, I fear, will never make a successful stooge. Somebody shot a question at him last evening, but he couldn't think of the answer because he wasn't sure whether it was "Who's your sidekick?" or "Who's your psychic?"

After all, is a gentleman to have no privacy?

In undertaking to devise a film version of Edgcumb Pinchon's "Viva Villa," referred to in this space yesterday, the boys seem to have wished themselves into a nice mess of problems.

As was previously remarked, Villa, whom Director Jack Conway describes as a thoroughly bad man fighting for a good cause, will be portrayed by Wallace Beery. That in itself is a real problem—how to avoid offending the extensive Beery public.

"Our problem first is to select a few outstanding incidents from Villa's life," explains Conway, "which will not only give us a character consistent both with Berry's screen personality and the real Villa, but the basis for an entertaining story as well. What not to use is always the great problem in adapting a biographical story.

"Then, the picture will have to please Mexico or we would never be able to show it in that country. If our picture offended Mexico, an effort might be made to prevent our showing it in any country."

So what? So I'll tell you what. Let's not make it at all—that Pancho Villa wasn't so hot with a lot of people.

Better not put the blankets away again for a couple of days yet, anyhow!

Mrs. Cornelius Whitney Undergoes Operation

New York, June 15 (A.P.).—Mrs. Cornelius Vanderbilt Whitney underwent an operation yesterday morning at Le Roy Sanitarium, it was disclosed today. Both Dr. Benjamin P. Watson, who operated, and officials of the sanitarium declined to reveal the nature of the operation.

Her condition was described as "very good."

Tooth Saves Man's Life.

Meridian, Okla., June 15 (A.P.).—Carl Taylor, school superintendent here, owes his life to a tooth, physicians say. Taylor's rifle was discharged accidentally while he was hunting rabbits. The bullet went through his right thumb, entered the right side of his jaw and stopped when it hit a front tooth. Physicians said the bullet would have pierced his brain had it not been for the tooth.

A Statement by the Standard Oil Co. of New Jersey

IT WAS NOT A COINCIDENCE or an accident that the frantic claims which are appearing in current gasoline advertising were published all at the same time. There HAS been a recent improvement in gasoline. Many of the gasolines sold by well-known companies have been stepped up in anti-knock quality. Some are advertised as containing lubricating oil • These new improvements are the source of all the challenges and counter-challenges, claims and counter-claims and the wild statements that are now being dinned into your ears • This company has, of course, made the utmost use of these new means of giving you more fuel value for your money. But because of this we are not going to try to make you think that when you spend a few pennies for a gallon of gasoline you now get the services of Aladdin and his wonderful lamp and skim over the world with no effort or cost • But we will point out one thing. This company, the world's largest oil organization, asks you to believe no claims. We make none. Everything said about Essolene bears our guarantee •

FIRST • Essolene is compounded with a special lubricating solvent which is not intended to act as a motor lubricant but to clean, keep clean, smooth, and in proper working condition, valve stems, piston rings and piston ring grooves. Essolene contains no ordinary lubricating oil.

This Statement is Guaranteed

SECOND • Essolene's anti-knock value is unsurpassed by any regular priced gasoline.

This Statement is Guaranteed

THIRD • In Essolene the gaseous fractions have been removed to such an extent that it is non-gas-locking.

This Statement is Guaranteed

• These statements were released only after the most thorough tests of Essolene and competitive products in the world's largest Petroleum Research Laboratories • These are the guaranteed facts about Essolene. Read them carefully • Essolene, sponsored by the Standard Oil Company of New Jersey, is sold through Esso Stations and Dealers from Maine to Louisiana, and is colored orange to prevent substitution.

FRIDAY JUNE 16, 1933 SPORTS

This MORNING with SHIRLEY L. POVICH

EN ROUTE to St. Louis, June 15. Mr. Griffith's Washington baseball athletes this evening are converging on St. Louis in two detachments, from Indianapolis and the Capital, to take up the little matter of making some headway in the American League pennant race, following a three-day truce.

Five regular pitchers, detailed to work and rest in Washington while the remainder of the troupe trouped into the hinterlands for a pair of exhibition games, will join their clubmates tomorrow in the Missouri metropolis, where they will open firing on Saturday in a four-game series.

St. Louis is the graveyard of the pennant hopes of Washington teams in past seasons. The door mats for the remainder of the Eastern contenders usually rise belligerently when the Nats come to town. The Nats dropped two in a row to the Browns on their last visit.

Nats Have Won Last Five Games.

The Nats are hieing themselves westward with five straight victories in tow, the result of their recent efforts in three games with the Red Sox and two with the Athletics. They are boasting their lengthiest streak of the season. They are hitting like demons and their pitching has shown distinct signs of improving. They will be in the West with the first place gates wide open.

To a game and a half the Yankee lead has dwindled since the New York club fell on evil ways in Boston, losing four straight. First place is beckoning the Nats with more significant gestures than at any time since April. In the West, they will be meeting the so-called weaker teams. The issue is squarely up to Joe Cronin and his clubmates.

But the West of 1933 is not the West of past seasons, according to the standing of the clubs. Chicago is still winging up in third place. Cleveland is claiming first-division attention and Detroit is actually playing great ball. The Browns alone loom as set-ups on which the Nats may fatten their percentage.

Six Clubs in League Owe Debt to Red Sox.

The rest of the league, the Yankees excepted, can doff their chapeaus to the Red Sox for their yeoman work in making a dog-fight out of the league lead. Not since the war have the Red Sox won four straight games from the Yankees.

Within eight days, the floundering Yankees have seen a six-game lead shrink to a game and a half. It has been a sad period for the New York club, which has lost seven of its last nine starts. The conviction is growing that this is to be a wide-open pennant race and the bookies who laid it on the line on the Yankees at 3 to 5 odds in April have due cause for alarm.

During the past few days, Gomez, Allen, Ruffing, Pennock, Brennan and Van Atta have been shelled from the box. The Yankee pitching has been atrocious and their booming war clubs alone have not been able to carry them through. George Earnshaw it was who said the Yanks would have the pennant won by July 4. But he may not be wholly wrong. He didn't say what year.

RUNS, HITS AND ERRORS.

The Dodgers' deal for Sam Leslie, Giant first baseman, looks like bad news for Joe Judge . . . Joe staved off competition from two dozen other first basemen with the Nats

Jack White Cards 73 to Lead Caldwell, Pitt by Stroke.

Belshe, Shorey and Fitzgerald Among Qualifiers.

By DAVE HERMAN
(Post Staff Correspondent.)

ROLLING ROAD GOLF COURSE, Catonsville, Md., June 15.—Youth rode in the saddle today when Jack White, slender 15-year-old stripling from Catonsville High School and entry from the host club, stroked his way to a magnificent 73 to carry off honors in the two-day qualifying round of the annual Middle Atlantic Association golf championship.

Playing in his first major tournament the youthful White carded a 34 on the outgoing side and traversed the home stretch in 39 to pace a field of more than 80 golfers from Baltimore and Washington.

White outshot the two ranking favorites, Ernie Caldwell, of Hillendale, defending champion, and Harry Pitt, of Manor, by one stroke, and his total for the stiff 18-hole layout represented three above orthodox figures.

Pitt's Round Marred By Six.

Pitt, title holder in 1926, made a bold attempt to overtake the slim young "dark horse," but came to grief on the sixteenth hole, which he three-putted and wound up with a 6. The Manor Moose, snaring three birdies on the first nine, reached the turn in 36, 1 above par.

On the home journey Pitt encountered only two bad holes. On the 561-yard eleventh he underclubbed his approach, and it cost him a 6. From then until he floundered on the sixteenth green, Pitt played his shots with unerring accuracy and in par figures, finishing the last two holes 3-4 for 38 on the back nine.

When the qualifying battle ended late today, only four District contenders had made the grade for match play in the championship flight that begins tomorrow morning.

In addition to Pitt, there were Tom Belshe, of Indian Spring, who carved out a 77 in his medal round yesterday; Maury Fitzgerald, stocky Kenwood Country Club shot maker, who scored a fine 37 on the first nine and a 40 on the home stretch, after taking 7's on the eleventh and twelfth holes, and Johnny Shorey, also of Kenwood, who finished with a 79, but was forced to play off for the last three position with three others, each of whom had 79's.

Nee Is Eliminated On Fifth Hole.

Maury Nee, 17-year-old Columbia star, one of those in the play-off, came to a disastrous finish on the fifth hole. Shorey and Harris Jones, of Baltimore Country Club, shot birdies on the first hole to earn their places, but Nee traveled four additional holes with Howard E. Crook, jr., of Rolling Road, before he was eliminated. A shanked second shot did the damage, as Crook got down in par 4 figures.

With par proving invulnerable, the day saw its disappointments. Roger Peacock, of Indian Spring, District champion, blasted himself out of the title fight with an 83. Peacock suffered seven penalty strokes due mainly to a streak of wildness off the tee.

Billy Dettweiler, 15-year-old Manor entry, who played with the medalist, took no less than 40 putts for the round and skyrocketed his score to 83. The collegiate star, Craig Wood, representing Indian Spring, blew up

Londos Takes 67 Minutes To Pin Foe

Wins Over Zaharias in Interesting Battle at Stadium.

Ernie Dusek Defeats Speers; O'Shocker Downs Raines.

By FRANK H. YOUNG.

IT was a case of when Greek meets Greek in the rassle feature at Griffith Stadium last night and, as in all cases of this kind—when one of the Greeks is Champion Jimmy Londos—there is only one answer, the champ is still champ. George Zaharias was the victim and to his credit it must be said that he put up the best battle seen against this Londos person during his many visits to the Capital. The end came after an hour and seven minutes of work and suffering by both combatants.

The affair started slowly enough and reminded of the first act of a musical show. Zaharias continually "hot cha-ed" and they opened with the "Spring Song," with Londos, as usual, dashing in circles around the ring. He must have traveled two miles, including two fast quarters, before the pair got close enough for a hold. Later, Londos began "hot chaing," too, and the boys at times sounded like an imitation of the famed four Hawaiians.

Caresses Champ's Jaw With Fist.

Fully 15 minutes elapsed before they got down to real business and from then on it was quite a match. Zaharias doled out most of the early torture, clamping four punishing headscissors and two body ones in rapid order and all the while caressing the champ's jaw with his fist.

Fans thought it was the end at the 35-minute mark when Londos followed a series of flying mares with his famed airplane spin and body slam, but Zaharias showed a return to life and the fur flew for the next half hour. Both were pretty well all in when finally Londos literally beat Zaharias to the floor and flopped him over on his back after a series of body slams.

Usually when Londos has the feature spot, the rest of the card is only mediocre, but the 7,000 who helped the Washington Food Fund for School Children by their presence were given quite a run for their money.

In the semifinal, that quaint old Southern gentleman, Frank Speers, formerly of Georgia Tech, and Ernie Dusek, of the Omaha Duseks, put on their version of "When Knighthood was in Flower." But as they played the roles, knighthood had gone to seed sometime ago, for it was a rough-and tumble affair from start to finish with the idea of ethics tucked away with their street clothes in the locker room. Few punches were pulled and they spared neither themselves nor each other. Dusek finally copping the verdict after a flying tackle which had Speers on his feet but out at the end of 20½ minutes.

Red-headed Pat O'Shocker was back, after a long absence, to sink Dick Raines on a series of crotch-holds and body slams in 24 minutes in the opening bout, while it took Abe Coleman nearly 18 minutes before he could connect properly with

Giants Gain O'Doul in Deal; Braves Get Whitney, of Phils

NEW YORK, June 15 (A.P.).—Frank ("Lefty") O'Doul, greatest hitter in the National League last season, and Watson Clark, one of the game's outstanding left-handed pitchers, moved over from the Brooklyn Dodgers to the New York Giants in exchange for Slugging Sam Leslie today as the big league clubs sought last minutes reinforcements before the close of the trading season at midnight tonight.

After refusing to trade Johnny Frederick for Leslie last winter, Max Carey, manager of the Robins, finally was forced to give up his best pitcher and a famed clouter to get the sensational young first baseman who has been hitting .321 as an understudy for his manager, Bill Terry. The Dodgers' need for a hitting first baseman became acute with the failure of the veteran Joe Judge and Del Bissonette to fill the holes.

While O'Doul's value to the Giants is questionable, because of his slump this season after leading the league with a mark of .368 last year, the experts agreed today that Terry had greatly increased the club's chances of holding the National League lead with the acquisition of Clark.

Won 20 Games Last Season.

The lean southpaw won 20 games for Brooklyn last season, and though he has taken only two decisions in the present campaign while losing 4, he bolsters vitally Terry's weakest link, a pitching staff that has been struggling along with only three really starting hurlers. Incidentally, the last game Clark lost was a 2-to-0 struggle with the Giants.

PHILADELPHIA, June 15 (A.P.).—The Phillies of the National League got under the trading wire in a swap which sent Third Baseman Arthur (Pinkey) Whitney and Outfielder Hal Lee to the Boston Braves a short time before the bars went up in the baseball market place tonight.

The Phils got Fritz Knothe, Wesley Schulmerich and an unannounced sum of cash, said unofficially to be "upwards to $75,000."

The completion of the deal was announced by Gerald P. Nugent, president of the Phillies. The traded players are expected to report to their new clubs immediately.

Knothe is a third baseman with the Braves, and Schulmerich an outfielder.

The trade takes away the Phillies' captain as well as one of the best younger outfielders in the league. Whitney came to the Phils in 1928, and Lee was acquired from Brooklyn in December, 1929.

Whitney was one of the prize pick-ups the Quakers made in the draft grab bag in the last few seasons. Previously the property of the Cleveland Indians, he was sent to New Orleans and the Phils drafted him from the Pelicans in 1928.

Braves Humble Giants by 7 to 4

New York, June 15 (A.P.).—One big inning by the Boston Braves was too much for the Giants today, despite constant hitting, and the visitors won the series final, 7 to 4. With the St. Louis Cardinals idle, the Giants still held the National League lead.

The Braves landed on Freddy Fitzsimmons for six hits and as many runs in the fourth inning to put away the ball game, after the Giant pitcher had bruised his pitching hand knocking down a couple of liners. New York collected 16 hits off Ed Fallenstin and Tom Zachary, but had 14 men left on bases.

RISKO FIGHT DELAYED.

Cleveland, June 15 (A.P.).—A boxing program featured by a 10-round contest between two Cleveland heavyweights, Johnny Risko and Patsy Perroni, scheduled to be held here tonight, was postponed late today until tomorrow night because of threatening weather.

Ray Starr, of Giants, Purchased by Braves

New York, June 15 (U.P.).—The New York Giants announced tonight the sale of Ray Starr, right-handed pitcher, to the Boston Braves. Because of the trade, earlier in the day, with Brooklyn, the Giants had more than the legal number of 23 players, and they had to let one go. Starr came to the Giants in a trade with the Cards last winter, but has not done much in the way of pitching this year.

Brother Beats Sutter; Murray Also Defeated

Memphis, Tenn., June 15 (A.P.).—The defeat of Ed Sutter at the hands of his 16-year-old brother Ernest, and the elimination of Dan Murray, of New Orleans, former Southern champion, by Ed Barnett, of Little Rock, upset the dope in the men's quarter finals of the Memphis Country Club invitation tennis tournament today.

Ernest Sutter turned back his brother, 2—6, 6—0, 6—3, while Barnett, the Arkansas State champion, took Murray, top-seeded player in the tournament, 6—2, 5—7, 6—2.

$2,500 Back Alimony Is Sought From Kearns

Los Angeles, June 15 (A.P.).—A suit charging Jack Kearns, manager of boxers, with being 25 weeks behind in alimony payments was filed in Superior Court today by Mrs. Legana Kearns.

She said Kearns was ordered by a Chicago court in May, 1932, to pay her $6,000 at the rate of $100 weekly. Mrs. Kearns stated he kept up the payments for 35 weeks, but neglected them the last 25. She asked judgment of $2,500.

Indianapolis Contest to Nats, 7-5

Burke Yields 17 Hits But Goes Route in Exhibition.

Goslin Hammers Out 4 Safeties, Leading Nats' Attack.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., June 15 (A.P.).—Joe Cronin's blasting Nats drove Jack Tising, Indianapolis ace right-hander, from the mound with a barrage of nine hits in the first three innings today and then coasted to a 7-to-5 victory over the American Association Club in a loosely played exhibition game.

Tising sailed through the first inning safely, allowing only one hit, but in the second was touched for six blows, good for five runs. Schulte started the fireworks with a single to left and before the frame was over Bluege had doubled and Bolton, Burke, Manush and Goslin singled, and Tising was ready for the showers.

The Indians picked up a run in their half of the second on Wingard's double, Bedore's single and Angely's out-field fly. The Nats sewed up the game in the third with another run on Schulte's single and Bluege's double. They added another in the ninth for good measure on singles by Harris, Boken and Burke.

Burke Yields Runs.

Indianapolis got to Bob Burke, visiting moundsman for three runs in the fifth on singles by Sigafoos, Angely and Wingard and a double by Bedore. Burke, although he gave up a total of 17 safe blows to the Tribe, never was in serious trouble except in that frame. Meanwhile he and his mates had little difficulty picking up safe blows when they were needed and got four hits off each, Bill Burwell and Jim Turner, the latter finishing the contest.

The Indians attempted to rally in both the eighth and ninth innings, managing to get one run across in the eighth on Harris' error and Chapman's double, in the ninth. Brawand, a local sandlotter who was given a trial at third base today, struck out with the bases loaded as Burke stifled the attempt.

Goose Goslin led the Washington offensive with four hits while Bolton and Schulte collected three each. Tom Angely, Indianapolis catcher who has been in a batting slump, led the Tribe's attack with three safeties today.

Cubs Shut Out Pirates; Hidden Ball Protested

Chicago, June 15 (A.P.).—Promoted from the relief pitching department to a starting job, Bud Tinning today responded by holding the Pittsburgh Pirates to four hits as the Cubs won their second shutout victory in two days, 5 to 0.

The contest was finished under a protest lodged by Manager George Gibson of the Pirates after his pitcher, Hal Smith, was made the victim of the hidden ball trick in the fifth inning.

YALE MEETS HARVARD IN REGATTA

Eli Crew Underdog in Annual Varsity Race Today.

By ALAN GOULD.

NEW LONDON, June 15 (A.P.).—Harvard's more experienced and powerful heavyweight varsity crew was established a slight favorite today to capture the four mile varsity boat race from Yale tomorrow evening, for the third consecutive year.

Final brief workouts along the cool upper reaches of the historic Thames River course found both boatloads in first class condition, the rival camps confident and the picturesque surroundings taking on their annual holiday color, but the big, brawny Harvard outfit has caught the fancy of a majority of critics.

This particular Harvard varsity eight, rowing its last four-mile race together, has a remarkable record to sustain.

Polydorus, Favorite, Fails to Last, and Is Out of Money.

Belmont Filly Victor After Running Wild for 4 1-4 Miles.

LINCOLN FIELDS, Ill., June 15 (A.P.).—Norman W. Church's Sundot, ably ridden by Wayne Wright, gave the form players a jolt today in winning the Glenwood purse, the day's best offering at Lincoln Fields.

Abraham Bartelstein's Polydorus went to the post a 1-to-2 favorite and, nearing the stretch of the mile race, was running third. He didn't have what it took, however, and Sundot, making his first Chicago start, outlasted Knight's Gal to win by a length and a quarter in 1:37. Big Beau landed the show pot.

Lightly regarded in the wagering, Sundot paid $14.34 straight, $8.86 to place and $5.14 to show.

Sation Impressive In Victory.

Belmont Park Race Track, New York, June 15 (A.P.).—George D. Widener's 3-year-old gelding, Sation, which won his only two previous starts at this point, again raced to victory in highly impressive fashion here today and the racing fraternity still would like to know how good the gelding really is. The son of Galetan, favorite at 9 to 10, finished the seven furlongs of the Lamplighter Handicap with four lengths advantage, making the fast time of 1:24 1-5 under 116 pounds.

G. H. Bostwick's Uncanny garnered the place by a length and a half from the Sage Stable's Microphone, the only other starter. The latter was a close second choice at 11 to 10, while Uncanny closed at 18 to 1.

Strange Exhibition Is Staged.

The crowd was treated to one of the strangest and most remarkable exhibitions ever staged by a thoroughbred, with the Kershaw Stable's Watch Her supplying the thrills in the fifth race. Favorite in the field of nine 2-year-old fillies, the daughter of On Watch lunged and wheeled while at the barrier tossed Jockey Pascuma and ran away 4¼ miles before being caught. The filly even darted through the hedge at the far side of the back stretch. Meantime, form players were bemoaning their losses and figured their chances dead.

After nearly 33 minutes delay, the field was sent on its way. To the great surprise of all, Watch Her took the lead after a furlong and, continuing majestically, won in easy fashion by a length and a half. Miss Merriment was second, three lengths before Guiding Light.

Fox Hunter, at 25-1, Wins Ascot Gold Cup

Ascot, England, June 15 (U.P.).—Carrying 126 pounds, Edward Esmond's Fox Hunter today won the Ascot Gold Cup, with Sir Alfred Butts' Orphen, 130, second, and D. S. Kennedy's Nitsichin, 127, third. Ten started.

King George, Queen Mary, the Duke of Gloucester and Prince George attended the race.

The winner paid 25 to 1. Orphen paid 7 to 2, and Nitsichin, 15 to 2. Fox Hunter finished a length ahead of Orphen, who led Nitsichin by five lengths. The favorite, Lord Woolavington's Brulette, finished out of the money.

AT THE POST

with Bill Bennings

DEAR AL: LINCOLN FIELDS, JUNE 15.

I went to the chalk box here today and grabbed myself three winners. Predict, Ding Bin and Pancoast stepped home ahead of fields just as I said they would. Among my other track selections, I had Watch Her over at Belmont and they tell me she ran away four and a half miles and then came back to win the race. Young Westrope was on a riding rampage here again today. Grabbed off three purses. At other courses today, try these: Squeeze Play, Imelda, Rebel Yell, Cutie Face, Omarvitus. BILL.

FIRST RACE—LAMP BLACK finds a field to his liking in the opener and the son of Black Toney can be depended upon to make a race of it. Shares top weight with the leading contender. LASALLE appears second best. KNOWLTON is better than that last.

SECOND RACE—YTFIN is a speedy juvenile filly which appears to have the edge on this group. DOROTHEA had a rough trip the last time and clear sailing tomorrow may make a difference. OLD LADY for the show.

THIRD RACE—Broad Meadows has both races and trials as recommendations and figures to take care of these sprinters. LADFIELD is in fine form and may make the top one hustle. HIGHER for the other money position.

FOURTH RACE—I'm going to try to make PORTMANTEAU beat ETCERERA. The first named is a game one. ETCETERA is speedy but none too courageous. GUN FIRE seems good enough to earn a place in the cash picture.

FIFTH RACE—GRAND PRINCE hasn't run his real race lately and I have reason to believe that one of his best efforts has been reserved for tomorrow. Such would make this field show a lot of speed to beat him. CHIMNEY SWEEP and WHIRLING for place and show.

SIXTH RACE—WISE DAUGHTER, one of the best 2-year-olds of the season, seems to have a soft spot here. BRUSTIGERT ran impressively hereabouts and should be close up at the finish. SWIFT SPORT to take care of the others.

SEVENTH RACE—SAMBO BROWN, likely to draw Westrope again, is a good betting proposition in this. Ran a bang-up race here yesterday. RED CASINO, one that has improved suddenly, to beat ATEL for the place award.

EIGHTH RACE—HARAMZADA has disappointed of late but should turn in a winning effort among these. SPECTACULAR is now in shape and might be the upsetter. MORALITY to show.

Jockey R. Arnold Dies From Bainbridge Spill

Cleveland, June 15 (A.P.).—Jockey Ray Arnold, of Keosoqua, Iowa, was injured fatally today when his mount, Flowery Lady, fell during the running of the fifth race at the Bainbridge Track here. He died in a hospital.

The accident was the first major spill in the current meet. Spectators said apparently Arnold's mount stumbled and threw the jockey to the ground.

Death Takes Anderson, Golfer

Leading Player and Authority Won 53 Championships.

NEW YORK, June 15 (A.P.).—John G. Anderson, a leading golf player and authority for a quarter of a century, died today in Columbus, Ohio, after a month's illness following a nervous breakdown. He was 49.

During his long career he was a voluminous writer on golf in the magazines both of America and Great Britain and had won 53 golf championships of various importance here and abroad, including the Massachusetts State intercollegiate, Metropolitan and French national amateur. He was runner-up for the United States amateur title in 1913 and again two years later.

A graduate of Adams Academy, at Quincy, Mass., and Amherst College, Mr. Anderson was a teacher of English in the Fessenden School, Newton, Mass., from 1905 to 1914. In 1915 he took a master's degree from Columbia University and the same year joined the staff of John Wanamaker as an adviser on sports. In 1919 he became chairman of the Millrose Athletic Association and since 1927 had acted as its president.

Began Golfing Career At College.

Mr. Anderson began his golfing career while a student at Amherst, winning the intercollegiate title twice, in 1903 and 1905, and continued his fine play while teaching at Fessenden. Twenty-one years after, his first intercollegiate title he won the French championship and annexed it again in 1926.

During his career he set new records for 11 courses and was credited with 7 holes-in-1, his record being a single stroke on the 328 yard sixteenth hole at Brae Burn, Newton. He was a member of the Lesley Cup team for several years and at his death was a member of both the New York Athletic Club and its golf affiliate, Winged Foot.

He is survived by his widow, a daughter, Betty, and a son, John Anderson.

Nation's Best Run Here in Marathon

Big Field Tomorrow Topped by Pawson and Komonen.

SOURCE of spirited controversy since last April in marathon circles, the title of the world's greatest 26-mile galloper may be decided tomorrow when the second annual National A. A. U. championship is held from Mount Vernon to the zero milestone in back of the White House, exactly 26 miles 385 yards by a circuitous route.

Since Leslie Pawson, of Pawtucket, R. I., won the famous Boston Patriots Day race in the world record time of 2 hours 31 minutes and 1 3-5 seconds, the marathon world has awaited with eagerness a return meeting between Pawson and Dave Komonen, a Finn, who is hailed by many as the greatest marathoner in the world today. Tomorrow that meeting will materialize. Definite word from each, assuring they would be ready for the starter's gun, was received yesterday.

Famous Runners Entered.

Neither Pawson nor Komonen, however, are certain to win, or even finish among the leaders. Names of famous and dangerous runners popped up by the score last night as officials of the marathon compiled the official entry list and handed out numbers.

The field will get under way from Mount Vernon at 2 o'clock and proceed along the new Mount Vernon boulevard to Potomac Park, and thence down Fourteenth street and Constitution avenue to the Capitol, where it will turn down Pennsylvania avenue and enter the home stretch for the zero milestone in back of the White House.

The official list of entries, with their numbers, follows:

1, Clyde D. Martak, Baltimore Cross-Country Club; 2, Leslie Pawson, Pawtucket, R. I.; 3, Dave Komonen, Montreal A. C., Toronto, Canada; 4, Percy Wyer, Monarch A. A HISTORY-MAKING field and track meet was held yesterday in the Central Stadium, under the auspices of the Department of Playgrounds. Elementary school youngsters who qualified for yesterday's finals by winning places in seven division meets, held during the month of May, broke all records for the number to compete in the final event, when 619 boys vied for city honors. About 2,000 youngsters competed in the divisional games.

Langdon School was the leading point scorer, with 75, but the visitors were pressed all the way by Adams, which tallied 66 points. In all there were 26 schools that scored points and, despite the lowly place in scoring made by some of the schools, there were several interesting battles for positions all down the line. Langdon also captured the junior class meet with a total of 37 points to 25 scored by Adams.

As keen as was the contest for first place, the jockeying for third place created considerable interest. Park View, last year's champions, finally captured ahow position with 35 markers, just 2 more than fourth-place Peabody and 3 more than fifth-place Wheatley.

New Broad Jump Mark Set.

The day did not go by without one record-breaking performance. Donald Price, of Langdon, lowered the 70-pound running broad jump record with a leap of 13 feet 9 inches, 1 inch better than Fitzgerald, of Takoma School, who has held the record since 1929.

Boys who were first, second or third in each event received gold, silver and bronze medals from the Playground Department, and fourth and fifth placers were awarded ribbons suitably inscribed. The winning Langdon team was awarded the Department of Playgrounds Trophy.

Congressional Entries Will Close Tomorrow

Entries for the Congressional Country Club invitation golf tournament will close tomorrow morning at 9 o'clock, the tournament committee, headed by William J. McEvoy, announced last night.

A field of more than 200 golfers, including the cream of District talent, is expected to tee off in the qualifying rounds next Tuesday and Wednesday. Match play claims the spotlight the following Friday and Staurday. The players will be bracketed in five flights of 16 each.

Trackmen Vie At Chicago Today

Colleges and Schools Send Their Best to Title Events.

CHICAGO, June 15 (A.P.).—The best of the country's crop of college track stars and another group comprising high school aces will open the biggest track and field show of the season tomorrow at Soldier Field in the N. C. A. A. and National Interscholastic meets.

Trials in both championship rallies will be held in the afternoon with the preps battling out the finals Saturday afternoon and the older stars staging their title struggle Saturday night under floodlights.

In the team championship fight Southern California and Stanford, with Indiana not far off, appear to be the leading contenders. Any one of the kid teams may pop up as the 1933 titleholder, although Senior High, of Arkansas City, Kans., has sent up a big team in an effort to retain honors won last year.

Metcalf Again Favored.

The individual championship matches will provide a full set of brilliant contests. Ralph Metcalfe, Marquette Negro who swept the dashes a year ago, is expected to repeat. Outside of his events there will be few favorites.

Glenn Cunningham of Kansas, who has thoroughly established himself as the country's greatest middle distance runner, will win the mile unless something unexpected happens. In the half mile, however, should he decide to compete, he will have his work cut out for him. Charles Hornbostel, of Indiana, will lead a powerful field against the Kansan.

Bill Miller, of Stanford, and Bill Graber, of Southern California, will renew their pole vauting vendetta. And Willis Hard, Michigan Negro; Bob Van Oesel, and Duncan McNaughton, of Southern California, and others who have bettered 6 feet 6 inches in the high jump may produce a new world record.

Ben Eastman, Stanford's brilliant quarter and half-miler, today was withdrawn from the meet, his injured leg having failed to regain full strength.

Junior Golf Entries Deadline Tomorrow

All junior members of District clubs affiliated with the Maryland State Golf Association are requested to take notice of the deadline for sending in entries for the Maryland State junior championship, scheduled Monday at the Roland Park course of the Baltimore Country Club.

The deadline is noon tomorrow. Entries should be sent to the Maryland State Golf Association, 16 McClellan place, Baltimore.

Mrs. Bradbury Winner Of Tschiffely Tourney

Mrs. F. W. Bradbury, with 102—106—44—164, won the Douglas Tschiffely Trophy yesterday at Washington Golf and Country Club in the 36-hole medal handicap tournament.

Mrs. William E. Hall, with 97—98—26—169, was second; Mrs. G. S. Bogan, with 111—114—50—175, third, and Mrs. J. L. Fieser, with 111—98—32—177, fourth. Mrs. G. S. Applegate won the fifth prize.

Prizes were donated by Mrs. Tschiffely, Mrs. J. E. McCabe, Mrs. C. H. Merillatt and Max Meck.

STRANGE AS IT SEEMS —By John Hix

For further proof address the author, inclosing a stamped envelope for reply. Reg. U. S. Pat. Off.

THE speed of sound is not dependent upon its source or volume, but rather upon the medium through which it travels. Through a given medium, such as air, water or a solid, the sound of a dropping pin travels just as fast as that from a heavy explosion.

Sound travels much faster through most solids than it does through liquids, and generally speaking, it travels faster through liquids than through gases. In air at ordinary temperatures the speed of sound is a little more than 1,100 feet per second. Under heavy pressure the speed is greater, and at high temperatures the speed more than doubles.

In solids sound travels an average of about 10 times as fast as in air. In glass the speed reaches nearly 20,000 feet, or more than three miles per second. Among metals lead offers the greatest resistance to speed, with just over 4,000 feet per second.

One exception to the rule that sound generally travels faster in solids than in air is found in vulcanized rubber. In that medium sound travels but 177 feet per second. In iron and steel the speed of sound is about 16,000 feet per second.

A person listening for an approaching train which is, say three miles away, would hear the click of the wheels in one second by holding an ear to the rail. Sound of the whistle sounded at the same point, if it could be heard, would not reach the listener until 12 or 13 seconds later.

Colors give added realism to strange things and happenings illustrated by John Hix on a full page in The Sunday Post.

PARK SAVINGS BANK MAY ENTER MERGER IN NEW DEPOSITORY

Directors Name Committee to Assist in Plans for Paying Depositors.

With Chevy Chase Savings Bank, first of the 13 restricted banking institutions of the city, opening yesterday as a branch of Riggs National Bank, with 60 per cent of its deposits available, the possibility of Park Savings Bank coming into the merger of seven institutions to form the proposed Hamilton National Bank of Washington, came to the fore in the city's restricted banking situation.

This possibility is seen in the announcement of Frank J. Sabotka, past president of Columbia Heights Business Mens Association, who has been in conference with United States Treasury Department officials regarding a plan to start either a new institution, replacing Park Savings Bank, or aligning the latter institution as the eighth to participate in the Hamilton plan.

Members of the board of directors of the Park Savings Bank decided at a meeting in the bank last night to give their full cooperation to all investigations and all plans for payment of the depositors. A committee, headed by Wade H. Atkinson, was selected to work with the Department of Justice, the Treasury Department and others working to save the depositors of the bank.

Committee of Directors.

Members of the committee are Charles W. Bolgiano, E. T. Goodman, N. Mountford and C. M. Murray.

Other members of the board of directors included Justice Joseph W. Cox, of the District Supreme Court; Peter M. Dorsch, G. W. Forsberg, J. O. Green, C. F. Jenkins, A. F. Jorss, Claude W. Owen, Robert L. W. Owens, Norman W. Oyster, H. A. Polkinhorn, George A. Prevost, Maurice Schlosberg, J. Robert Sommerville, W. M. Walles, George E. Walker and C. C. Wineberger.

In explanation of the delay of the directors in announcing their cooperation in efforts to save the bank's depositors, members of the board said it seemed inappropriate to act until the Department of Justice had made its investigation.

Mr. Sobotka has appointed a committee representing various groups of stockholders, depositors, business men and other Columbia Heights interests, with a view to establishing a banking institution for this section in the most satisfactory manner.

Committee Is Named.

This committee is composed of Joseph W. Kinghorne, Harry Davis (president Diamond Taxicab Co.), Dr. Wade Atkinson, A. R. Swan (president Columbia Heights Business' Men's Association), A. Guy Reber, Dr. Harry Baker Smith (pastor Columbia Heights Christian Church), Mrs. J. Morton Rissler, A. N. Edwards and John Boteler.

While there has been sentiment in favor of an independent community bank for this section, Mr. Sobotka is of the opinion that it might be more difficult to raise sufficient funds for such an entorprise, and that a more practical plan might be the establishment of a branch of the prospective Hamilton Bank in this locality. The move in the last direction, however, has not yet proceeded beyond informal conferences between Edwin C. Graham, selected president for the Hamilton Bank, United States Treasury officials and members of Mr. Sobotka's committee.

Bank Stocks Estimated.

Should a new independent national bank be desired, Mr. Sobotka said it would be necessary to subscribe a financial structure of $240,000, of which $200,000 would be capital stock and $40,00 surplus. In face of this, while no definite allotment of stock has been made as a requirement for a Columbia Heights bank to become a member of the Hamilton Bank plan, an informal estimate has been placed at between $50.00 and $100.00 worth of stock, selling at $25 a share, with par value of $20. Park Savings Bank has approximately 14,000 depositors.

Chevy Chase Savings Bank, opened as a branch of Riggs National Bank yesterday morning. President Robert V. Fleming and Vice President and Cashier George O. Vass of Riggs National Bank were present. Harold W. Burnside, an assistant cashier of Riggs National Bank and former assistant manager of its Farmers & Mechanics branch, will be manager of the new branch and J. Ezra Troth, former cashier of Chevy Chase Savings Bank, will be assistant manager. John C. Walker, former president of Chevy Chase Savings Bank, will remain as its conservator and liquidate its frozen assets.

The advisory board for the new branch is composed of the following former directors of Chevy Chase Savings Bank: Joseph A. Burkart, Sidney C. Cousins, Clyde D. Garrett, Ralph Given, Bynum E. Hinton, George P. Hoover, Fred W. MacKenzie, Edward J. Murphy, Samuel Peacock, Thomas W. Perry, Frank H. Shipe, Paul Sieman and Ben T. Webster.

TIGHTENING URGED IN COLLECTION LAWS

Seventh Street Business Group Opposes Parking Ban in Area.

Enactment of a law providing retail credit houses with stronger legal machinery for collecting defaulted accounts of customers, doing business on the extended payment plan, was advocated last night by Representative Thomas L. Blanton, Texas, in a speech before the Seventh Street Business Men's Association at Scholl's Cafe.

Declaring he was frequently "panned" in certain local circles, Representative Blanton said all of his activities with regard to the District were for the good of this jurisdiction and the people living in it.

The association last night voted to extend its boundaries north from K street to New York avenue and south from G street to Pennsylvania avenue. East and west of Seventh street membership eligibility was also voted, with soliciting of firms for membership to be left to the discretion of committees to be named by Cecil D. Kaufmann, president of the association.

The Association went on record, after considerable discussion, as opposing continuation of the parking ban on Seventh street northwest between the hours of 8 and 9:30 a. m.

Postoffice Clerk's Outing

The National Federation of Postoffice Clerks, Local No. 140, will hold its annual moonlight trip tomorrow night down the Potomac on the City of Washington.

COCHRAN SAYS RED PRIMER HARMLESS

Withdraws Charges Made in House After Reading Russian Textbook.

Charges that communistic doctrines were read in a Washington high school classroom were withdrawn yesterday by Representative John J. Cochran (Democrat), Missouri, following a personal investigation into the matter.

"I have made no attempt to learn the teacher's name, nor do I intend to, as I am convinced no harm has been done," the Missouri representative said. After reading a copy of the Russian primer allegedly read, he said he found nothing very objectionable in it.

Earlier, Representative Oscar De Priest (Republican), Illinois, introduced a resolution calling for an exhaustive investigation to determine if communism is being taught in District public schools and other institutions using Government funds.

DePriest Asks Probe.

The De Priest resolution came on the heels of the colored Illinois representative's defense of Dr. Mordecai Johnson, president of Howard University, from charges in a colored newspaper that the university head advocated practice of Communism to the senior class of the school.

It was during discussion of the Johnson incident in the House, Wednesday, that Representative Cochran charged that the mother of a Washington high school student told him a translated copy of a Soviet primer was read to a high school class.

"My remarks could be accepted as condemning the action of the teacher," Mr. Cochran told the House yesterday.

"My purpose in rising today is to say I have secured from a friend a copy of the primer. Of course it is propaganda, but not offensive propaganda. It does not teach revolution; it does not advocate the destruction of governments. It is a statement of facts in relation to the five-year plan, written so Russian children would understand the plan, translated in English, printed and sold in this country."

Retracts Criticism.

He said he would go as far as any member of the House to oppose Communism, but felt his criticism in this instance was not warranted.

"Had I read the primer prior to making the public statement, I would not have referred to it," he said.

"I feel I owe it to the House, the people of Washington and to the country to make this statement, which I do solely of my own accord."

Representative De Priest, in defending Dr. Johnson from charges in a Chicago Negro newspaper, said he did not think Communism was being taught at Howard University, but urged investigation by a special committee of five to make certain no anti-American propaganda is being disseminated in institutions supported by Federal funds.

Dr. Fowler Tells Aid For Health Over WMAL

Until health becomes the concern of society as a whole instead of merely that of a few individuals, it will be impossible to make rapid progress in stamping out disease, Dr. H. A. Fowler, president of the District of Columbia Medical Society, declared last night in speaking on the weekly "Community Forum" series over Station WMAL.

In introducing Dr. Fowler, Herbert L. Willett, jr., assistant director of the Community Chest, said that the depression had had a very definite result in increasing both mental and physical sickness.

Houghton Gives Advice On Golf to Kiwanians

Al Houghton, golf professional at Kenwood, told and demonstrated how members of the Washington Kiwanis Club could improve their game yesterday when he was a guest at the club's luncheon at the Raleigh Hotel.

Dewey Eirkin, president, announced that there would be an intercolub golf and dinner meeting at Manassas, Va., tonight, under the direction of Frank T. Mitchell, sports chairman, and George H. Winslow, interclub relation chairman. About 30 members of the Washington club will attend.

SENATOR KING SAYS FUND CUT WILL NOT HALT RENT INQUIRY

Points Out P. U. C. Is Under Orders to Report Back on Findings.

The Public Utilities Commission's investigation of rental conditions in the District will go forward as planned, regardless of conference action eliminating a $2,500 item from the fourth deficiency bill for the probe, Senator William H. King (Democrat), Utah, said last night.

The chairman of the Senate District Committee pointed out that the commission is under instructions to prosecute the investigation and report back to the Senate, under a resolution adopted by the Senate last week.

Action of the conferees in striking out the $2,500 appropriation precipitated a discussion of the legality of rent legislation in the Senate yesterday, after Senator King arose to deplore elimination of the item.

Constitutionality Issue.

Senator King, Senator Copeland (Democrat), New York, and Senator Borah (Republican), Idaho, cited precedent for local rent legislation, when Senator Norris (Republican), Nebraska, raised the question of constitutionality.

Senator Copeland said the same problem arose in his own State, and the courts sustained the New York rent law.

"If we can pass a law under which the Federal Government can go into my State and regulate a business doing an intrastate business, can there be any doubt of the right of Congress to control the District of Columbia?" asked Senator Borah.

Senator Norris wanted to know why it is necessary to wait two or three years for further investigation, if the Senate District Committee thinks rent legislation is necessary.

Old Rule Invoked.

Senator King said there was not so much necessity for investigation as there was for a liaison officer who would collect information and adjust complaints until Congress can come back in January and pass necessary legislation.

In answer to Senator King's complaint over elimination of the appropriation, Senator Bratton (Democrat), New Mexico, explained that House conferees has insisted on the old rule requiring that items of appropriation originate in the House. The $2,500 was attached to the bill while it was in the Senate.

The $3,600,000,000 fourth deficiency conference report, minus the rent investigation fund, was adopted immediately and sent to the President.

Phone Audit Parley Of P. U. C. Closes

The Interstate Commerce Commission yesterday took under advisement the changes in the uniform system of telephone accounting proposed by the several State public service commissions and the Public Utilities Commission at the conclusion of a two-day hearing.

William A. Roberts, special counsel of the District Commission, made an unsuccessful attempt to challenge the jurisdiction of the I. C. C., but he was speedily overruled by Examiner Walker and was not sustained in his challenge by representatives of the State commissions.

In the absence of Dr. Milton R. Maltbie, chairman of the New York commission, David Lilienthal, of Wisconsin, spoke for the State commissions. He declared that the primary purpose of the changes proposed was to aid in the regulation of telephone rates. The revised uniform system of accounting prescribed by the I. C. C., he said, was an obstacle rather than an aid to such regulation.

Headkeeper Blackburn holding two chicken or rat snakes and a corn snake donated to the local zoo yesterday by the Maryland Academy of Sciences of Baltimore through Dr. Howard A. Kelly, chairman of the advisory board of the academy, and Frank A. Woodfield, academy director. The donation included an indigo snake Dr. Kelly had as a house pet, a coach whip snake, about seven and a half feet long, which Dr. Kelly had caught personally in Florida several years ago; a corn snake, two chicken or rat snakes and a Cuban boa.

ONE WRIT AGAINST MEANS DISMISSED

Indictment of Whitaker on $100,000 Theft Also Is Dropped.

United States Attorney Leo A. Rover yesterday dismissed in the District Supreme Court an indictment charging Gaston B. Means and Norman T. Whitaker with conspiring to steal $100,000 from Mrs. Evalyn Walsh McLean.

The action was taken because of the conviction of Means and Whitaker on another indictment based upon much of the same transaction. The two were convicted of conspiring to steal $35,000 from Mrs. McLean, and both have been sentenced by Justice Daniel W. O'Donoghue to two years' imprisonment.

Means and Whitaker were accused of telling Mrs. McLean that if she would give them $35,000 in readily negotiable money, they would give her $49,000 in "hot" money that they claimed was in the hands of the kidnapers of the Lindbergh baby, in Chicago. Mrs. McLean, is was shown, was on the verge of entrusting the $35,000 to the men, but reconsidered after she had given valuable jewels to an employe to pawn to raise the money.

A sentence of 14 years is also held against Means, who was convicted of stealing $104,000 from Mrs MacLean money that he was supposed to use in effecting the return of the Lindbergh baby. He was given ten years for the theft of $100,000 and four years for the theft of $4,000.

Hairdressers Petition For Minimum Pay Rate

The Washington hairdressers and cosmetologists yesterday presented a petition to the President urging the adoption of a minimum wage scale for women employes in the District.

The petition, signed by several thousand workers, also went to Secretary of Labor Perkins, Senator King, chairman of the Senate District Committee; Senator Walsh, chairman of the Senate Labor Committee; Representative Norton, chairman of the House District Committee; Representative Connery, chairman of the House Labor Committee, and Commissioner Luther A. Reichelderfer.

FARLEY EMPHATIC ON D. C. SELECTIONS

Denies Other Than Residents Will Be Appointed to Commission.

Postmaster General James A. Farley yesterday assured the people of the District that only bona fide residents of the District would be selected by President Roosevelt for the two posts of civilian District Commissioners.

The Postmaster General's emphatic declaration came on the heels of criticism by Senator Arthur H. Vandenberg (Republican), of Michigan, that outsiders were reported under consideration for the Commissionerships.

"I'll match my word with Vandenberg any day," Mr. Farley said. "Anybody appointed to the District Commissionership must be a District resident. The senator knows that and he's just talking for the record."

The new commissioners are not expected to be named for several days. The President planned to withhold them until after adjournment partially to avoid adding to the press of last minute business before the Senate and partially because he did not want to risk having his selections not acted on before adjournment, thereby complicating a situation which he can meet easily by making recess appointments.

FIRST LADY GREETS 4-H CLUB MEMBERS HERE FOR SESSIONS

Annual Encampment Opens With 147 Attending From 38 States.

Coming to Washington as ambassadors of nearly 1,000,000 members of 4-H clubs throughout the country, 147 club members from 38 States yesterday opened here their annual encampment, which was later visited by the First Lady of the Land.

Accompanied by a group of newspaper women, Mrs. Roosevelt went to the camp shortly after noon. After facing a barrage of amateur cameras she received gifts from various clubs and addressed the club members, who will remain here until June 21.

In a country the size of this one, Mrs. Roosevelt told the 4-H club members, such meetings as the encampment are necessary. Only in this way, she said, can each section learn the problems facing other areas. Lauding agriculture as the basic industry because it produces food for the workers in all other industries, she told of seeing Arizona's 4-H clubs during her recent Western trip.

Wallace Opens Camp.

This is the time, she went on, when the country should think less of money than of enjoyment. She expressed certainty that the club members would enjoy the farm life which they had chosen. Mrs. Roosevelt also spoke of the President's interest in trees and forests and recalled a picnic which the Roosevelt family gave for the 4-H Club members in Dutchess County, New York, last fall.

Earlier in the day the camp had been formally opened by Secretary of Agriculture Wallace, with a promise that the "new deal means a new deal for farmers, too. He warned the members against a development of the competitive spirit in club work, and also pointed out that the farm relief act, like the first automobile, might be faulty at first but would work better later.

As Mrs. Roosevelt arrived at the camp she was met by George Farrell, camp director, and C. W. Warburton, director of extension work of the Department of Agriculture. After witnessing a short drill by club members, Mrs. Roosevelt received the gifts, which included a footstool made by a Michigan girl, a package of jellies made by the girls clubs of Hawaii, a Texas split oak basket containing a complete meal made and canned by a 4-H Club girl, and a Hawaiian handkerchief case filled with handkerchiefs from each section of the United States. The presentation speech was made by Maurine Sutton, a member from Oakland County, Mich.

Camp in New Location.

As Mrs. Roosevelt was leaving the camp, she asked if any members from Dutchess County, her home county in New York, were present. Miss Charlotte Marshall, a member from this county, was presented.

The camp this year has been moved from its previous location in the Mall directly in front of the Department of Agriculture Building. It is now in the Mall on Seventh street between Constitution avenue northwest and B street southwest. The club members are also being fed in a different manner, the meals being prepared in the Government cafeteria opposite their encampment. Formerly they were fed by contract with local restaurants.

In addition to the addresses by Mrs. Roosevelt and Secretary Wallace yesterday, the program included an inspection trip to the Agriculture Department's Experimental Farms at Beltsville, Md. Today they will be taken up the Washington Monument. Conferences and educational talks will be a feature of the program for each of the days they remain here.

Crosby Is Honored At Surprise Party

Maj. Gen. Herbert B. Crosby, District Commissioner, was the guest of honor at a surprise party in the board room of the District Building yesterday. The Police and Fire Departments, which have been under his jurisdiction for the last four years, were the hosts.

Gen. Crosby, who has been trying to let go of the commissionership since March 6, when he tendered his resignation to President Roosevelt, was given a silver service by the Police Department and a wrist-gold watch by the Fire Department. Presentations were made by Maj. Ernest W. Brown, police superintendent, and O. E. Farn, superintendent of machinery for the Fire Department.

The Commissioner
